THE DUO-ART

-the Master REPRODUCING PIANO

The only difference between the playing of the artist in person and the reproduction of his playing on the Duo-Art Piano, is that in the latter instrument you do not see the artist who is playing. But you feel his presence and his personality—you know that it is the artist himself who is playing, for you recognize his performance, his characteristics of tone, dynamics and interpretation.

Personality is a characteristic of human kind. It is nature's way of making one individual different from another. There is no machine that can acquire personality of itself—it must be instilled into it by the person himself. That is just what happens when an artist plays for the Duo-Art Piano.

The marvel of this remarkable instrument lies in the fact that it is capable of and does photograph not only the playing of the artist but also his personality, with unerring accuracy and completeness.

We want you to hear the Duo-Art Piano. We want every lover of music to come and hear this wonderful instrument, such artists as Godowsky, Busoni, Gabrilowitsch, Ganz, Saint-Saens, Grainger, Carreno, Scharwenka, Hambourg, Freidheim, Goodson, Freidberg or Copland and any one of fifty others. We want to see if you can tell whether the Duo-Art Piano is playing or whether the performance you hear is that of the pianist in person. Besides you can insert an ordinary player roll and enjoy your own interpretation or you can play the instrument by hand.

The Duo-Art is made only in the Steinway, Steck, Stroud and famous Weber models at $900 up to $2800 on very moderate terms.

SEVEN YEARS FOR O'CONNELL

San Francisco Attorney Scored by Judge.

Charged with Stabbing His Country in Back.

Seathing Arraignment for Alleged Pacifist.

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—(By A. P. Day Wire.) Daniel O'Connell, a San Francisco attorney, was sentenced to seven years in the McNeil Island penitentiary in the United States District Court here today for conspiring to obstruct the draft law.

The act for which O'Connell was convicted was very close to treason, said Judge Van Fleet in sentencing O'Connell. "Unquestionably the things you have done were directly intended to stab your country in the back," the judge said.

Judge Van Fleet asserted that men are entitled to the right of free speech if the exercise of that right does not obstruct the law of the country.

Others indicted and convicted with O'Connell, all of San Francisco, were sentenced as follows: E. Hoffman, three years; C. W. Wacker, eighteen months and a fine of $100; Thomas Carey, two years; Herbert D. and David J. McLaughlin, one year.

Other notices that will appear all of the sentences pronounced by Judge Van Fleet in his statement preceding the sentencing of O'Connell.

"That the American Patriotism of O'Connell was formed in his youth, and that he was a wholehearted supporter of the United States in the war," the judge said, "shows no effort was made to have a case made out of the things you proposed to have the matter decided."

COURT IS PLAIN SPOKEN.

"Your attitude toward the war," the judge said, "is a matter of public concern. It is a matter of public concern that you should be punished for your conduct. It is a matter of public concern that you should be punished for your conduct. It is a matter of public concern that you should be punished for your conduct."

THE BASIS.

The basis of the arraignment was the fact that O'Connell had been convicted of obstructing the draft law. The judge said that O'Connell had been convicted of obstructing the draft law. The judge said that O'Connell had been convicted of obstructing the draft law.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF TIMES, Sept. 29.—Russia has made aware that the continuation of American aid to her is contingent upon Russia's continuance of fighting the war. There is a possibility here regarding the Russian situation. There is a possibility here regarding the Russian situation.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

O'Connell interrupted Judge Van Fleet to say the office of the American Patriotism was closed immediately after the jury convicted him. He suggested this had the effect of a judge spoke of as deterring others from his course.

"The facts of this case have been made known to the whole world," resumed Judge Van Fleet. "I am gratified to say that this action was taken. I am gratified to say that this action was taken. I am gratified to say that this action was taken."

Previous to passing of sentence, the judge said, O'Connell had been convicted of a felony, and that he was a wholehearted supporter of the United States in the war.

OPPOSE THE CLOSING OF VALLEJO SALOON.

VALLEJO, Sept. 29.—(By A. P. Day Wire.) A group of 25 to 30 men, who were in the Vallejo saloon, today opposed a proposition to request a Presidential order closing all the saloons here, following the announcement of Congress that the enlistment men in the United States would not be allowed to enter until the bars were eliminated.

NORWEGIAN BOAT IS REPORTED SUNK.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(By A. P. Day Wire.) A Norwegian foreign office representative today reported that a Norwegian sailing vessel, the "Sulven," 465 gross tons, was reported to have been sunk in the Atlantic Ocean, near the coast of Norway, on September 28, 1917.

According to the report, the "Sulven" was carrying a cargo of lumber and other goods. The vessel was reported to have been sunk by a submarine.

WEATHER ELSEWHERE.

Eastern and Central States Slightly Warmer—Colder in Canada. Much Rain in South.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) CHICAGO BUREAU OF THIS TIMES, Sept. 29.—Eastern and Central States were slightly warmer today, but there was no appreciable change in the West Central group. Canadian stations were all colder and many of them were not heard from this evening. Despite severe storms, the South continued hot. More than five inches of rain fell at Montgomery, Ala., doing considerable damage. The maximum temperature in Chicago was 70 deg. and minimum 52 deg. High winds reaching a velocity of twenty-four miles an hour, prevailed around the lakes.

WE'RE A PHANTOM, SAYS VON TIRPITZ.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) COPENHAGEN, Sept. 29.—In an interview in the Neues Vater Journal, Admiral Von Tirpitz, former German Minister of Marine, characterized America's military help in the war as a phantom. He asserts there is no possibility of transporting a considerable American army to Europe.

The admiral gives his Hungarian readers a long list of reasons why they should and must hold out with Germany and Austria until the submarines have won the war for them, but declares it is unwise, "on account of political reasons," to prophesy the moment of England's collapse.

SOCIALISTS PROTESTING.

The majority Socialists in the German Reichstag have interpellated the government concerning official support of the Pan-German agitation and the fatherland party. The Socialists also made an interpellation on reported government interference with the right of assembly.

The interpellation says army officers are conducting a vigorous Pan-German campaign in the press decisions of the Reichstag. It is also said that this campaign has been carried into the schools. The Socialists also made an interpellation on reported government interference with the right of assembly.

HABIT RENOUNCED BELGIUM.

Germany has not renounced Belgium and has not been in communication with any of her enemies, according to Berlin reports. A speech made before the Reichstag Main Committee by Chancellor Michaelis. The Chancellor is quoted as follows:

"A Liberal deputy correctly stated that the attitude of the imperial government as regards its war aims was clearly explained in my answer to the Papal note. The peace resolution of July 19 was expressly mentioned in this reply and further foundation thereof is unnecessary. Moreover, I declare the statement that the Imperial government had already communicated with this or that hostile government and that it had in advance renounced occupied territories, thus abandoning the most valuable advantages in peace negotiations is untrue. I declare the Imperial government has free hands for eventual peace negotiations. This also refers to Belgium."

BAVARIAN PROTESTS WILSON'S "INSULTS."

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.) AMSTERDAM, Sept. 29.—Protests against the "insults and calumnies" in President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace note were voiced by Count von Hertling, the Bavarian Premier, in a speech to the Diet, according to Munich dispatches. After a survey of the military and political situation, the Premier took up the subject of the Papal peace note and the replies made to it by the Central Powers, as well as the unreciprocated attitude of Germany's enemies.

"In all circumstances," said the Premier, "we decline interference by our enemies in our internal political arrangements. We desire ourselves to regulate our relations in the unreciprocated attitude of Germany's enemies."

Count von Hertling, before closing his address, announced that the Bavarian government was engaged in drawing up a bill which would result in giving trade and industrial interests stronger representation in the Reichstag.

COAL OPERATORS AND MINERS CAN'T AGREE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—A wide division developed today between coal operators and miners of the central competitive field over a proposed readjustment of wage scales. The miners demanded an immediate tentative increase awaiting the fuel administration's decision as to an upward revision of coal prices, but the operators refused and proposed a ten days' suspension of negotiations. The conference adjourned until Monday.

Dr. H. A. Gardfield, the fuel administrator, will take up the proposed coal-price revisions next week.

Wife to Blame if Husband Drinks Says Druggist Brown, of Cleveland Who Tells Wife What to Do

A New Treatment Given Without the Consent or Knowledge of the Drinker.

Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to blame her husband for drinking, says Druggist Brown of Cleveland. It is his fault if he lets him drink and bring calamities and poverty to her home and she has no right to complain. A woman can stop a drinking husband in a few weeks for half what he would spend on liquor, so why waste sympathy on a wife who refuses to do it. Druggist Brown says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning unless you want drink to deaden the fine sensibilities of the husband you love. Begin with the first drop of liquor on his breath, but do not despair if he has gone from bad to worse until he is run-ranched, through and through. Druggist Brown knows the signs of a drinking husband. He himself has been a victim. He was rescued from the brink of a drunkard's grave by a young sister, who after ten years' time, revealed the secret to him. This saved him from drink—rescued him from his own desperate self by giving him a secret remedy, the name of which is "Druggist Brown's." He has made this formula public. Any drunkard can put it in the hands of any suffering wife, mother, sister or daughter. Just ask the druggist for prepared Tacton powder and drop a powder twice a day in

EXPORTS OF HOGS AND SHEEP DECREASE.

(BY A. P. DAY WEEK.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Receipts of cattle at the principal stock yards of the country for the first eight months of 1917 show a substantial increase, but there was a decided falling off in the movement of hogs and sheep.

The Department of Agriculture announced today that cattle receipts amounted to 1,679,887 head compared with 1,511,618 in the same period of 1916, while receipts of hogs were 2,552,927 as against 2,448,981, and sheep 7,980,539 against 8,525,536.

Receipts of cattle in August were less than half of those in August, 1916, the figures being 1,717,825 this year and 2,592,537 last year. Equivalent figures for sheep were 1,451,176 and 1,864,818. Cattle receipts increased over 200,000 head, the figures being 1,705,812 and 1,527,069.

Receipts of sheep were 7,980,539 and 8,525,536.

The Senate increase of from 2 to 4 per cent. of the income tax on corporations, joint stock companies and insurance companies was approved, together with the new normal individual tax of 2 per cent. on incomes of unmarried persons in excess of $100 and of married persons of more than $200.

The graduated excess profits rates are 20 per cent. of the excess profits not in excess of 15 per cent. of the invested capital for the taxable year; 25 per cent. on profits in excess of 15 per cent. of the invested capital; 35 per cent. on excess over 20 and under 25 per cent. of capital; 45 per cent. on excess over 25 and under 35 per cent. of capital; and a maximum of 60 per cent. on excess over 35 per cent. of capital.

In calculating war excess profits the term "invested capital of corporations and partnerships" was declared to include "actual cash paid in, actual cash value of other tangible property paid for stock or shares, at the time of payment or January 1, 1914, but in no case to exceed the par value of the original securities; paid in or earned surplus and undivided profits used or employed in the business, exclusive of undivided profits earned during the taxable year."

The allowances for intangible assets include "actual cash value of patents and copyrights paid for at the time of payment of payment of such assets, good will, trademarks, trade names, franchises, and other intangible assets, the value of which shall be included at a value not exceeding a fair cash value at the time of purchase."

In lieu of the House zone tax on second-class publications the conference included a new zone rate for reading matter and advertising matter with special, but increased rates for religious, agricultural and other publications.

A flat increase on reading matter of a quarter of a cent per pound, until July 1, 1919, and one-half cent thereafter, was provided. Advertising matter exceeding 5 per cent. of the total space would be taxed from a quarter to 2 1/2 cents additional until July 1, 1919, and from one-half cent to 4 1/2 cents more until

July 1, 1920, and from three-fourths cent to 5 1/2 cents to 1921 and from 1 cent to 5 cents thereafter.

An additional tax of one-eighth cent per pound until July 1, 1919, and one-fourth cent thereafter on religious, agricultural, fraternal and similar publications was adopted.

The 1-cent tax on letters, excepting drop letters and postal cards, was restored by the conferees. It is estimated to raise about $70,000,000 and is effective thirty days after the passage of the act. The Senate provision exempting from postage letters written by soldiers and sailors abroad was retained.

The conferees levied 8 per cent. in lieu of the Senate rate of 5 and the House rate of 10 per cent. on passenger transportation, estimated to raise from the compromise levy about $60,000,000 instead of $37,000,000 under the Senate plan. The 3 per cent. tax on freight transportation was retained and the tax on express transportation was increased so that 1 cent would be levied on each 25 cents paid, instead of each 25 cents. The House 10 per cent. tax on Pullman accommodations, cut to 5 per cent. by the Senate, was restored, and is estimated to raise $15,000,000.

In lieu of the House tax on sales of automobiles by manufacturers and the Senate Federal license tax on owners, the conferees adopted a 3 per cent. tax on all motor vehicles, including trucks, payable by manufacturers, producers and importers.

Taxes of 3 per cent. on manufacturers' sales of musical instruments and jewelry also were written into the bill, but those on musical instruments were increased from 4 cents to 6 cents a pound.

On sporting goods, the revised Stamp tax agreed upon were: Bonds of indebtedness, 5 cents on each $100; indemnity and surety bonds, 50 cents; on parcel post packages, 1 cent for each 25 cents of the cost of transportation; capital stock, original issues, 5 cents per $100; sales of produce on exchange, 2 cents for each $100 value in merchandise; drafts, checks payable other than on sight or demand; promissory notes, except bank notes for circulation and renewals, 2 cents for each $100; stamps on documents for each additional $500; customs house entries, from 25 cents to $1; entry for withdrawal from bonded warehouses, 20 cents; passenger vessel tickets for ports other than in the United States, Canada and Mexico, 10 cents; and tickets for travel between $10 and $20, 5 cents; between $20 and $50, 10 cents; and above $50, 15 cents; voting proxies, 10 cents; power of attorney, 25 cents; playing cards, 10 cents; and other than fifty-four cards, an additional 5 cents on the present rates.

House and Senate provisions for a tax of 5 cents each on telegraph, telephone and radio messages costing 15 cents or more and designed to raise $7,000,000, were retained, but the House tax on gas, electric and telephone service was eliminated.

Taxes on life insurance, eliminated from the House bill in the Senate, were amended and reintroduced. November 1, the new tax on life insurance policies issued after 8 cents per $100 or fraction thereof on life insurance and 1 cent per $100 or fraction thereof on marine, casualty, fire and inland insurances.

Amusement taxes agreed upon provide that 10 cents on each place of amusement free, except employees and officials on duty and children under 12, would pay a tax rate of 1 cent on each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the administration charge. This tax also would apply to cabarets and similar performances where the cost of entertainment is included in all costs such as service. Holders of annual baseball seats would pay 10 per cent. of the annual rental. Nickel theaters and shows, rides and other outdoor amusements, with a maximum admission of 10 cents, and benefit entertainments and agricultural fairs were exempted.

After November 1, 1917, members of all clubs except certain fraternal orders paying more than $12 annual dues would be subject to a 10 per cent. tax.

On excess profits the conferees agreed upon a minimum deduction of 1 per cent. and a maximum of 10 per cent. instead of the six to 10 per cent. fixed by the Senate. Other exemptions are $3000 for corporations, and $6000 for individuals. Corporations, partnerships and individuals having no capital stock would pay a flat rate of 8 per cent. on net profits in excess of $1000.

Miscellaneous income tax amendments inserted by the Senate were generally adopted, including the so-called Jones amendment, which would provide for a maximum of 10 per cent. on corporations' undistributed surplus, without allowance for income taxes, with a maximum 10 per cent. tax would not apply to undistributed income actually invested or employed in business or invested in Federal securities.

In making provision for administration and collection of the new and existing taxes the conferees provided that the special tax of 10 per cent. on war munitions manufactures shall be reduced to 10 per cent., but retained to January 1, 1918. It is estimated that about $20,000,000 annually and the Senate had proposed its repeal.

WAR TAX BILL AGREED UPON.

House and Senate Conferees to Report Tomorrow.

Levies on Excess Profits to Remain Unchanged.

Act will go to President for His Signature.

(BY A. P. DAY WEEK.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Final agreement on the $2,700,000,000 war tax bill was reached today by the Senate and House conferees and the report will be presented to the House Monday. Levies of approximately $1,900,000,000 on war excess profits and $842,000,000 on incomes were left unchanged, but the graduated tax rates on excess profits were adopted.

The conference report provides that the graduated tax rate of from 20 to 60 per cent. on excess profits of corporations, partnerships and individuals shall be levied on a basis of invested capital compared with the invested capital of the three previous years of 1911, 1912 and 1913. This is a substitute for the Senate tax of 15 per cent. on excess profits based upon a similar comparison of pre-war and present profits.

The income tax section was agreed on except for rearrangement of surtaxes on incomes between $15,000 and $40,000. The graduated surtaxes of from 1 to 50 per cent. on incomes from $5000 to those of $10,000 and over were approved.

The Senate increase of from 2 to 4 per cent. of the income tax on corporations, joint stock companies and insurance companies was approved, together with the new normal individual tax of 2 per cent. on incomes of unmarried persons in excess of $100 and of married persons of more than $200.

The graduated excess profits rates are 20 per cent. of the excess profits not in excess of 15 per cent. of the invested capital for the taxable year; 25 per cent. on profits in excess of 15 per cent. of the invested capital; 35 per cent. on excess over 20 and under 25 per cent. of capital; 45 per cent. on excess over 25 and under 35 per cent. of capital; and a maximum of 60 per cent. on excess over 35 per cent. of capital.

In calculating war excess profits the term "invested capital of corporations and partnerships" was declared to include "actual cash paid in, actual cash value of other tangible property paid for stock or shares, at the time of payment or January 1, 1914, but in no case to exceed the par value of the original securities; paid in or earned surplus and undivided profits used or employed in the business, exclusive of undivided profits earned during the taxable year."

The allowances for intangible assets include "actual cash value of patents and copyrights paid for at the time of payment of payment of such assets, good will, trademarks, trade names, franchises, and other intangible assets, the value of which shall be included at a value not exceeding a fair cash value at the time of purchase."

In lieu of the House zone tax on second-class publications the conference included a new zone rate for reading matter and advertising matter with special, but increased rates for religious, agricultural and other publications.

A flat increase on reading matter of a quarter of a cent per pound, until July 1, 1919, and one-half cent thereafter, was provided. Advertising matter exceeding 5 per cent. of the total space would be taxed from a quarter to 2 1/2 cents additional until July 1, 1919, and from one-half cent to 4 1/2 cents more until

July 1, 1920, and from three-fourths cent to 5 1/2 cents to 1921 and from 1 cent to 5 cents thereafter.

An additional tax of one-eighth cent per pound until July 1, 1919, and one-fourth cent thereafter on religious, agricultural, fraternal and similar publications was adopted.

The 1-cent tax on letters, excepting drop letters and postal cards, was restored by the conferees. It is estimated to raise about $70,000,000 and is effective thirty days after the passage of the act. The Senate provision exempting from postage letters written by soldiers and sailors abroad was retained.

The conferees levied 8 per cent. in lieu of the Senate rate of 5 and the House rate of 10 per cent. on passenger transportation, estimated to raise from the compromise levy about $60,000,000 instead of $37,000,000 under the Senate plan. The 3 per cent. tax on freight transportation was retained and the tax on express transportation was increased so that 1 cent would be levied on each 25 cents paid, instead of each 25 cents. The House 10 per cent. tax on Pullman accommodations, cut to 5 per cent. by the Senate, was restored, and is estimated to raise $15,000,000.

In lieu of the House tax on sales of automobiles by manufacturers and the Senate Federal license tax on owners, the conferees adopted a 3 per cent. tax on all motor vehicles, including trucks, payable by manufacturers, producers and importers.

Taxes of 3 per cent. on manufacturers' sales of musical instruments and jewelry also were written into the bill, but those on musical instruments were increased from 4 cents to 6 cents a pound.

House and Senate provisions for a tax of 5 cents each on telegraph, telephone and radio messages costing 15 cents or more and designed to raise $7,000,000, were retained, but the House tax on gas, electric and telephone service was eliminated.

Taxes on life insurance, eliminated from the House bill in the Senate, were amended and reintroduced. November 1, the new tax on life insurance policies issued after 8 cents per $100 or fraction thereof on life insurance and 1 cent per $100 or fraction thereof on marine, casualty, fire and inland insurances.

Increased Senate rates on whiskey and beer were virtually retained and that on wines somewhat reduced. The tax on distilled spirits was made $2.10 per gallon when for beverage use, and $1.10 for industrial purposes, estimated to raise $135,000,000. The amendment prohibiting importation of distilled spirits from foreign countries was retained. Floor taxes to reach withdrawn liquors were approved. Beer was taxed $1.50 per barrel and $2.00 per barrel of malted barley, an increase of 25 cents per barrel over the House rate.

Present wine taxes were doubled. Taxes on nonalcoholic beverages were compromised. On prepared syrups and extracts the taxes graduated from 5 to 10 cents instead of 3 to 12 cents a gallon were adopted. Grape juice and other soft drinks per case on eight or demand; 3 to 12 cents a gallon were adopted. Announcement—And a Record-Breaking

High-Class Tailoring Sale

—OF—

HORN & ZIGMAN

First Sale in TWELVE Years—

Gentlemen—No need of going into details relative to the unquestioned reputation for integrity and reliability of this well-known, long-established, high-class tailoring institution, an institution that enjoys a reputation for integrity and reliability that stands second to no commercial institution in the country, and which has always been unanimously conceded by all well-known, reliable merchants throughout Los Angeles—to begin with, we are catering to men of intelligence only, men who realize that personal appearance is imperatively essential in the struggle for success in which your clothes is the recognized leading factor, we are fully cognizant of the indisputable fact that one is judged in this age of keen commercialism by his outward and gentlemanly appearance, as the character and caliber of the man is usually judged by his social and commercial associates.

Gentlemen—In an effort to stimulate business, owing to these days of unusual business depression, and at the same time making it an advertising proposition, thereby killing two birds with one stone as the old familiar saying goes, we have concluded on placing this entire and most magnificent selection of foreign and American fabrics throughout the entire Pacific Coast on sale and at the disposal of our hundreds of staunch, permanent friends, and the public in general at a tremendous sacrifice and at a price that will be a startling revelation in the annals of high-class tailoring in the city of Los Angeles. The magnitude of an offer of this kind is startling to an extreme. This grade of fabrics is carried by the most exclusive, and highest class tailors only, and is sold regularly and made up for not less than, and from $45 to $80. Absolutely every yard of these fabrics is positively guaranteed to be pure wool throughout.

As previously stated, in order to stimulate business and for advertising purposes, we positively guarantee every gentleman availing himself of this offer one of the handsomest, most up-to-date and strictly high class hand-tailored custom-made suit or overcoat, made to your own individual measure, for $32.50 that we absolutely guarantee will be the exact equivalent in STYLE, QUALITY AND WORKMANSHIP to an actual $45 and $50 suit or overcoat bought anywhere throughout the country, as this grade of fabrics is sold and made up by all exclusive tailors for not less than the above quoted selling figures, same identical high grade workmanship, linings and trimmings will be installed as though you had paid the regular selling price of $45 and $50 without there being the slightest deviation from our usual high grade standard of tailoring. Your garments will be lined with French Venetian silk, pure wool serge or alpaca lining as you prefer, and trimmed with genuine French hair cloth and imported Belgian canvas, which insures an absolute unbreakable front. No suit or overcoat upon completion will be delivered to customer until thoroughly inspected by the members of this firm personally. Every garment will be made in our own shop and under our own personal supervision. Every garment will be richly and superbly tailored by expert tailors of the highest standard. More than five hundred different styles to select from, the most splendid array of foreign and American fabrics on the entire Pacific Coast. Dozens of these patterns are absolute novelties in woollens and entirely exclusive and cannot be duplicated as they are unobtainable in any tailoring institution west of Chicago, as they comprise a late shipment direct from the East and are the latest creations in weaves, colors and designs for the coming season. These fabrics will instantly appeal to men of refinement, culture and good breeding. They must actually be seen and examined to be thoroughly appreciated.

This Sale Will Start Tomorrow (Monday) and Will Continue in Force for Ten Days Only.

Satisfaction or reimbursement is our absolute guarantee.

Doors Open Tomorrow 8 a.m. Sharp

You can be your own salesman, come and take your pick; nothing held in reserve. Remember the name of

Sartorial Parlor 440 S. Spring St.

Open Saturday Evening until 10 p.m.

To the Intelligent Public:

Our reason for setting the fixed price of $32.50 for every $45 and $50 suit or overcoat in the house during this first sale of ours, is that we have devoted years to the scientific study of high class tailoring which enables us to be fully cognizant of the extreme possibilities and that which is utterly impossible to do in this particular line of business without resorting to drastic measures, which measures, if resorted to, would eventually mean commercial suicide. These measures are inferior tailoring which does not conform to our conception of tailoring nor to the tastes and conceptions of the intelligent element we have always catered to, or, in other words, men who know what they want, who usually purchase what they want regardless of the purchase price, and who are more than willing to pay for what they get as long as the merchandise in question is standard, and who are not continually seeking something for nothing, and who have the utmost confidence in the honesty, integrity and reliability of a merchant with those proven qualifications, and who are possessed of sufficient and typical natural American intelligence that enables them to realize that the acquiring of something for nothing, outside of a charitable donation, is utterly out of the question, and particularly so in the commercial world, and who also realize that the cheapest is always by far the most expensive in the end.

This magnificent high grade line of fabrics positively prohibits our even entertaining the idea of cutting our price any further on these high grade fabrics. A further reduction coupled with the practical elimination of our margin during this special event would mean the entailing of an actual loss, which we do not care to sustain, and which is only natural. The present state of the woolen market absolutely forbids a further reduction on this class of material. The intelligent public and business men in particular can instantly grasp the meaning and force of our argument.

Were we to cut our price any further an inferior grade of tailoring would have to be resorted to in order to prevent an actual loss; but we will never under any circumstances tolerate inferior tailoring for an instant, as inferior tailoring is extremely repulsive and is abhorred by both the intelligent public and ourselves. We have a standard grade of tailoring that we have always and strictly adhered to during the twelve years of our commercial career in Los Angeles, and from which we will never deviate. We do not intend to begin to foist an inferior grade of woollens on our friends and the public in general, neither are we going to resort to an inferior grade of tailoring in order to cope with competitors and to meet competition. We know what our friends and the intelligent public of Los Angeles expect when they place their order with us and we are going to take particular pains to see that they are not disappointed in us. We are going to continue to give our friends and those of the intelligent public who will deem us worthy of their consideration, the best that there is in us, as we have always done, or we will positively accept no remuneration whatsoever.

We are not the least adverse to those who are rather apt to feel inclined to doubt that statement, to placing their order elsewhere. The patronage of those seeking a cheaper grade of clothing, which naturally involves repulsive, inferior tailoring, is not solicited. The class of men we are catering to are men who are fair and broadminded, and who can be reasoned with—that's the element we have always considered it a pleasure and an honor conferred in doing business with.

Being fully cognizant of the splendid high standard of the vast majority of Los Angeles men and women which this community is blessed with and can be duly thankful for, we are hardly in need of our even intimating that the patronage of those who are the opposite to the intelligent element we are catering to, and who are far in the minority in Los Angeles, is positively not solicited.

The high grade line of woollens we have always carried will never be substituted for an inferior grade, and the standard of tailoring that expert tailors of the highest standing are capable of producing, will always be the predominating feature in this high class tailoring institution.

Get a 10 Cent Box of "Cascarets" for Your Liver and Bowels

Tonight sure. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleaning you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel, salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give Cascarets, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascarets any time. They are harmless and children love them.

The Storks Arrival

OCTOBER QUOTA
IN TWO WEEKS
Exemption Boards are Behind Government Schedule.
Some Have not Obtained Full Number Required.

Although the War Department has thorities decreed that every exemption board in the country should begin October 1 to examine the remainder of drafted men sent to the training camps, the list of the total quota for the future calls, a number of local exemption boards will not be able to take up this work, according to officials of a local exemption board.
He stated that the time of several of the boards would be taken up by the last contingent of the quota which is scheduled to leave the American Lake about the middle of October.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONMENT

Police Inspection Date.

Saturday, October 27 has been set aside as the date for the annual inspection of the police department personnel, which will be held at Exposition Park. The number of men in the department this year is 724 as against 422 last year.

Anglo-Saxon League.

The Anglo-Saxon League will hold meetings Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings at No. 1141 South Figueroa street. The meetings will be open to the public and are for the purpose of advancing the interest of correct English.

Michigan Society.

The Michigan State Society will meet next Thursday night in Assembly Hall, Times Building. Mrs. Elizabeth Worthen will talk on "Callithene Whistling." There will be a whistling solo by Helen Riddle and piano selections by Miss Betty McClure.

British Club to Entertain.

The British Over Sea Club will give a social dance and general good time in Fraternal Brotherhood Building, 845 South Figueroa street next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The club's newly elected president, Mr. James Fennell, will preside. An interesting program will be rendered. Canadians and Australians are especially invited.

Laymen to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Laymen's Association of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, Ninth street and Locust avenue, Los Angeles, next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. At the same time the Ministerial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be in session.

Feast of Tabernacles.

The Feast of Tabernacles will be observed today and tomorrow in the Jewish calendar. This evening at 8 o'clock in Temple Beth El, Ninth and Hope streets, Dr. Sigmond Hecht will lecture on "The Harvest." At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning Rabbi Edgar F. Magorin will speak on "The Joy of Living."

A beautiful "Succah" or harvest booth will be built on the altar.

Butcher's Meeting.

A call has been issued for a mass meeting of the newly-organized local, No. 365, of the Butchers and Meatcutters' Union at the Labor Temple tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The butchers want to establish a uniform closing hour, but, according to Secretary J. D. Thompson, they do not have a walkout in mind if they do not get what they want.

War Mission Sails October 15.

According to advice received by D. F. Robertson, local agent for the Tokyo Kisen Kaisha, Viscount Ishii and the Japanese war mission, who during the past two months have been in Washington, D. C., will sail from San Francisco on the Japanese liner, the Shinyo Maru, 22,000 tons, October 15. It is expected the party will stop over in Los Angeles en route to San Francisco.

Wynantette Club to Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wynantette Club of California will be held in the Times Assembly Rooms, second floor Times Building, First and Broadway, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday, October 2, at 8 o'clock in the evening. An address by Mr. Arthur Wynantette on the care and feeding of expositions and breeding stock will be one of the features of the evening. A large attendance is desired; members and friends are invited.

Sons of St. George Picnic.

The sons of St. George will enjoy a basket picnic at Eagle Rock Park today. Lunch will be served at noon and a special program of sports will be carried out after the refreshments. An address of welcome will be delivered by Past Grand President W. J. Ames and a speech will be delivered by Past Grand President W. D. Polkinghorne. Brother J. D. Greene will talk on the organization and its contributions to the war.

W.C.T.U. Branch to Meet.

The Lucy Hayes ladies' branch of the W.C.T.U. will hold a patriotic luncheon in the First United Presbyterian Church, Ninth and Figueroa streets, Wednesday, October 3, at 12:30 o'clock in the forenoon. The luncheon will be served at noon. The program will be in charge of the county officers. A demonstration in making coffee bags and handbags will be given. Come and bring a question for the question box.

Arts Temple Opens Monday.

The California Temple of Arts will start Monday morning. The management has been kept busy during the week checking the several hundred applications for the various departments. The temple is a unique institution of its kind on the Pacific Coast. The conservatory includes all branches of art, also language, fencing, etc. Free instructions are given once each week. F. Constantino, the famous tenor, recently refused an engagement in the City of Mexico that he might attend the opening of the temple.

Flag Presentation.

Mat. A. J. Jackson and Judge C. H. Longden of the California Loyalty League were the principal speakers last night when the Bridge-street school presented to the Community Center a United States flag as a tribute to the thirty enlisted and selected men in that district. Loyalty to the flag was the theme of the speakers who paid a tribute to the "Sammy" who go to the battlefield from that district. The recently-organized community chorus sang a number of patriotic anthems. A large crowd was present.

Bids to be Received.

Those wishing to bid on government supplies mentioned below can obtain information by applying to the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, room 235, Wilcox Building.

Grease cups, lubricating oil, transmission oil, rods, adjusting screws, connecting rod bearings, carburetor, auto nonkild castings, motorcycle castings, drag links, drive chains, radiator hose, motorcycle inner tubes, jack shafts and brake, hand pumps, water pumps, rear shafts and sprockets.

These supplies are for delivery at the government warehouse in Los Angeles and bids are to be opened October 1, 1917.

YOUTH RECAPTURED.

After two trips to Taft to bring back Merl L. Meyer, 20 years old, who is charged in this city with stealing an automobile, Detective Hickok, Powell and Ervin yesterday returned with the prisoner. On the former occasion, when the detective arrived at the residence of Meyer, he found the boy had been captured. The detectives returned to Los Angeles and were notified a few hours later that the boy had been recaptured. A grand-larceny complaint will be issued against him.

Baltimore "Emberler" Isn't

Wanted by Trust Company There.

R. N. Pierson, who "confessed" to the police, Friday night, that he had embezzled $2550 from the Colonial Trust Company of Baltimore and expressed his willingness to return to face trial, appears to have been spoofing 'em with the idea of getting a free ride home.

Advice from the Maryland city, last night, declared that the trust company is not looking for Pierson and has not lost any money.

NEW WIRELESS PLANT

AT PEARL HARBOR.

[BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The new naval wireless station at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, the most powerful in the world, was opened today with a new world's record for long-distance transmission.

Messages exchanged between Secretary Daniels and the naval commandant at Pearl Harbor were transmitted between Hawaii and Saville, L. I., approximately 5000 miles, within thirty-three minutes.

The Pearl Harbor station is one of a great high-power chain that virtually will encircle the globe and keep American ships everywhere in constant communication with the Navy Department at Washington.

BUSINESS BREVITIES.

H. J. Jevne Co. carry the Key to Beauty (witch-hazel toilet preparations). The cleaning cream will keep your skin clean, "really clean," and is most pleasant to use before powdering. The astringent tonic acts as a tonic and closes the pores. The bleaching cream removes tan, freckles and moth patches. These goods are guaranteed to give satisfaction. Los Angeles
Advertising Score

The record of the advertising achievements of all the daily and Sunday newspapers in Los Angeles is printed every day by The Times in order that men and women who depend upon newspaper advertising for the success of their business ventures may know the extent to which successful business builders patronize various local newspapers.

The Times high-class, home-delivered, productive circulation, a sworn statement of which is printed in another column, regularly enables this newspaper to print more classified and display advertising, and a greater number of separate advertising announcements, than any other Los Angeles newspaper.

For the week ending Saturday, September 29, the Los Angeles newspapers published the following number of lines of advertising (300 agate lines make one column.)

LIFE OF A SAMMY JUST ONE INOCULATION AFTER ANOTHER

BY EMILY SQUIER.

OH, SEE the walking graveyard! It is a gruesome sight, is it not? Yes, it is. Do not be alarmed, gentle reader; this story does not deal with ghoul, ghosts or strays. The burial ground alluded to is that of several billions of those hyper-microscopic animals commonly termed "bugs" by the enlisted men and which are injected into the arms to keep out every disease, from typhoid to the plip.

If you doubt that the good left arm of any soldier has become the last resting place of a colony of 500,000,000 "typhoid bugs" note the funeral expression of the man who has yielded up one of his baseball bats for the last and rites. If he has just come from the internment he will probably be slightly pale around the gills and they even bring him into your sympathetic presence on a stretcher; the last may be more often expected when the volunteer undertaker comes from any of the

on their hands demanding treatment and sympathy; but since the only feminine observers of their pain are itinerant lady friends with a sprinkling of mothers, sisters and admiring acquaintances, the boys have to take out their longing for consolation in a wince and in saying, with tragic fortitude: "Pardon me, too tightly held or pressed; unless it's just a plain wife or sister who offends, and in that case the wounded warrior growls out: "For heaven's sake, keep off that arm, can't you?"

All the inoculations and things are over now, they tell me, except the one given for lockjaw, and which will come later when the troops are near any country where the disease is prevalent. Many horrible tales are told around camp about that lockjaw shot; according to some authorities it is injected into the spine and the victim is laid up for a week; others maintain that it causes a swelling of the feet, while still others tell of horrible blotches that appear on the face and shoulders. It's like the story of the man who had never seen a unicorn, but had talked with a fellow who had a friend whose brother had once heard of a unicorn, the boys have had the dreaded shot yet, and as one soldier remarked, "It's best to think the worst we'll be happily disappointed." Anyway, the boys have the satisfaction of knowing that they have something coming besides bullets and bay day.

Lack something.

WAR SONGS NOT GREAT SUCCESS.

MUSIC PUBLISHER SAYS NONE HAVE GOTTEN ACROSS.

England and Canada Demand Music and Patriotic Songs with Heart Throbs are Kind that Please Countries that Mourning Heroes.

Sam Fox of Cleveland, a well-known publisher, is in Los Angeles, a guest of the Alexandria Hotel, and he tells why none of the war songs, up to this date, has "gotten across."

"It's all because there are too many of them," said Mr. Fox. "I find that the East and the Middle West, however, are more keyed up than the Pacific Coast, and they are specializing on some of the war songs; but the great war song, in the sense of the success of 'A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight,' has not come out yet. It is on the way, perhaps, and we may hear of it soon."

"We are selling lots of music in England and Canada just now," said Mr. Fox. "Patriotic songs, meditation songs, heart throbs, are the numbers that are taking splendidly with the British and the Canadians. England and Canada are in mourning for their heroes, dead and wounded, and music that interprets their emotions is the kind that is accepted in the Dominion and the United Kingdom."

Mr. Fox is on his annual tour of the United States and will go from Los Angeles to Vancouver and thence to Winnipeg and New York and back to Cleveland.

"You never can tell," he says, "what is going to catch on in the musical line. For instance, we were trying to make a big drive on a certain number and had our plans all laid; in the meantime, I had a composer dress up some patriotic music, a sort of a medley, with two or three original strains in it, I put it out as a flyer and now all the bands are playing it."

Mr. Fox says that for the organization of composers to insist on a royalty on their wares, as granted by a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States, is a child of conditions in New York. There, he said, the cabaret musicians would take a Victor Herbert opera, for instance, and put on the best parts of it in cabarets in such a grand style as actually to damage the opera itself. The people heard all they thought they needed to hear of it in the cabarets and forgot to go to the opera.

"The music business," said Mr. Fox, "is in a flourishing condition. I believe all the publishers are doing as well and better now than before the war."

TANNED, TOUGH-MUSCLED MARINES ARE TRAINING.

BY EDWARD C. CROSSMAN.

OUT of the forest of red tape, into which all Los Angeles soldier and sailor men disappear for a time when they leave the city, there has emerged once more the company of marines that was enlisted in the National Guard under the law providing for marine militia, and that left the city some months ago under the command of Lieut. East.

Tanned and tough-muscled, with their clothes fitting them in the way uniforms fit men who have been used to wearing them, the Los Angeles sea soldiers are camped with other marines on the beautiful point of land that runs into the deep ravine at the San Diego exposition site, below the outdoor organ. There on "Inspiration Point," there rise neat rows of brown tents among the eucalyptus trees, five companies or more of them, and there, on the most beautiful parade ground in the world, there work the "leather-necks" in the intensive training of the sea-soldier.

Drilling, the marines gaze over the tree-filled gulch and the lovely town beyond, to the blue waters of the bay and the ships lying at anchor.

IN CONTRAST TO FIGHTING.

In the other direction there rise the fairland buildings of the exposition, now inhabited entirely by the embryo sailors of the naval training school. The music of the out-of-town drums floats across the water. The only way from the point lies across the cool, tree-shaded square, where the pigeons used to flock and flutter for the edification of the exposition visitors. A greater contrast to the fighting line on the west front would be harder to imagine.

Liquor Patrol.

FIRST PROVOST GUARD'S ESTABLISHED AT HARBOR.

THE first provost guard in Southern California has just been established by the naval authorities in the harbor district. Hereafter the business district at the port will be patrolled by men from the training station of the Naval Coast Defense Reserve, and also from the submarine base.

This was decided upon because of the number of men who have been getting liquor in spite of the vigilance of the local police department. With eight saloons, two wholesale houses and several cafes with liquor permits the police found it impossible to stop the men in uniform getting liquor although there were no direct sales.

While there were a number of bootleggers in the harbor, it is believed that the part of friends and relatives of the men who got them booze merely as a matter of accommodation. Even grocers in some instances are known to have yielded to the requests of customers to get liquor for men in the service and made deliveries of liquor purchased at wholesale along with the groceries.

With the establishment of the provost guard it is believed that there will be little cause for complaint of drunkenness on the street and that the naval authorities will not be obliged to take drastic steps before the proposed ordinance abolishing the saloons goes into effect.

Considering the number of uniformed men stationed in the harbor district, however, there has been very little disorder on account of booze. With 8000 men in the army and navy in the harbor, it is expected that there would be some cases of intoxication. With few exceptions the men in both branches of the service have been sober, orderly and courteous. Among both branches of the service are many men of education, talent and refinement, and they have taken prominent parts in social, fraternal and religious activities at the harbor.

Most of the 1000 men at the naval training station, as well as those at the submarine base adjoining, have been too busy to spend time in riotous pleasure. In high hopes of seeing actual service soon the men at the naval training station are particular hard at study. The officers are given in addition to the regular work instruction in navigation. So great has the interest in navigation become that many of the seamen also have taken private instruction in order that they may get better ratings and qualify later as officers. The demand for this instruction has become so great that a course has been arranged by the Y.M.C.A. at the naval headquarters.

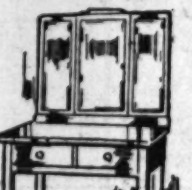

The men at the training station are getting uneasy for actual service. So far only one man has been called. He is H. C. Reed, an ensign, who has been ordered to report at Mare Island. He will probably be assigned to one of the new destroyers recently completed there.

"It was quite apparent to us all, who watched affairs, that the whole thing was a German plot. Probably the German troops had not gotten in between Gen. Hsun's troops in Peking and his northern allies which were all ready to join him, the result might have been different."

"It was a brief rebellion. We went to the Temple of Heaven, where we expected to witness some terrible sights after the Republican troops had gone in among the rebels, but there were only five bodies on the flag pavement. I asked how it happened that there had not been more killed and was told that the Republicans offered all the rebels three months' pay and amnesty, if they would surrender, whereupon they promptly acquiesced. We saw them mingling with the victors in a friendly manner. They were satisfied."

"That's why the Chinese never will be a big and powerful nation. There are a lot of them but they are all grafters and any official will take a bribe. They lack the qualities of integrity and sincerity as public officials. Take the young Chinese who come to this country for an education. They go back to China and revert to their barbarian and idolatry just as our American Indian does after receiving a college education. The education is all wasted on them."

DIVISION IS EXPECTED.

"Probably China soon will be divided into two parts, the northern part to be an empire and the southern part a republic. Then all the republicans in the northern provinces will move south and all of the imperialists in the south will move into the northern province. China does not possess a man big enough and broad enough to govern China as one country.

"It was going to tell you the joke about the ammunition that the republican custodian turned over to Gen. Hsun. It was a job lot, about 5,000,000 cartridges, of all sizes and calibers and there was none to fit the rifles of the Manchu rebels. Perhaps that is one reason why they lost the war."

Dr. Salisbury brought back a number of fine tiger and leopard skins, tributes to his skill as a hunter. One tiger skin measures fourteen and a half feet from tip to tip. He secured also some exciting moving pictures of the stalking and entrapping of big game.

GERARD LUNCHEON.

Chamber of Commerce Prepares Two Affairs for Former American Ambassador to Germany.

Anticipating a much larger attendance than usual at their regular monthly smoker to be held Saturday afternoon in honor of Mr. Gerard for the gathering to be held in Shrine Auditorium instead of in the rooms of the organization.

Under the chairmanship of E. H. Bagby, the Entertainment Committee of the chamber is arranging for a luncheon in honor of Mr. Gerard at the Hotel Alexandria at noon on Saturday. The price of the tickets is $1.50. There are also other plans in progress for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor.

WOMAN LOSES SUIT.

A jury in Superior Judge York's court Friday rendered a verdict in favor of the Pacific Electric Company in the $5500 damage suit brought by Miss Gertrude Wolverton, a scenario writer. The plaintiff alleged in her complaint that she was injured by a Hollywood car July 11, 1916. At a previous trial she was awarded $1100 damages, but the new trial granted was in favor of the defendant company.

"STRIKE!"
 Even the lightning couldn't strike Los Angeles without visiting a moving picture studio. The woods are full of them.

A BIG NAME.
 A Greek named Daxos Paticiospau-poules, who was injured by falling from a street car in New York, was on his way home for first treatment before an officer could record his name for an ambulance call. He can avoid all future troubles of this kind by having his name changed to Alphabet. Surely that's Greek enough.

DELIVER THE GOODS.
 If the chronic critics who are forever pointing out the faults and shortcomings of successful men would devote a little more time to the study of those principles by the observance of which the successful ones have attained their goal it would be better for the critics and for society in general. The world doesn't care a rap about him who asserts that he could deliver a great message to humanity. The world is interested only in the message itself.

AT LAST!
 There has been much talk of the cave man of late, but it remained for a local dramatist to discover the cave woman, and he didn't have to go outside of his own home to find her. The dramatist, who is 75 years old, secured a divorce from his nineteen-year-old bride, claiming that she is a cave girl and that she had beaten him and treated him cruelly. However much he may have suffered he will have the consolation of knowing that in the discovery of the cave girl he has done his bit for contemporary drama.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIX TRAITORS.

The Federal authorities at Chicago have moved on the traitorous I.W.W. leaders with celerity and certainty. One hundred and sixty-six indictments for obstructing the recruiting service of the United States are punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for twenty years, or both—have been followed by more than 100 arrests. Among those who were gathered in by the officers was William D. Haywood, the general secretary, treasurer and leading devil of the I.W.W. The Times speaks for him a fair trial, a prompt conviction, and about ten years' arduous labor at rock breaking and road mending, on a whole some diet of cornmeal mush washed down by an abundance of pure and sparkling water.

SOUL-SAVING FACILITIES.

No city in all the land is better supplied than is Los Angeles with opportunities and appliances for soul saving. There are Joss houses and Shinto temples for Chinese and Japanese. There is a Lodge of Theosophists where you can ascertain what you were doing for a living when George Washington was President, what official position you held under Julius Caesar and whether you will probably be a freeman or a harpist in the sweet bye and bye.

If you are content with one God the first Unitarian Church on Flower street is open to you. If you need the orthodox three gods there are Presbyterian churches and Methodist churches and Episcopal churches and Catholic churches and Christian churches and a Christadelphian church and a Lutheran church and a Mormon church. If you feel that it is your right to be saved without doing or omitting to do anything to aid in bringing it about there is the Universalist church.

And if you want a rough-house, baseball, knock-down and drag-out, sawdust-trail-biting, hot-as-hell religion, why, Billy Sunday has it ready for you.

GO SLOW!

One trouble with many of us is that we are entirely too careless about what we say and what we pray for. We are too definite and too certain in our casual statements and too thoughtless about our prayers. In time every prayer is answered, every desire fulfilled and every statement we make must be made good, although we may not be able to recognize our own part in the final result of our thoughts and actions. Even to think a thing means to start the vibrations that are certain to materialize it or to bring about the fruition in definite circumstances or conditions. Science is ignorant of many things, but among the laws of whose operations science is sure are the laws of cause and effect, action and reaction and the continuous action of force. Every pebble cast into the sea affects to some extent every drop of water in the ocean. Every word spoken increases the universal volume of sound. Every breath exhaled finds its way into a summer breeze or helps to swell the gale that sweeps over mountain or sea. In human affairs the nations that cling to false ideals are certain to suffer economical and social death. The citizen who criticizes the greatest government on earth (i.e., that of the United States) will pay for his folly, whether his name be Smith or La Follette. Be careful what you say. "Don't start anything you can't finish."

THE NEW RESPECT FOR UNCLE SAM.

SOMETHING has happened in the last few months to Mr. Villa and the choleric Mexican gentlemen who were wont to raid our borders and twiddle their fingers from their noses if we spoke to them and explained that it was really quite improper to soil their hands with blood, particularly with American blood. Something has happened also to the touchy Japanese gentlemen, who wore their honor on their sleeves where it was most easily offended, who took pugnacious objection to the way we fashioned our internal affairs and had a flurry of rage at our impudence when our State Department politely inquired what the Mikado was up to in China; and something also to those gentlemen of Teutonic origin affecting the uptilted and bristling mustache, who were given to writing notes home about the "stupid Americans," and to pointing out with elaborate statistics just how a war between this country and Germany would be in the nature of a civil war for us.

Yea, verily, something has suddenly come over the world's regard for the United States. The Mexican raiders have given the Rio Grande, or at least the northern side of it, a wide berth, thereby perverting their promises made for the German gold they have pocketed. Japan has suddenly discovered a belated gratitude toward the United States for the alarm clocks that Commodore Perry brought to the island, and has sent two commissions, one treading the heels of the other in their haste to arrive with assurances that Japan and the United States are dearer beloved brothers with no misunderstandings whatsoever that cannot be amicably settled; and the naval year book of the Japanese is found this time to omit the ever present reference about an impending war with the United States. England, which has long regarded us as a rather simple-minded cousin, uncouthly bourgeois and lacking military grace, has surrendered to our President the honor of spokesman for the Allies in rejecting the German peace proposals via the Pope.

THE tramp, tramp, tramp of our marching men has echoed to the furthest corners of the world. Foreign diplomats whisper among themselves regarding the marvel of ten million young Americans voluntarily yielding themselves to conscription. Nobody ever heard of such a thing before. And $640,000,000 appropriated for airplanes! What is this United States coming to, anyway? And a naval programme that will practically double the hitting force of the American fleet. Can it be that after all Uncle Sam was a muscular giant instead of the mere fat man that he appeared? Can it be that the sluggish indifference to the arts of war was merely an expression of lazy amiability rather than the effect of cowardice or national cretinism? French and English military men have said with words unaccounted by flattery and they have never seen such fine-looking soldiers as the United States has poured into the training camps of England and France—which no doubt means that they have never seen such numbers of husky young men, for the call to arms in those countries brought men up to 45 and down to 18. And looking upon the soldiers that America has called, the world is reminded that there yet remain available some twenty million of military age.

AMERICA has come into her place as a world power. Uncle Sam has got his legs under the council tables of nations. He is respected, not because he is more just, more agreeable, or more intellectual than he was a few months ago; but because everybody knows that the gun in his pocket is loaded and that he is practicing marksmanship.

In its international relations the world is still barbaric, and backs up its arguments, claims and pretenses with brute force. If a nation has no brute force it is likely to be belittled, Manchurized, Persiaized or Chinafied. Coined words those, but eloquently bespeaking the fate that stronger nations have without a vestige of ethical or ethnic right imposed upon the weaker.

And we of the United States have during the past decade suffered the diplomatic humiliations of a nation for which no other had the least military respect. Even the cut-throat Villa spat into our face. Japan banged the Open Door of China on our fingers and said it was our own fault for trying to run a bluff. When the war started England seized our mails and confiscated our cargoes which were not, under international law, contraband. We now realize that England was justified, but we also realize that if we had had an army and navy anywhere nearly equal to her own, she would not have done it. She would have explained first, instead of afterwards. Germany sank our ships and for years we wrote pleasant notes asking her kindly to desist. We ought to have got into the war when Belgium was raped; but if we had possessed the army we now have, Germany would have solicitedly avoided giving us the slightest excuse for even getting into it.

A wretched situation indeed it is that in this year of our Lord nations should still nicely modify their respect for one another in proportion to military power. It is the powerful nations that put across the diplomatic coups, not because their diplomats are so much more astute, but because the army and navy stand behind and back them up. Some years ago after building the Panama Canal our diplomats had to yield equal rights to Great Britain, and the pressure was so great that the President executed a complete volte face on the question—not because England threatened us with war, but because she threatened to take no interest in any difficulties that we might have with a certain other country, needless to mention. And our government was humiliatedly aware of its military inadequacy to be left entirely friendless among the world powers. When the Austrian diplomats stole Bosnia and Herzegovina it was because the German army agreed to it. England's diplomats have been distinguished for bloodless triumphs because of the battle fleet behind them, and notably in the Fashoda incident they compelled France to release all claims to the Egyptian Sudan. Germany, by rattling her sword, required France to take the brilliant Delcasse from office, thereby ousting the man who was preparing far-sightedly for the present war.

Peace hath its victories no less than war; but the warriors are usually massed in the background least disputes arise over the loot claimed by the peaceful victors. And war is in Europe today not because Germany had such a powerful army, but because Russia and France and Belgium did not have armies strong enough to impress the Central Powers with the venerable maxim that honesty is the best policy.

IV.

IN BECOMING a military nation the United States is fitting itself to hold a place of honor in the world, and to speak with authority. As a power for democracy, as a righter of wrongs, as a force for good, our country can and will be a hundred-fold more influential by virtue of the fact that we may plead for equitable arbitration and the ways of peace when we have a formidable and fearful army ready for war. Then our nation will not be accused, as it has been in the past, of desiring peace because it is afraid to hazard the sword. If we had had such an army and navy four years ago as we will have four years hence, and had said to Europe, "The first one of you that declares war on another will find us arrayed against it," that would-Quixotic as it may sound—have caused Austria and Germany to decide that a dead Archduke could find his way to heaven without the whole of Europe being turned into a funeral pyre. The international government which some time will establish permanent peace upon the earth, will come not because the weaker, unprepared, supinely fat nations of the earth want it, but because such powerfully military nations as the United States will agree to it; and the basic principle of that international government will then be the guarantee of world powers to instantly take sides against any aggressor.

And being a world military power, we are no longer regarded as a succulent oyster that any sword may open. Foreign diplomats no longer with familiar amusement call us Uncle Sam, but the Honorable Mr. Samuel. The Monroe Doctrine is no longer a tenuous phrase, but a loop of steel drawn around the Western Hemisphere; and an American is no longer merely an individual who happens to have been born in some one of numerous spots on the map of the United States, but a citizen whose life and rights are to be respected the world over because his country has mighty ships and millions of men ready for war.

With the Accent on the "When."

THE VOICE OF HUMANITY.

The philosophers of the various nations engaged in the great war are now being heard. It may be more to the pity that they did not have more to say before the war started; but it is significant of the trend of events that the public is hearing less and less now from the various rulers and sovereigns of the belligerent states, less and less of the premiers and prime ministers, and more and more from the philosophers who, as a general proposition, may well be accepted as the spokesmen of the nationalities to which they belong; and more than that—they may be accepted as the spokesmen of all the people, as the "vox humani."

Thus, for instance, a few days ago Maximilian Harden, a philosopher as well as a noted editor of the German school, offered to go surety for the Kaiser to go into peace negotiations on the terms as stated by the main committee of the Reichstag, the peace programme first outlined by the Centrist member Erberger, and which includes the evacuation of Belgium by Germany, a parliamentary government for the German confederation, and autonomy to Alsace-Lorraine to be decided by a vote of the inhabitants of those provinces.

Right after the echo of Harden's voice had died away from Herbert Asquith, former British Premier, and who, like Premier Balfour who preceded him, is an acknowledged philosopher, speaking the voice of the people and the voice of humanity, added a note or two to the peace symposium with a highly important and interesting statement in which he may be said to have outlined the British peace terms. Mr. Asquith's statement was published in The Times Friday morning. Mr. Asquith reiterates his demand for a plain and simple answer from Germany as to her intentions towards Belgium and the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine and he declares that a definite answer to these questions is worth a column of pious platitudes and generalities, as were contained, he says, in the German reply to the Pope's peace note. The Allies, he says, are fighting against war and for the right of the small nations to live in amity with the larger ones. The main aim of the Entente Allies, he says, is to make another war like the present one impossible. He wants no peace imposed on the world along the line of terms laid down by the Kaiser as a victor and a conqueror, but a peace on the simple confession that militarism, like navalism, is a mistake; that autocratic tyranny has no place in the world at this day and date. He wants a peace founded on the sense of righteousness and justice, which, as Socrates has noted, is everywhere and always the same. In so saying Mr. Asquith speaks with the voice of a philosopher and, more than that, with the voice of all humanity; and included in the term are the German people themselves, as Maximilian Harden has already attested. The Germans, in their own hearts and consciousness, are unquestionably tired of the war and the mere fact that Mr. Harden has been either engaged or permitted to speak at all on the subject is testimony of the widening breach between the German people and the Kaiser.

Let common sense, justice, righteousness rule. This is the prayer and the demand of the Vox Humanum. This is the voice of humanity. Let the Kaiser confess his sins and with a contrite spirit and heart make ready for the inevitable peace parley. The terms of peace as stated by Mr. Asquith, speaking for the British public, are terms on which the Germans may well be ready to negotiate a termination of hostilities. If the German governing classes have the common sense of their foremost editors and philosophers they will come to see the light. There will be no peace imposed by a victor and a conqueror. Humanity wills otherwise; and is prepared and poised to fight on and on for a peace based on justice and righteousness.

To say the least, Mr. Asquith's statement affords an excellent basis for negotiations. If the Germans and the Austrians are so desirous for a termination of the war as they profess to be in their recent communications to Pope Benedict they will once and forever lay aside their platitudes, speak out in words of one syllable and meet the Entente Allies for a fair deal. That is the way to end the war and re-establish law and order, justice and righteousness in this unhappy world. It is up to the Kaiser. The whole issue is before the bureaucrats and the autocrats in Berlin. Dare they prolong the world's agony?

The English, Spanish, Germans, Italians, Mexicans, Peruvians—anyone, dammit—know better the grace and comfort and joy of life than we do Abraham Lincoln, Isaac and Jacob, and Joseph the Carpenter, knew more about that vital and fundamental art of being "Happy though Alive" than we do today. And no one who knows much of anything about history, or even about Man in the Patriarchal stage as we can still study him, will dispute me for an instant. Being a Puritan, am slow to learn; but 3000 years ought to be enough time to learn A. B. C.

In the West I once knew, I could have gone from Santa Fe to San Francisco, and from San Francisco to Chicago without a dollar, a Isaac or a name. Every hut or place would have opened its welcoming door just because I was a Human and respected other Humans and could talk to them and like them. I like, and am "friends with" some presidents, many statesmen, more authors—not ex officio, for the more Opportunity they have, the less I like them. But the old Frontier Humanity, I love up and down and sideways. You can tie to it as safe as you can hitch a cow pony by throwing the reins over his head to the ground.

But the old Frontier Humanity, I earned it. I was born a little, narrow, prejudiced, intolerant Yankee. Nor do I now deem the West a Perfect and Superhuman thing. But the real Western Spirit is as much broader, freer, braver, richer, more independent and more tolerant than Puritanism or Tenderfootedness as a lion in Numidia is a "better man" than a lion in the Szig case!

Why "Wag" for the Old California? I can tell you right here where it made its last stand. In this very house I have myself sat at the inquest of the Murdered Hospitality. I have here seen a trainload of "Tulles" raid the orchards, and not "pick an orange," but rip off a limb as big as their wrist—cripping the tree for years. I have seen them gear into private windows. I have seen them march into the dining-room where a score or so of Westerners were eating, and line up against the walls and discuss us and the food with perfect frankness—as though we didn't all know English. I have seen them walk into the bedrooms of the noble and high-bred women of this household, and investigate the drawers. I caught a pair of them in the very sanctuary of the old Queen—and I give you my word these vandals knew that something had happened to them. My Californians were too gentle; but being an Escaped, Graduated and Reformed Easterner myself, I was able to treat these vandals Homeopathically, as it were.

Do you wonder that this universal hostility but up like a wounded clam, after a few years of these Hog-raids? Does it surprise you that we who KNOW California feel that the parvenu "don't know how to play on it?"

I GUESS SO.

BY CHARLES F. LUMMIS.

"Once California!" I almost got to the text last time—but that inextinguishable Bottom of the Column cut me off.

I write where it is easiest to write of the California that WAS—in the last and most beautiful of the haciendas of the old patriarchal days. My door is open to the fragrant Patio and the veranda (long as a city block) where a third of a century ago fifty of us "boys and girls" used to sit and sing of moonlit nights, while old "Father Peter" of the Plaza Church marched up and down with despotic forefinger and a lion of a voice, and led the choros.

And at my window I hear the whisper of the biggest walnut tree in the world. And I am not afraid to lean against the wall—for it is three feet thick. And we sat out tonight in the shadowy portico and sang the songs of the California that was, and with the same old guitar. There were only three old people and five younger ones. But the flickering shadows of the candle were alive with Dear Ghosts; and Lusania and Pichona and Santiago and Josefa and Ysabel and all the rest were there again—as fine young faces as the glad moon ever looked upon. Yes, and Father Peter!

My eyes are somewhat sensitive to pepper—but no one has thrown pepper in my eyes tonight. If they are wet, it isn't the automobile dust—an automobile to this Sanctuary! It isn't alone for them that were so deep a part of my heart so long ago—it's as much for the California that WAS! The "Himself" suit.

We Americans don't know any more how to live than a pig does of side-pockets! We Beat the Devil at "making a living." Our men come home, and our women come words—largely fictitious checks! As a nation, we have Residences, not Homes. A house is to us as a coat—when a little worn or "out of fashion," we sell it to the rag-man. That your child was born or your mother died in that house—that the Hell has that to do with your sentiment toward it? What the Hell is Sentiment, anyhow?

The Jew is probably the only considerable person in our country who by class and almost infallibly knows how to spell H-O-M-E. He doesn't make it so associate with locality as a cat, an Italian or a European does. To the rest of us "Home is where my Hat Hangs." To the Jew, "Home is where my Family is." He is almost as bad as the Gentile in lack of sentiment for ancestral walls; but he "has us skinned a mile" in his devotion to his family. And then you wonder that out of 2400 business houses on Broadway, N. Y., over 1900 are of Jew?

The English, Spanish, Germans, Italians, Mexicans, Peruvians—anyone, dammit—know better the grace and comfort and joy of life than we do Abraham Lincoln, Isaac and Jacob, and Joseph the Carpenter, knew more about that vital and fundamental art of being "Happy though Alive" than we do today. RULES FOR EMBRYONIC SOLDIERS
SOUND LIKE HOME AND MOTHER

BY ORA F. WILLIS.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

How they spend their leisure time at Camp Lewis.

P. T. Balkin (right) is writing home. W. H. Widdess of Pomona, is studying army regulations. They are sitting on a cot in the "Sunshine Battalion's" barracks.

CAMP LEWIS, Sept. 27. — "Men must peel potatoes, scrub floors. Every soldier must keep the floor under his bunk and on each side thereof clean. It will be swept daily."

Not least effective of "rookies" weapons will be the broom.

"Civilian clothing must not be kept in the soldier's possession; it should be sent home or otherwise disposed of."

Southern California mail carriers, express deliverymen, soon will have at least a trainload of suit cases filled with the boys' effects to deliver at parental domiciles.

"Each man must keep hair cut short."

Mothers must console themselves with the knowledge that this will mean healthier men.

"Barracks bags will be neatly packed and kept."

The days of throwing palamas in a corner, collars on top of the dresser, leaving shoes where they fall, are over.

THE DAY.

The days of lolling in bed in the morning are over, too. At 5:45 a.m. the cruel bugle blows. Reveille, 5:55; lights out, 8:30; breakfast, 6:45.

Drill school of soldier next from 7:30 to 8:00; fifty minutes physical drill, twenty minutes instruction hygiene, care of person, dinner, noon.

Fifty minutes drill sighting, range-finding, same period guard duty, work ninety minutes first-aid instruction, inspection follows. Supper, 5:00; lights out, 8:30.

This is the schedule except Saturdays and Sundays.

Saturday mornings comes physical drill, review of difficult points of week's work and instruction in military courtesy.

Tuesday and Friday mornings the men make four-mile practice marches to American Lake and are instructed in swimming.

Non-com's school for privates in English is held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:00. Beginning tomorrow officers' school will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

There is plenty of time for play for supper is over soon after 5 o'clock. Then the men play football, baseball, basketball, box, wrestling, train relay men, etc. Nearly 700 athletic teams will be organized at the camp in cycle of seasons.

Maj.-Gen. Brown's slogan is "athletics for every man."

Then for studious men there is "Camp Lewis University." French classes begin tomorrow. Hundreds are enrolled. Nearly every subject desired will be taught at night. Foreigners will be taught English. Doctors of philosophy will be able to take advanced work through mediun extension departments, Northwest universities.

A giant amusement center, with motion picture theaters, shooting galleries, ice-cream parlors and other institutions dear to American youth, soon will be established, operated under government supervision, near the new officers' school.

The best shows from New York, lecturers and entertainers of note will appear at camp for the soldiers' benefit.

There are libraries, games, writing tables, pianos and phonographs in the Y.M.C.A. buildings.

Every barracks in camp has a phonograph and twenty records presented by Tacoma woman whose name is withheld.

The soldiers are soon to get the thrill of their lives, for the largest flag from the largest polo field at the largest cantenment.

"Every soldier must keep the floor under his bunk and on each side thereof clean. It will be swept daily."

Not least effective of "rookies" weapons will be the broom.

Non-com's school for privates in English is held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:00. Beginning tomorrow officers' school will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

There is plenty of time for play for supper is over soon after 5 o'clock. Then the men play football, baseball, basketball, box, wrestling, train relay men, etc. Nearly 700 athletic teams will be organized at the camp in cycle of seasons.

Maj.-Gen. Brown's slogan is "athletics for every man."

Then for studious men there is "Camp Lewis University." French classes begin tomorrow. Hundreds are enrolled. Nearly every subject desired will be taught at night. Foreigners will be taught English. Doctors of philosophy will be able to take advanced work through mediun extension departments, Northwest universities.

A giant amusement center, with motion picture theaters, shooting galleries, ice-cream parlors and other institutions dear to American youth, soon will be established, operated under government supervision, near the new officers' school.

The best shows from New York, lecturers and entertainers of note will appear at camp for the soldiers' benefit.

There are libraries, games, writing tables, pianos and phonographs in the Y.M.C.A. buildings.

Every barracks in camp has a phonograph and twenty records presented by Tacoma woman whose name is withheld.

Interest Monday Will Center Around New Coats at $22.50

—Autumn has sent no more desirable garments, at the price, than these coats that are to be presented Monday at $22.50.
—Coats of velour, plush, pile fabrics and Kersey.
—The color range is a liberal one and the styles are those accepted by Fashion.
—Some with fur collars, some have collars of self material.
—Coats that have been purposely priced at $22.50 to win your attention.

New Silk and Serge Dresses at $25.00

—No woman who follows the Fashions today can consider her wardrobe complete without at least one or more of these practical, but withal, charming dresses of serge or taffeta silk, that we have so moderately priced at $25.
—Serges are in navy, black and green.
—Then there are taffeta silk dresses, also satin and Georgette combinations.
—These in taupe, brown, navy, black and green. You'll be impressed with these at the price—$25.

It's Quite an Achievement to Have Such Tailored Suits at $25.00

—And we have good reason to boast of these. Suits of Gabardine, Poplin, Serge, Burella and mannish suitings.
—The color range is varied and the styles are those approved by Fashion. 3rd floor.

Ordered Last December 3000 doz. of These All Linen Handkerchiefs Initialed, Priced 12½c ea.

—They are of sheer linen with beautiful embroidered initial in corner—some in white, others in color, pink, blue and lavender.
—This, too, is a holiday hint worth taking advantage of. Aisle 3.

A Tailoring Department Where Prices Are as Moderate as Many that Are Ready-made

—Here's a tailoring department that puts, within the reach of practically every pocketbook, the possibilities of a first-class, thoroughly guaranteed, tailored-to-measure suit or skirt.
—This department is built upon the idea of turning out a large volume of tailored-to-measure garments, thus operating costs may be lowered, and retail prices in accordance.
—At the same time introducing to you our splendid stock of woollens, which are moderately priced.
—Here, for example, you may procure

Man Tailored Suits for the Making $13.50

—If this tailoring department were not connected with our piece goods department, and operated upon the principle which we have outlined, these garments could not be produced at any such prices.
—If you've had difficulty in securing ready-made garments to satisfy you, or if you desire the satisfaction of a snug-fitting tailored-to-measure suit or skirt, investigate this Monday. Tailoring Department, Second Floor.

Man Tailored Skirts $1.25 for the Making
—With the assurance that the workmanship will be satisfactory as it has been satisfactory to hundreds of others.

Zibeline Coating $2.75

—The rich dark shades of autumn, 54-inch width, $2.75 yard. Second Floor.

New Chiffon Broadcloth $2.50

—And it isn't any secret that broadcloths are among the favored materials for this fall.
—This is a 50-inch satin finish broadcloth for dresses or suits, and the desired shades are represented.

Butterick Fashions

The World-wide Styles Authority

—A never failing help to the woman who is planning her new fall outfit.
—October patterns and Fashion sheets are ready.
—Special offer on the Delinquent for a short time.
—The second floor pattern department.

Chenille Hats

Are First in Fashionable Favor

—And the imported models that are being shown in the very exclusive Fifth Avenue shops are causing no end of comment.
—So, naturally, we are proud of the fact that we can announce chenille hats of such becoming styles and so cleverly fashioned that we have no hesitancy in saying that they have all the distinction of the imported models.
—Of course, these artistic copies of the imported models are moderately priced.
—Certainly they are different and are being worn with the dressiest of suits.
—Being made over the most approved hat frames, some are molded with all semblance of a foundation eliminated, yet with all the lines smart headwear should have.
—These hats are finished with embroidered fruit or with the chenille itself forming the trimming.
—The colorings are brilliant and will naturally be very much in demand for sports wear, as well as the more dressy occasions. Third Floor.

Satins Are Supreme in the Weaves of Fashion

—And from the Fashion note of France and the work shops of the best American designers, Satins have been given preference in so many of the smarter frocks of the hour.
—And The Broadway has prepared for the demand for satins, so that now the Silk Section is aglisten with the rich new satin weaves, including —36 in. Satin de Chine, $1.50. All colors.
—36 in. Coetz Satin, $2. Street and evening shades.

11—The Glad Girl.
12—Sweet Emeline, My Gal.

First in Importance is the Corset

—Because the good fit of the dress or suit depends, in a great measure, upon the fit of the corset.
—It's important also that you choose a corset of merit.

Bon Ton and Royal Worcester Corsets

—Are satisfactory corsets, they follow closely the lines of Fashion, yet they are easily adapted to the average figure.
—Corsets that shape themselves easily to the lines of the body.
—They give grace and beauty and they're comfortable.
—Our Corset department is specializing particularly on the fit of the corset and now is the time to choose the new fall model.

Machine Made Copies of French Emb. Underwear

—Copies of the imported garments, American made.
—In which the cleverly executed hand work of the French peasant women has been closely followed, and fashioned by American machines.
—Night gowns, $1.50 and $1.75.
—Envelope chemise, $1.50, $1.75 and $1.95. 2nd floor.

—the Reasons For Our Furniture Values

You can't possibly realize the scope and efficiency of this big Los Angeles furniture industry—just a few blocks from the center of town—until you've seen for yourself these ten floors, teeming with busy workmen, buzzing machinery and magnificent furniture—the BEST.

Here's How We DO It!

First—
All the economics of a factory-wholesale system are passed to our customers. Just ONE direct transaction—from our big factory to YOUR home.

Second—
ONE overhead expense maintains every unit of this gigantic organization—manufacturing, jobbing and distributing.

Third—
Buying for ten plants—from the Atlantic to the Pacific—gives us unequalled price concessions on raw materials.

Fourth—
Twenty years' experience enables us to produce the most artistic, most durable furniture at the least cost.

Fifth—
There is no lost motion and unnecessary handling. The greater part of P. & H. furniture goes direct from our factory to your home.

Outside of Los Angeles, we shall continue to distribute P. & H. furniture only through the retailers, as heretofore.

The splendid values, the tremendous variety included in this DIRECT-TO-YOU way of buying furniture has set the entire community talking. After all, it only represents efficient, modern methods of merchandising applied to the distribution of furniture.

Lost motion, duplication, have no place in the P. and H. organization.

P. and H. Furniture Given the Gold Medal at the San Francisco Exposition

Twenty years' experience has so thoroughly educated us in the needs and preferences of furniture buyers that we know just what will sell before we make it. Consequently, we have no capital tied up in a slow-moving merchandise.

Our vast assortment of furniture, carpets and rugs—ten floors of it—represents the concentrated efforts and ideals of the world's leading furniture specialists, who have devoted their lives to the carrying out of furniture standards.

Furnishing Apartments and Hotels Our Specialty

Dozens of hotels and apartment houses of the better sort owe their complete, distinctive furnishings to Peck & Hills. We can refer you to any number of them, right here in Los Angeles, as proof that we do satisfy at saving prices.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep a tiny bottle handy on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

TIBERTY BOND BUYERS HERE LEAD THE NATION

One Los Angeles Family in Every Five will Receive the Precious Documents in Few Days.

WHEN the Treasury Department starts delivering Liberty bonds to the 3,500,000 subscribers throughout the nation this week, 25,000 of these precious documents will be distributed among that many individual subscribers in Los Angeles. In fact, one family in every five in this city will possess one of these bonds, which indicates that more individual subscriptions were made in this city, in proportion to its population, than in any other city in the United States, the ratio of individual subscriptions for the rest of the country being a bond in one family in six.

These 25,000 subscriptions totaled nearly $25,000,000. The individual subscriptions ranged in amount from the poor man's $5 to the $10,000 subscribed by E. L. Dooney. Day laborers, clerks and great corporations all joined in the great drive to raise funds for the prosecution of the war to a glorious victory.

Many firms and corporations having large numbers of employees arranged to purchase the bonds for them, allowing each to pay in weekly or monthly installments, according to circumstances. This is particularly noticeable for the fact that about one-fourth of the total amount subscribed in Los Angeles came from corporations. A large percentage of such subscriptions will later be transferred to the employees of such corporations.

That the response to the call for subscriptions was general is shown by the number of individual subscribers throughout the country, which approximates 3,500,000. One family out of every five throughout the length and breadth of this land now own government bonds, a condition unprecedented. What this means in encouraging the investment only the future can show, but it will have a lasting influence.

Ordinarily, investment in bonds is a safe thing to do. In the country, in a brief period, this was increased nearly tenfold. That this number will be increased as the other bond issues seem certain. Before the war, the average man owned only one bond, and that was a small one. Now, the average man owns five or six, and that is a large one.

It is interesting to note that in both Great Britain and the United States, the interest rate on government bonds is now 5 per cent, while in the United States it is 4 per cent. In the United States, the interest rate on government bonds is now 5 per cent, while in the United States it is 4 per cent.

HURRY AWAY PIMPLES, RASHES WITH POSLAM

Don't let them remain to blemish and annoy any longer than it takes Poslam to heal them. And Poslam is best equipped to do the work because its healing powers are concentrated.

Apply Poslam at night—leave it on in the daytime, too, when convenient. It acts quickly. You can soon see the results. Poslam is the only medicine that does the work.

So effective is Poslam that a little of it will cure a large area of skin. It is the only medicine that does the work. Apply Poslam at night—leave it on in the daytime, too, when convenient. It acts quickly. You can soon see the results. Poslam is the only medicine that does the work.

Tell Your Wife Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers.

Not a twinge of pain or soreness before applying or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-pestered men and women who have been cutting, filing and wearing torturous plasters. Yes! Corns lift off and calluses peel off as if by magic.

A small bottle of freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus and instantly the soreness disappears; then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep a tiny bottle handy on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

LOS ANGELES PEOPLE GET INSTANT ACTION

Those who have used it in Los Angeles are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-ika relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The Dickinson Drug Co., Cor. Third and Main Sts.

WHY SOCIETY WOMEN WASH THEIR OWN HAIR

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.

Mayor Takes Steps to Prepare Proposed Meetings. Keep Order if it Requires Entire Police Force.

National Bureau Told to Keep Behind the President

Preparative steps were taken by Mayor Woodman to prepare for the meeting of "Christian Pacifists" scheduled to be held in Los Angeles tomorrow night, Tuesday. In addition to the Acting Chief of Police, Mayor Woodman sent a telegram to the National Civil Liberties Bureau, New York, stating that Los Angeles was squarely behind the President of the United States, and that it does not believe in sedition. The telegram was sent to the Mayor and his answer: "We urge liberal attitude toward the conference. Denial of constitutional right to peaceful assembly would make national gathering of that character a mere issue of obstruction. We hope you will permit the government."

BOND BUYERS LEAD THE NATION

Los Angeles Family in Every State Receive the Precious Bonds in Few Days.

Department of the Treasury has today announced that the first of the new government bonds, a condition absolutely unprecedented. What this will do is to encourage the investment in the future, and it will have a lasting influence on the nation.

Ordinarily, investment in government bonds is made by the wealthy. But now, thanks to the new government bonds, the average citizen can participate in the government's financial success.

It is interesting to note that the interest rate on government bonds is now 5 per cent, while in the past it has been as low as 3 per cent.

That the nation could, at this time, raise money so easily is a tribute to the confidence of the people in the government.

But there is another factor in the success of the government's financial policy. It is the patriotism of the people.

George H. Daniels, a prominent citizen of Los Angeles, has been named as one of the first subscribers to the new government bonds.

NEW SHIPYARDS MAKING RECORD FOR FAST WORK.

NOTABLE progress is being made by the Ralph J. Chandler Company, one of the new shipbuilding corporations of the harbor district, in the construction of the wooden ships contracted for by the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation on the Pacific Coast.

The eight-acre site on Mormon Island, on which the company has its plant, was so much barren land at the beginning of the summer. By August 1 everything was set and ready for the laying of the first keel.

The second keel was laid August 24. Today 30 per cent of the frame of one vessel is up and frame parts for the rest of this boat and for starting the other vessel are rapidly being reached.

The vessels will each be of the wooden steamship model, known as the "Ferret type," after Theodore E. Ferris, the architect and engineer who designed them.

Spreads the Nose, Blurs the Eyes. Puffs the Face, Dries the Lips. How to Get Rid of Catarrh.

TRY THIS HOME TREATMENT FREE.

Catarrh not only makes one feel miserable, it shows this effect in the face. It usually grows worse if it is not treated. It is a remarkable home treatment that will cure you of every sufferer by the remarkable Gauss self home treatment, which you can try in your own home.

A red nose that dribbles with mucus is an unsightly misery. A breath tainted with the odor of catarrh is an offense against all health and decency. A stomach filled with droppings from diseased nasal cavities may cause untold misery, and ruins the complexion.

So why continue with all this misery? Send your name and address today for a free trial of Mr. Gauss' famous treatment. Mail to C. E. Gauss, 2663 Main St., Marshall, Mich.

But listen to Col. Mully recalling the last grand review when Gen. Sir William White, D.S.O., inspected the camp. The Grizzlies absolutely shine at reviews.

Yes, indeed, Gen. White said they were the finest body of men he had ever seen. They were a fine bunch of French or Canadian bunch. Absolutely the finest he had ever seen.

I was just agreeing with the general enthusiastically when Col. Mully was called away for a few minutes. He said that he was a very fine bunch of French or Canadian bunch. Absolutely the finest he had ever seen.

SOCIAL LIONS SWIFTLY MADE INTO GRIZZLIES AT TANFORAN.

Many Celebrities Among Members of Crack Volunteer Regiment of Artillery Training in the North for Service Abroad.

BY A GAY LOS ANGELES GIRL.

LEUT.-COL. THORNWELL MULLALLY, commanding officer of the "Grizzlies," the crack volunteer regiment in training at Tanforan, wears his regimental pride quite frankly on his sleeve. He is only too ready to admit that the "Grizzlies" are a "crack" regiment, and he is only too ready to admit that the "Grizzlies" are a "crack" regiment.

Many of these men would have come within the draft age, but many more of them are over it. Hence their volunteering is altruistic. Heaven knows they are submitting themselves to every discipline, playing the game with wholeheartedness, sleeping on straw mattresses, eating from tin plates, washing in cold water, and so on.

Over at the Presidio a student may indulge his soul with some good-natured growl, may kick a bit against the "pricks," may solace himself with small misdeeds; but the "Grizzlies" must never swerve from their self-constituted discipline and rectitude.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a bag of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients. It is used, for about fifty cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after an other application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

strapon of Better Values

Chief are "Better Values" are 55 women COATS, $23.75

We have picked these very remarkable coats—we only wish room to picture all 55 of them, for they are attractive as these.

A famous New York manufacturer's planning and the thought which is back of all of these October Better Value demonstrations, too, something of the purpose of them, sent us these 55 coats as a demonstration of the way of value giving.

And we are glad to get them—sure—for in addition to being among the most extraordinary values that we have had, these very newest coats, the ones most in vogue right now. A good share of them are trimmed with fur, as the pictures show.

Other important demonstrators are these

COUNTY FACES BABY PROBLEM

High Cost of Living Places Wee Wards on Rations.

War-time Conditions Hardest on Our Most Helpless.

Contributions Declared to be Urgently Required.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

Los Angeles county has 1100 babies in its direct care. There are 2500 young children altogether in boarding homes and institutions in this county. And if we don't hurry up and do something about it, they will grow up into underfed, ill-developed future citizens.

These are our own children, not French and Belgian orphans. But because food has risen in price by leaps and bounds since the war started, because milk has risen from 9 to 14 cents a quart, bread from 10 to 14 cents a loaf, stewing meat from 4 to 16 cents a pound, and eggs are 55 cents a dozen, these 2500 little children are compelled to live on an irreducible minimum.

By law the county cannot allow more than $11 per month per child. That has to include everything. Time was when it was sufficient, now it is hopelessly inadequate.

It is a vital problem and it is our personal problem.

Here is an average day's food for these growing children—priced to be the very best that can be done at the price:

Breakfast, a bowl of oatmeal with a little sugar. That's all. No bread, nothing else, but possibly some diluted canned milk for a treat.

Luncheon, three slices of hot bread, with jam or syrup. No butter.

Dinner, vegetable stew with one slice of bread and a little dried fruit. That's all.

As for shoes and clothing, they, too, have become luxuries rather than necessities. For families who hold and medical expenses have to be considered.

In the meantime, where voluntary contributions were once generous and reliable, the Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A., the Navy League, the Belgian relief and French orphans have all been clamoring for their share. Voluntary donations have dropped to almost nil. Yet in the meantime, also, Prof. Jaffa, on a careful investigation, assures us that what could be purchased for $32.99 in 1916, now costs $42.32.

And fathers have gone to war and mothers have gone to work, and the day nurseries are overcrowded. Charity has suffered colossal demands on its generosity during the last three years, and the Red Cross organizations have been making their tremendous appeal. But after all, these, our own little children, should not be called upon to bear the brunt of war times if we can help it. They have an inalienable right to the best that we have for them. They are absolutely at our mercy. We are in danger of forgetting that.

The Public Welfare Commission is reminding us. That is all—that should be needed. Its headquarters are situated at No. 21 Temple street. Maybe some of us would rather enjoy standing sponsor for a milk bill and "inasmuch as we have done it unto the least of these."

Speed Up WORK RUSHED ON SOLDIERS' KITS.

LOCAL RED CROSS FILLS A BIG ORDER FOR ARMY.

Los Angeles Requested to Furnish Sixty Thousand Garments for the American Troops—When This Job is Finished Society will then Lead Assistance to Russians.

Throwing their energies and soul into the task, the workers at the Los Angeles Red Cross headquarters are speeding up in an effort to complete quickly the recent request from the national headquarters for 1,000,000 "comfort kits" to be furnished American soldiers in the field. Los Angeles' part of the huge order calls for 15,000 complete kits, or 60,000 garments, including socks, sweaters, wristlets and mittens, all hand-knitted.

The size of the big "drive" hall in no sense overwhelmed the local workers, whose aim is to complete the job before cold weather sets in. The headquarters here is being "fed" through 141 auxiliary and branch organizations composed of several thousand women and men workers, all volunteers. The work has been organized along the lines of an up-to-date factory, with the result that the headquarters has been brought up to a high state of efficiency.

When this first order of 1,000,000 comfort kits is completed the Red Cross will begin the task of furnishing another million for the Russian revolutionary army.

All comfort bags are being made in khaki colors instead of in cretonnes, following instructions to this effect from the national headquarters. It was explained that the more garish colors offered too conspicuous a mark for the safety of the wearer.

The Red Cross headquarters desires the public to understand that these comfort kits, as well as socks, all of which are made by volunteer workers, are furnished free to invalid soldiers. This has already been explained, but that it is not clearly understood is indicated by frequent requests for information on the subject. The Executive Committee, in an official bulletin, states emphatically that no recipient of these articles is expected to pay for them.

The Easiest Way. [Philadelphia Record:] If one of your little folks needs an undergarment which you have just completed, all but those "peaky buttonholes," and the garment can be worn without them, try this: On the machine stitch the desired length of the buttonhole, then on a scratch across, up again and finish across. Slit with sharp scissors between the stitching. These buttonholes can be worn this way for several days, and will be all the stronger after you buttonhole over the machine stitching.

MANY ENTERTAINMENTS FOR SOLDIERS AT FORT.

DURING the coming week the men quartered at the lower reservation of Fort MacArthur are going to see some exceptionally good entertainments between the new Y.M.C.A. tent and the big assembly tent of the regiment. There is so much amusement and entertainment furnished that many of the men seldom take advantage of liberty hours to leave the camp.

Tomorrow night Robbever, the musical director of the Billy Sunday organization, has promised to visit the harbor and sing for the men. Tuesday night there will be motion pictures. Proof that the films are as popular in army life as anywhere is shown in the fact that every night when the movies are shown there are 500 to 700 of the 1100 men in camp in attendance.

Miss Anita King, the Balboa film star, and Harry McCoy will furnish over 100 citizens from the Quaker town came over in automobiles and trucks with loads of watermelons, fruit, sweets and cake. The big delegation arrived late in the afternoon and was met by the regimental band, which gave a patriotic concert for their benefit. The visitors were afterward shown through the camp.

Several towns have sent their companies loads of fruit and other delicacies that are not provided on the camp bill of fare.

RED CROSS JUNIORS.

Campaign is Planned to Have Public School Children Join New Order.

A vigorous campaign to organize the Junior Red Cross among Los Angeles public school children will be launched within the next few days. The object of the organization is to arouse all grades of school children to an active interest in the humanitarian work being conducted through the Red Cross. The local organization will form a part of the national body organized by Dr. H. N. MacCracken, president of Vassar College, and warmly approved by President Wilson.

ON EFFICIENCY TOUR.

Manager Broadway Department Store Leaves for North and East to Study Systems.

In keeping with the trend of progress established by the Broadway Department Store, W. Y. Smith, general superintendent, will make an extensive tour of the East, leaving today, the object being to study business conditions and the various methods of system and service. Mr. Smith will first visit the large stores of San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, proceeding eastward to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Boston, then back to New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Denver.

Possessing a fine scrutiny in the selection of employees, Mr. Smith has gathered about him one of the finest bodies of men and women in any store of the present day, and his study of system and service in the many stores he will visit will undoubtedly serve to advance the efficiency of the Broadway Department Store in keeping with the splendid standard of its business.

ARMENIAN FUNDS GONE; AMERICA MUST ASSIST.

ARMENIA is worse off than ever. The funds of the relief society at Constantinople have been depleted and there is little, if any, money left in the treasury of the American committee. The only thing left to do they say, is to make direct appeal to the people of Los Angeles and to those of every other city of the United States.

The first move that will be made by the Armenian societies will be to call for a week of benefit carnivals and entertainments to be held sometime in October. The plans for this elaborate system of raising money have not yet been worked out, but it can be said that Los Angeles will furnish one of the most elaborate of the proposed benefits.

A pathetic preface to the appeal that the Armenians and the Syrians propose to make throughout America and other countries is contained in this part of the advice received here. "Extremism or material diminution of Christian peace is greatly deplored as the hope of the future upbuilding lies with the progressive element which is most useful for regenerating the empire. American and Swiss missionaries remain on the ground for the purpose of keeping up the work for the destitute as in the past. They are now imploring that we continue the usual appropriations."

The reports further say that Constantinople can no longer be depended upon to raise more money. The outline of what is urgently needed is given in a brief statement that says that the expense on a moderate basis for repatriation, rebuilding homes, seed, animals and tools necessary for supporting life will amount to $3,000,000. The present need is for the keeping of the people alive, besides food, clothing and shelter. This will require $1,000,000 per month. It will take $35,000 monthly to keep the orphans alive.

Letters and telegrams from various consuls in Egypt, Persia and throughout Syria have been received by local and eastern committees urging that something be done before it is too late. These communications say that among the articles required are farming implements, weaver tools and machines for manufacturing clothing and footwear.

Official estimates place the number of Armenians and Syrians in the Caucasus at 250,000 and in Eastern Turkey at 100,000. These numbers are constantly being increased by new arrivals.

Military rule is adding to the sufferings of the refugees, and the soldiers help themselves to what takes their fancy. Homes have been confiscated and cattle driven off of lands to no one knows where.

Announcement of the plans of the national Armenian societies for the October benefit celebrations will be made public as soon as the various committees have reached a definite program.

MEN WANTED FOR NEW ENGINEER COMPANIES.

MEN with engineering experience are sought in Los Angeles for an army mining company and two quarry companies that will form a part of the Twenty-third Regiment of Engineers, U.S.A. Organization of these companies was begun yesterday by the recruiting office of the engineer department of the army at No. 745 Central Building.

A mining company plays an important part in modern warfare. Its men have to drive tunnels under the enemy's works to demolish them with blasts of dynamite. In addition, they will have to repair coal mines which have been closed down or partially destroyed by the enemy forces.

The quarry companies secure the materials for the construction of observation points, roads, wharves and buildings, and assist in building the bases for the big guns.

Skilled workmen such as surveyors, engineers, rock drill men, miners, electricians, timber men, masons, stone cutters, teamsters, etc., are wanted. Every man must enlist as a private and will have an equal chance with the other men in the company to win a commission.

Mustered into the service and wearing the uniform of Uncle Sam, Halleck J. Finley, one of the many young men who have left the employ of The Times to enter the army, will within a few days report with his regiment, the Twenty-fifth United States Engineers, at Washington, D. C. Mr. Finley is in the camouflage department of the engineering service, being an artist of considerable ability and experience and having enlisted in the branch.

Together with David E. Taylor, a scenic carpenter of the Triangle Film Corporation, and also a camouflage recruit, he left Los Angeles on the Southern-Pacific last Thursday with the draft contingents for American Lake. The two left the train at San Francisco and last Saturday passed their final examinations for the service in the bay city.

Mr. Finley had been with the advertising department of The Times for about two years.

Another former Times man who has volunteered is Austin E. Longcroft of No. 207 West Twenty-fifth street, who has joined Co. F, One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, a part of the Rainbow Division which until recently was at Hempstead, L. I.

DR. ROSS MOORE GOING TO WAR.

Prominent Local Specialist to go to Fort Douglas and Later to France.

Dr. Ross Moore has been given a commission as major in the United States army medical division, and will in a few days.

Dr. Moore was at first surprised when he received his official papers Thursday. He had been expecting to be summoned to the front to which he was to go. His destination is Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City.

Dr. Moore has made a study of nerve and mental diseases. He will do special work in this particular line at Fort Douglas. He is likely to be one of the best of the division assigned to service. Dr. Moore has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1903.

SEA STUDENTS SOON TO BE REAL MARINERS.

BERTHS AS OFFICERS PROMISING FOR THEM.

Classes Preparing to Take Examination. Those of San Diego Included — The Changing of Ships' Routes May Create Positions.

This week will see a number of students from the government navigation school at the harbor over their examinations at the offices of the United States navy. It is believed that there will be berths as officers for all graduates of the government school.

The graduates of the school will also come to Los Angeles for examination. Besides these, the local board of inspectors of the navy has been holding examinations at the harbor. Both the army and navy have commandeered many ships for the service.

The navy operates these ships as auxiliaries. The army is using the ones taken over from the service as transport and supply ships.

While the changing of the officers means many changes of the ships, and many of the graduates are expected to be promoted to the rank of lieutenant in this way before the government ships now being completed. In the future, the navy will have a fleet of fifty-eight composite ships, which will turn over to the navy as vessels as they are needed.

During the past two months have been awarded contracts for the construction of 2500 weight capacity cargo ships. This time contracts had been awarded for the construction of 2500 weight capacity cargo ships. Previous to this, the navy had already been let for the construction of 2500 weight capacity cargo ships. The navy is now under construction in the United States.

Queen Quality

SHOES

Ready in All Their Autumn Beauty

To Win the Confidence and Admiration of Southern California Women

Queen Quality means full measure of value—style and quality combined to a marked degree.

Since The Broadway first announced Queen Quality shoes for women, we have been hard pressed to keep pace with the demand.

Certain it is that they are recognized as one of the world's greatest organizations, making women's fine shoes exclusively.

—And what a wealth of beautiful styles are here now ready for choosing—the maximum of style, quality and beauty.

—We mention a few of the many leading styles. Selected particularly to fill the needs of Southern California women.

Interiors

That Are Out of the Commonplace

—Homes that are distinctive because of some decorative scheme that has been carried out. Not necessarily more expensive than if the room had been fitted out in a haphazard way.

—With the longer fall and winter evenings the interior furnishings of your home are more important.

—Our Decorative department will plan decorative scheme for one room or for the refurbishing of your whole home. There is no additional charge for the service. It is thorough and artistic, as scores of owners of Los Angeles homes are able to testify.

NEW CURTAINS—In the voiles and marquisettes are being unpacked. DRAPERIES OF THE BETTER SORT—are here in such beauty and extent—stiveness that words are insufficient to convey the message.

This is National Wall Paper week.

Out of the Ordinary New Furniture

—Fit to grace the rooms of the most exclusive homes, has been coming in, side by side with moderately priced furniture.

—The Furniture Department is splendidly ready to supply every need for the new furniture that autumn is demanding.

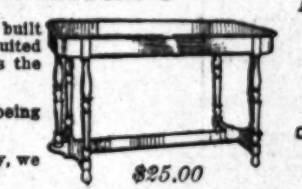

—Including

Made to Order Furniture

—In which the design that you have in mind, may be built and then the covering of the very material that is best suited to the hangings of your room or the floor coverings, as the case may be.

—Notable examples of this made-to-order furniture are being shown in beautiful new davenport.

- Among the new furniture that will be prominent Monday, we emphasize
- Mahogany Davenport Table, $38.50
- Mahogany Tea Wagon, $16.00

"Completeness"

That's the Word That Is Directing Attention to These Most Unusual Fifth Floor Departments of Housefurnishings & Chinaware

—As one woman expressed it: "The minute I think of housefurnishings or china, I think of your fifth floor. I have no difficulty in finding anything I want my heart on, in these lines."

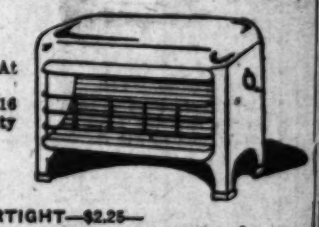

—If we were to name the many little kitchen helps, the table ware, glassware, dinnerware, odd china, bric-a-brac, etc., that are here for your choosing, it would take pages and pages of space.

—Here we direct attention to just a few of the important notes for October's first week.

Hot Spot Gas Heaters

—The open front stoves in eight different sizes. At $3.95, $4.50, $5.00 and upward to $8.50.

—This was one of the most popular stoves of the 1916 season and will undoubtedly increase in popularity this year. These have copper back reflector.

ONE CUP FLOUR SIFTERS 10c

—They have a handle. Flour can be sifted as needed. 200 to sell at this price.

BAKING CASSEROLES $1.48

—These are priced in an economy way. Mounted on brass nickel plated frame, 7-inch size. Several different colors.

—While the larger sizes are to be sold at $1.83 and $1.94.

THE SPARK AIRTIGHT—$2.25

—With the strong cast iron feet. The stove that is lined higher up. Investigate this heater before purchasing your new stove.

CAST IRON TOP HEATER $5

—Twenty-five different models, embodying many distinctive features characteristic of styles which have been decreed correct for fall.

—There's charm and beauty in every one of these frocks which we have underpriced for Monday. Quality, too, and excellent workmanship add considerably to their desirability.

—Those in silk are developed in splendid quality taffeta in practical styles. The colors are varied—navy, Copenhagen, gold, gray, rose, brown, green, as well as black and white, also many in colored stripes.

—The wool dresses are of beautiful French or men's wear serge in navy, brown, green and Burgundy. There are dresses in coat effects, Bolero, tunic, or those fashioned on loose, flowing lines. The silk frocks have sleeves and collars of Georgette crepe, while those of serge have silk collars and are prettily embroidered with silk floss or gilt thread. Good range of sizes in the lot. Dresses which we cannot duplicate, and the price should prove attractive.

In The Broadway Basement Apparel Section Are Dresses, Suits and Coats at $18.75

Garments which have been fashioned on correct lines for fall wear, and with many touches of individuality. Dresses, suits and coats of new, desirable materials and in the season's most called-for shades. Good workmanship characterizes these garments, and there are good ranges of sizes from which to select.

Satin & Taffeta Silk Dresses, $18.75

Fifteen different models altogether. The color range includes navy, taupe, brown, plum, Burgundy, Copenhagen, as well as black.

Collars and sleeves are of Georgette crepe. Silk floss, or gilt thread embroidery constitute the trimmings. Regular and a few extra sizes.

The Broadway Basement

48 and 50-inch Lengths in Women's Coats at $18.75

Materials are beautiful broadcloth, kersey, velvet and those of the popular silk plush.

Some are on loose flowing lines, others in high-waist lines, and some are semi-fitted.

Full-belted and semi-belted coats, many have large cape collars. Fancy buttons, plush and kersey are used as trimmings on many.

Women's Plain and Fancifully Tailored Suits $18.75

Suits of serge, burella, gabardines and hairline effects.

The majority of them are full lined with silk or satin. They measure 32 and 34 inches long.

Fancy buttons constitute the trimming of many, others are enhanced with novelty braids. Good range of sizes in the lot.

The Broadway Basement

Women's Genuine Beacon Bathrobes at $1.79

Needless to say, this price is considerably less than the figures at which these robes were marked to sell in the regular way.

The name "Beacon" assures excellence of quality and a wide range of attractive designs and colorings. These are in Indian patterns, plaids and flower designs. Light and dark colorings, and in sizes from 36 to 42.

The Broadway Basement

An Interesting Underpricing For Monday of 350 Beautiful Voile Waists 95c

Only because size ranges have become incomplete do we offer these charming waists at so much less than the regular markings.

There are fully twenty-five different models from which to select. Waists of fine quality voile, some of them trimmed in color, though the majority are white. Many are plain, others are trimmed with dainty laces of embroidery.

Large collars, frilly fronts, sports collars, etc., add to the attractiveness of a number of the waists. Sizes range from 36 to 46.

We picture four of the models, and the other styles are as pretty as they are varied.

These are not ordinary 95c waists by any means, and early selection on Monday will give you a wide choice.

Monday We Offer Six Dozen Untrimmed Hats at $2.25

So smart, and so decidedly correct that you will surely want one when you see them at this price, for these are hats which would ordinarily sell at higher figures—but they are sample hats; and most women know that a sale of sample hats means a choice of a good range of styles—and there's a good range in this lot, for they're nearly all different. Then, too, manufacturers are generally particular to send out as many of the best models in each line.

These, which we will feature for Monday, are mostly black. Made of good quality velvet, and at $2.25 they're priced particularly reasonable.

New Hat Trimmings are Here at 65c to $2.25

The patriotic fervor of motion-picture producers and exhibitors seems to be on the decline of late. If one is to judge by the character of pictures that are billed for the present week in local photoplay theaters. The spy craze, too, has somewhat abated and even the vampires are taking a rest. The features offered at Los Angeles picture palaces this week are about evenly divided between mystery stories and war pictures, dealing with various phases of the civil war and its effect upon those who are so wicked or so unfortunate as to be caught in their wrongdoings. With the exception of "The Honor System" at Miller's, "Baby Mine" at Quinn's Rialto, and "The Bar Sinister" at Tally's, all the picture houses offer new programmes this week. Among the stars to be seen on local screens are the well-known Douglas Fairbanks, Rupert Julian, Jack Pickford, Milton Sills, J. Warren Kerrigan, Winifred Kingston, Ethel Barrymore, Louise Huff, Miriam Cooper, Madge Kennedy, Alice Howell, Brownie Vernon and many others.

Clune's Auditorium.
The biggest picture of the year. That is what Manager Clune thinks and frankly says about "A Man's Man," the feature photoplay at Clune's Auditorium this week. The play stars J. Warren Kerrigan as the intrepid young American and he has excellent support in Lola Wilson. This is the first of the much-exploited Paralta releases and it is said that Mr. Clune, obtained the picture only after much spirited bidding by managers of leading Los Angeles picture theaters.

Clune's Broadway.
Another real thriller at Clune's Broadway this week. It is called "The Ghost House," a story from the pen of the versatile Benish Marie Dix and it stars "Happy Jack" Pickford and Louise Huff. The "spook" story is said to be particularly well suited to the clever young stars who take the leading roles and who are supported by a well-chosen cast that includes Mrs. Lewis McCord, "Smarmy Dodo," who is a confirmed believer in "spirits."

Miller's.
"The Honor System" is to run for one more week at Miller's Theater. So entertaining has this big production been and so much interest has been stirred up by the lesson contained in the drama, that it could probably run for several weeks. The big business, but the Miller management has already arranged for the premiere on October 7 of Henry Christen Warnack's other spectacle called "The Conqueror," a story of the life of Sam Houston. "The Honor System," a remarkable story of prison life, is presented by a big galaxy of Fox stars, the cast including Charles Clary, Miriam Cooper, George Walsh, Arthur Mackley, James Marcus, Gladys Brockwell and Milton Sills.

Tally's Broadway.
If there's anyone in Los Angeles who does not know what "race" means, he can have the mystery solved for him by dropping into Tally's Broadway Theater this week and seeing "The Bar Sinister," a story dealing with race disturbances in the South and which is said to present the question in a fair and interesting light. "See this picture," advises Mr. Tally, "and you will no longer be in the dark about the white folk and the black white folks."

Quinn's Rialto.
The second and last week of "Baby Mine," featuring Madge Kennedy, will start at Quinn's Rialto Theater tomorrow. This clever story, from the pen of Margaret Mayo, wife of Edgar Selwyn, ran for two seasons in New York on the legitimate stage and it is said that in its picture form it has retained all the cleverness and detail of the stage production, with the addition of many excellent scenes that were impossible in the legitimate presentation. The story chosen for the week to follow "Baby Mine" is "Fighting Odds," from the pen of Irvin S. Cobb and Roi Cooper and starring Maxine Elliott.

Superba.
Alice Howell, "the scream of the screen," in "Balloonatics." That's the entertainment promised patrons of the Superba this week. This is a Century comedy, many of which are to be shown at the Superba in the near future. As a special attraction this week, the Superba will offer the big Bluebird detective drama called "The Mysterious Mr. Tiller," the story of a famous jewel robbery featuring Rupert Julian and Ruth Clifford. "The Mysterious Mr. Tiller" gives an insight into the workings of the United States Secret Service, methods of bringing criminals to justice and is said to be one of the best Bluebird productions ever filmed.

Garrick.
Roscoe Arbuckle and "Oh Doctor!" Can you see a connection between the two? There's a very vital connection, for "Oh Doctor!" is the comedy in which that rollicking comedian appears at the Garrick this week. Another big feature to be presented at that theater on the same programme is a Bluebird drama called "Flirting with Death," featuring Herbert Rawlinson and Brownie Vernon.

Symphony.
Not altogether a pretty story, but one that is fascinating and dramatic in the extreme is the picturization of Basil King's famous novel "The Lifted Veil," in which Ethel Barrymore appears at the Symphony Theater this week. It is the story of a woman's repressed passion, how she won her way back from the slough of despair into the ways of light and gladness through her own innate goodness and force of character. Added attractions at the Symphony will be a Drew comedy and a government authorized picture of the naval training station at San Pedro.

Palace.
This week there comes to the Palace Theater another rip-roaring comedy, presenting Douglas Fairbanks in "Down to Earth," considered the funniest offering of that clever comedian. In this picture it is said that "Doug" not only excels all his previous efforts on the screen, but also proves his ability as an author. The story is that of a young man who loved mother nature in her various moods and phases. He also loves a young girl whose ideal of living seems to be completely at variance with that of her fiance. It takes "Doug" some time to convince this society beauty that "there's nothing like living in the country," but he finally succeeds, to his everlasting joy, and the gratitude of the pink tea favorite.

Alhambra.
As "Roaring Bill," the hero of Bertrand Sinclair's famous novel, "North of Fifty-three," Dustin Farnum is said to have the most satisfying role of his picture career. This is the star and the picture which begins a week's run at the Alhambra Theater today. Thrilling and throbs are said to fill every minute of this vibrant story of life in the open, amidst the deep snows of the North. It is a new tale, filled with rapid action and tense situations, and its settings are said to be among the most beautiful ever seen on a picture screen. The star is surrounded by a cast that includes Winifred Kingston and Frank Lanning. An added attraction will be the fifth installment of the official government war films.

Well-known Actors in Kerrigan Play.
Kenneth Harlan and Eugene Pallete, who have important roles in "A Man's Man," featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, and adapted from Peter B. Kyne's well-known novel, were for several seasons with D. W. Griffith's company of players. "A Man's Man" will be shown at Clune's Auditorium starting Monday.

In the construction of the Central American city which is one of the leading features in "A Man's Man," more than 500 carpenters and other workmen were engaged for several weeks in building the city according to enlarged photographs secured from cities in Yucatan and other countries of Central America. The principal buildings in the city are the chief executive's palace, the arsenal, and surrounding wall. The structures were erected along the lines of Spanish renaissance.

"A Man's Man" marks the initial production of the well-known star, J. Warren Kerrigan, and his own independent company, and is presented under the auspices of the newly-formed Paralta company.

Sketching Elsie Janis Out-of-doors.

which this international favorite puts one on "Easy street," which is admirable considering the constant stream of all sorts of people who want to bother her about one thing or another. The other day I said Douglas Fairbanks in work or play traveled at the highest rate of speed of any person I had ever met. I take it back enough to put Elsie

Janis on a "fifty-fifty" basis where busy hours are concerned. When most stars finish their work on stage or screen they desire, most of all, relaxation. Not so, Elsie Janis. Scarcely has she had time to don street attire in her dressing room, when an Italian instructor is

By Grace Kingsley.

Is it the witty and inimitable Channing Pollock who says that pictures are built, not written? That applies fairly well to the making of pictures, too. Only a picture structure is built, so to speak, off the lot and moved on, so that you have not heard the noise of its building.

Guessing at the two-dimensional drama do you fancy a picture has no mysterious region known as behind the scenes? Don't believe it. Back of the making of every big feature picture lies a cross-section of human history. There are bits of tragedy, glimmers of romance, beginning and endings of plots enough to fill a book.

Take Henry Warnack's "The Honor System," produced by Russell Walsh for the Fox company, for instance. In the making of this smashing photodrama enter a score of fascinating factors. Just looked at from the human angle, the picture pack tells me that in writing the story he wove into his text the tangled skeins of more than a score of lives that have come under his observation.

His character of Joe Stanton, so beautifully acted by Milton Sills, was a man named Joe Miller, who was a life-terminer sent up from Prescott, Ariz., and who served under the old regime at Yuma. Miller got his first breath of life, after fourteen years of death and lifelessness, when the new governor, Capt. Thomas H. Ryning, who was promoted from captain of Arizona Rangers to be warden of the Arizona penitentiary, and who was the original of the Sheriff and Reform Warden of Mr. Warnack's story.

For the mother of Joe Stanton, Warnack went all the way to Boston and took a woman of many sorrows. Her husband had been a convict who was killed by the Indians in an early survey of the Union Pacific line from Denver to San Francisco. Her only son came to evil influences when young and finally wound up serving a long sentence at San Quentin in this state.

Only the angels of mercy know what sacrifices this woman made to save her son, but in the end a glorious thing happened. In his dark prison life, the soul of the boy awoke and he emerged from grim penitentiary walls to become one of Arizona's greatest social workers. He has been going straight now for nearly ten years and is a big influence in the civic life of Boston.

The girl Trilix is also a study from life. Her father is a well-known California miner, and the girl came under evil influences while living in the mining country. Usually stories turn out more pleasant than facts, but in this case the girl really did reform and is now happily married.

Gov. Hunt of Arizona made possible the taking of some of the most important scenes in "The Honor System," through his interest in the great work that William Fox produced.

When the time came for the making of the picture, the State of Arizona, at Florence, was practically turned over to the cameraman and directors of the Fox Film Corporation, and not only this, but every opportunity and assistance were given to the making of the picture. Forster's cameras were given the entire to the prison. All the old and discarded pieces were photographed, and these appear in the picture in contrast to the newer and more wonderful conditions that prevail at this time.

The use of the mouse and of cockroaches as a part of prison life are absorbing and picturesque if seemingly unimportant phases of the story. Mr. Warnack got the idea of the mouse from a convict he knew who had been thrust into a dungeon in Mexico and who afterwards told the author that the capture and taming of the tiny rodent was the only thing that saved his sanity while in that hell. He used to save crumbs from his fragrant meals in order that his small cagemate might dine. The mouse was used in the film had a special trainer for several days, because a tame white rat would of course serve.

Hundreds of people who have seen "The Honor System" have asked how on earth the author of the picture ever came to think of cockroaches as messengers for the prisoners. Warnack found that cockroaches always travel in straight lines. He had been told that by the prisoners, and he observed that it was true. Also he found that the prisoners, at Yuma had a way of swapping cigarettes by fixing the "mattings" between the cockroach's legs and turning him loose in the direction they wanted him to go.

Understanding Jove.

While the Prophet Joshua, who commanded the sun to stand still in its orbit and got results, still has something on Richard Stanton, Fox director, yet the gentleman just named is quite satisfied with his power. This is nothing less than the ability to shut off all the lights in Hollywood when "Dick" is running one of his big picture storms.

"Responsibility" is the appropriate name of the picture which Stanton is now engaged in directing at the Fox studio, during the course of taking night storm scenes for which the good citizens of Hollywood were cut off in the matter of light, one night last week.

"But we've got it fixed now so that we shan't have any more troubles," said Stanton. "I don't especially enjoy understanding Jove, and an electrician has rigged up a device by which the Fox studio can lighten at it wants to without discommodating such citizens of Hollywood as sit up after curfew. But I want to say right here that I'm glad there isn't any thunder whined on with the lightning or I don't know what the Hollywood constituency might not do to me!"

Patriotism Notice.

It's awful, isn't it, when you're just as patriotic as ever you can be—knitting, mending, saving aviation, and everything—that you have to be taken for a spy? That's what happened to Anita King. Balboa star last week.

Now as it happens, Miss King can

MUSICAL.

MATZENAUER COMING.

NOTED CONTRALTO WILL OPEN
PHILHARMONIC COURSE.

When Miss. Margarete Matzenauer, the distinguished contralto from the Metropolitan Opera-house, sings at Trinity Auditorium, Tuesday evening, October 2, Los Angeles patrons of music will enjoy one of the finest treats of the entire season.

This gifted artist during her eight years residence on this side has succeeded in gaining a popular following which bids fair to equal that of the favorite, Schumann-Heink. While most of her activities have been confined to the opera, during the last two seasons she has given more time to the concert stage, especially as her debut on the recital platform was as complete a victory as her operatic appearances. To sing in opera is one thing, to sing effectively in concert room is quite another, yet this illustrious exponent of music-drama has proven without form or shadow of doubt her complete compatibility with her art.

Her voice is exceptionally beautiful, rich, warm and noble of volume, extraordinary in range, for which she is one of a singer who, engaged to sing contralto roles at the opera, has appeared time and time again in the concert room, made so famous by the royal Lillian Nordica. In short, the music patrons will hear one of the most remarkable voices of the time.

In addition to her splendid vocal organ and charming personality, Miss. Matzenauer is an interpreter of the highest order, her musicianship—she is an excellent pianist—allowing no slightest nuance of the composer's to be overlooked.

Another feature which has quickly attracted the appreciation of the concert-going public is the Matzenauer programme. They are unexcelled, while they do include the standard numbers which never fall in vogue, there are always lovely, seldom heard selections as witness the Debussy "Jeune Fille" and "La Chaconne," "Nuit d'été" by Fauré and "La Danseuse" by Fauré, a group of new La Fauré songs, the group and three of the finest Wagnerian numbers, "Träume," "Schmerzen," and the always thrilling "Liebestod" from "Tristan und Isolde."

Season tickets including six other internationally famous artists may be purchased at the Trinity box office or single tickets for this splendid artist's one appearance in this city.

Grand Opera Coming.
Three distinctly interesting and successful prima donnas will be presented by Messrs. Behrmer and Berry during the two weeks' engagement of the La Scala Grand Opera Company, which opens at Grand Auditorium, November 12.

Maria Morgana, the coloratura soprano, was a discovery of the astute Oscar Hammerstein, who gave her his short regime more new and spectacular roles to the music world than any other two impresarios. Her voice is most delightful and accompanied by histrionic ability and skillfulness of the make her heart most appealing "Lucca" and "Lucca's Girl" in "The Girl of the Year."

Her voice is most delightful and accompanied by histrionic ability and skillfulness of the make her heart most appealing "Lucca" and "Lucca's Girl" in "The Girl of the Year."

She is at present creating a sensation in New York City in the role of "La Tosca" and "Carmen," a both of which parts she will appear with the La Scala in this city. In the latter role both public and critics have been unanimous in their approval of her interpretation. The prominent critic stating that "not since the days of Bressler-Hall at the Manhattan has New York seen or heard such a satisfying Carmen. She pictures the Spanish cigarette girl as a sensuous and sinister creature intensely dramatic and wonderfully restrained. It was a Carmen gone mad, but never nevertheless, who even in her most abandoned moments held some of inevitable tragedy, which she has a peculiar dignity."

Alma Gluck gives.
Alma Gluck has declared her intention of giving $25,000 to the American Red Cross Fund, which places her at the head of the musicians who have given, and well in the lead with other individual donors.

Director Carlin Donamore Editor of Clune's Auditorium Symphony Orchestra and Eddie Horton, who resides at the organ, are hard at work preparing the special musical programme for the coming week for "A Man's Man," the first of the much-anticipated Parilla releases, with J. Warren Kerrigan as the virginal American adventurer.

Mr. Clune has given carte blanche to the preparation of a programme of unusual excellence and the results will be entirely commensurate with the first production of what is undoubtedly the biggest picture of the season. There will be solo, organ recitals and recitals, wonderful depictions for the military scenes, which will appear in a south American revolution, original scenes, all of which will be rendered by an augmented orchestra at the auditorium.

It is the desire of Mr. Clune to make the musical features one of the leading attractions for the Auditorium and he has not limited the scope.

The Women's Symphony Orchestra presents recitals for this season's concerts next Wednesday at Grand Hall. The orchestra has been considerably enlarged, especially in the string section, and the new and brass choirs have been improved.

Three symphony concerts will be given by the orchestra, and other musicals of an informal nature are planned. Well-known soloists will appear at all concerts and the American composers of merit will be featured on these programmes.

Associate members and subscribers may register at room No. 300 Blanchard Building. The board of directors elected for this season include Miss Daisy Walters, president; Miss Grace Dering, vice-president; Miss Sadie Stanton, secretary; Mrs. Albert Zena, treasurer. Miss Bessie Fuhrer will remain as concert master and Henry Schoenfeld will again wield the baton.

Lester Donahue Coming.

Lester Donahue, the gifted young pianist, returns to Los Angeles to give a recital at Trinity Auditorium, October 16. Noteworthy is the praise of the best critics, who proclaim him one of the most interesting exponents of artistry in the country today.

Mr. Fisher's Recital.

S. Brooks Fisher, tenor, appeared in recital last evening at the residence of Carl Bronson, No. 341 Beacon street, with a programme of classic songs. Mr. Fisher has a very splendid voice and is about to embark in concert work on a more pretentious scale than that in which he has been appearing.

He is a member of the First M. E. Church choir and his magnificent voice has frequently been observed to be the soul and spirit of the choral work in the church, where, without being noisy, it rings musically true over and above the others. Last night he sang the "Trout Song," "Who is Sylvia" and "The Lark" from Schubert's works; "The Secret," by Scott, The Schubert, serenade and "The Wanderer" by the same composer; "The Echo," by Somerset; "Drink to Me," by Carl Bronson, and Beethoven's much-neglected "Adelaide."

His accompanist is Miss Nellie Steger, described as one of the best of the Pacific Coast. She entertained the company also with Chopin's E minor waltz and the Fantasia Impromptu by the same composer.

The cream of symphonic music is to be tendered the music-loving and other Southern California cities by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra this coming season. As already announced, the orchestra will open December 7 and there will be given but six regularly-scheduled concerts, the Saturday-evening programme being temporarily abandoned owing to the unsettled conditions of the country at this time.

Through arrangements made with W. H. Clune, the spacious Auditorium at Fifth and Olive streets has been secured for the forthcoming series of concerts, and these matinee events are scheduled for 2 o'clock the Friday afternoons of December 7, January 4, February 2, March 2, April 13 and May 3.

While only the one concert will be given each month, the orchestra, pair, matinee and evening, as last season, yet the greater seating capacity of Clune's Auditorium will provide practically the same accommodations for each programme as last year.

The symphony office at 303 Blanchard Building is receiving many requests for season tickets, and Manager Blanchard, who anticipates capacity houses for each of the six concerts, is urging that the symphony's patrons, both old and new, will make their reservations as early as possible so that they themselves may obtain a choice of locations and at the same time facilitate the plans for the season.

With G. Allan Hancock succeeding Dr. Norman Bridge as president of the orchestra, there are but one or two other changes in the personnel of the board or in the orchestra itself this year. Mr. Hancock, in his election to the presidency of the board, is succeeded by Clifford Lott as treasurer, the duties of this office being added by Mr. Lott to his former ones as first vice-president. Mrs. Bessie Bartlett Frankel and Edward G. Kuster have been added to the directorship.

In the matter of programmes this year the symphony is promising many rare and beautiful numbers, the curtailment of the concerts to six has been selected for the forthcoming series of the always-requested favorites are to be presented this year, yet there will be quite a number of new programmes.

Another feature which Manager Blanchard and the directors plan to add to the season's programme, which will undoubtedly give an added interest, will be the introduction of a soloist for each of the programmes.

The soloist for the first of the events will be Desiderio Vesci, the famous pianist, who will play Saint-Saena's Concerto for Piano No. 3, a rarely-beautiful number which has never been heard in Los Angeles, and for that matter, has, so far as known, never been played in America. This last of Saint-Saena's works (No. 3) is a masterpiece of execution, but the resemblance is more apparent in color than in theme. Schubert's Unfinished Symphony in B Minor also will be one of the stellar offerings for the opening programme of Friday afternoon, December 7.

Axel Simonson is to be the soloist for the fifth concert of the series, a Tchaikovsky programme, which will feature the Fifth Symphony, the Nutcracker Suite and the 1112 Overture. Mr. Simonson's number will be Rococo Variations for cello and orchestra, a new offering to Southern California, and one that is not only difficult of execution, but remarkably beautiful as well.

For the concluding programme of the season, May 3, the novelty feature will be one new to local music-lovers. It is "A la Chinoise," an extraordinary modernist work by Granstin.

Following are the programmes for the six concerts in full, these being subject to change:
October 7—Unfinished Symphony in B Minor (Schubert); Concerto for Piano No. 3 (Saint-Saena); Desiderio Vesci, soloist; "Les Preludes" (Debussy); "Sibelius" (Sibelius).
October 14—In Springtime Overture (Goldmark); Symphony No. 5 in E Flat (Beethoven); "The Nutcracker" (Tchaikovsky); "Die Abende" (MacDowell); "Caucasian Sketches" (Ippolitov).
October 21—"Solennelle" Overture (Grieg); Symphony in G Minor (Mozart); "Scenes Historiques" (Sibelius); "Espana" (Chabrier).
October 28—Rococo Variations for cello and orchestra (Tchaikovsky); Axel Simonson, soloist; Nutcracker Suite (Tchaikovsky); 1112 Overture (Tchaikovsky).
November 4—Symphony No. 2 in E Minor (Rachmaninoff); "Good Friday Spell," from "Parafire" (Wagner); "A la Chinoise" (Granstin); "Death and Transfiguration" (Strauss).

Schubert Club Opens.
The Schubert Club opens the season of 1917-1918 at its regular headquarters at the Alexandria ballroom, Wednesday afternoon, October 10, at 2:30 o'clock, giving the regular recital programmes the second and fourth Wednesdays of the months during the season.

The drama section of the Schubert Club will meet at the Hotel Alexandria the first and third Tuesday evenings of the months at 8 o'clock.

The officers and committees are as follows:
Mrs. J. T. Anderson, president; Mrs. William Duffield, first vice-president; Bessie Fuhrer, second vice-president; Rosalyn Madden Sargent, recording secretary; Belle N. Hall, corresponding and financial secretary; Mrs. Beatrice de Troost, treasurer; Arlene Greer, auditor; Grace Abbie Andrews, chairman programmes; Gertrude Ross, musical programmes; Mrs. William H. Anderson, chairman drama section; Mrs. G. Hallett Johnson, chairman dramatic committee; Mrs. William Mabee (Grace Widney), chairman resident-composer section; Mabelle G. Channell, chairman student (music) extension section; Margaret C. LaGrange, chairman student (drama) extension section; Mrs. Joseph Zuckerman, chairman choral section; Mrs. W. N. Cummings, journalist; Lucy Fuhrer-Gentler (strings); Constance Balfour (voice); Edith Rounds Smith (organ); Fannie Dillon (composition); Katherine Fluke (libretto); Membership Committee; Mrs. William Duffield, Mrs. Lloyd Harmon, Belle N. Hall, Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, Rosalyn M. Sargent, Mrs. William H. Anderson, Mrs. Emma Livingston Reed, Mrs. Florence Dobson, Bessie Fuhrer, Virginia Calhoun, Mrs. Allison Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, Mrs. Frank Stephens, Mrs. W. A. MacLagan, Mrs. Carl Johnson and Margaret C. LaGrange, Courtesy Committee.

The year book of the Schubert Club, just completed and distributed by Miss N. Hall, is most comprehensive in programme material and artistic in compilation.

The schedule anticipates the social affairs, which are this season entirely in the hands of the membership, to be largely Red Cross beneficiaries.

An Important Display of The New Patterns In English, French and American China

BEGINNING Monday, we will present one of the most interesting displays of fine China it has ever been the privilege of this store to offer.

Although conditions in England and France have logically minimized the production of export commodities; and although submarine activities have wrought much havoc with imports, we have been successful in obtaining extensive importations of some of the most beautiful patterns in both English and French China we have ever shown.

In the English China, the famous Minton, Coalport, Royal Doulton, Staffordshire, Caudon, Wedgwood and other potteries have contributed their newest and finest productions; and from France, such potteries as Limoges and Haviland are represented at their best.

And certainly, of not least importance is the display of American-made China which shows wonderful progress in artistry and in the science of China making.

Very beautiful creations are shown from the Lenox and Syracuse potteries. And from the Pickard studios there are many especially attractive hand-decorated pieces.

The display is particularly gratifying to us, because of the merchandizing achievement it represents; and we believe it will be very interesting to you because of the beauty and newness of the patterns and the comprehensiveness of the selections.

Particular attention is directed to the displays in our windows this week all of which feature the new China.

At an informal "Welcome Home" party given yesterday afternoon in honor of her daughter and son-in-law, who have recently returned from the State of Washington, Mrs. G. L. Parmelee of No. 219 Fairview avenue, South Pasadena, surprised the guests by announcing the engagement of her daughter, Miss Florence Parmelee, to Clyde Collier, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Parmelee took leave of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Knight, several months ago, when they left for Raymond, Wash., to make it their home. They changed their plans, and returned with their tiny son, Frank. The invitations to the "Welcome Home" party, at which the bride and groom were to be present, were simply and elegantly worded, and the surprise was not until school closes.

Mr. Parmelee, father of the bride-elect, was an original member of the firm of Parmelee-Dohrmann Co. and the family is well known in Southern California. Many affairs are being planned for the bride-to-be, who has long been a popular member of Los Angeles and Pasadena society.

At an elaborate reception was given yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5 by the Delta chapter of the University of Southern California at the chapter house at No. 944 West 36th street. The guests included members of all the other college fraternities of the University of Southern California, and the faculty. The rooms were decorated in green and white, the sorority colors, white roses and ferns being used to carry out an artistic combination. In the receiving line were: Misses O. M. Souden, Andrew Lisa, Ralph Flewelling, Paul Ehlers, A. W. Stedman, Harry Miller, George Eastman, Mrs. E. S. Kerpene, Mrs. Catherine Beers, the president, Miss Marjorie Miller, the first president, Miss Olive Berry, an alumna, Miss Florence Bateman, and Miss Geneva Newton.

A pupil nurse, Miss Lindley has for months been an active worker at Red Cross headquarters. Her hope is to so prepare herself that she may, when opportunity offers, be of real use in some army hospital. She is the daughter of Dr. Walter Lindley.

Glendale Couple Weds. Miss Edna May McMullen and John Carleton Padelford, both of Glendale, became man and wife Tuesday noon at the residence of Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, pastor of the Santa Ana Congregational church in that city. The groom is a member of the Ninth Company of Coast Artillery, stationed at Dead Man's Island, and the only witness to the ceremony were Lieut. Benjamin Blair and Serg. Edward R. Sullivan. The bride will make her home in Glendale until her husband can join her. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Padelford of No. 915 Fairview avenue, Glendale.

Crescents Entertain Guests. Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Crescy of No. 5558 Santa Monica boulevard have as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Swift of the Alta Loma Rancho, and have entertained their guests by motor trip to neighboring beaches. They have moved into their new home recently from No. 159 South Hobart boulevard.

Celebrate Birthdays. Miss Mary Kathryn Reticker entertained twelve little friends recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Reticker, of No. 719 Irwin street, to celebrate her eighth birthday anniversary. The decorations were all in pink, with masses of dainty Cecile Brunner roses carrying out the delicate color scheme. The table was lighted with eight tiny pink candles, and the favors and prizes were of the same shade. The afternoon was spent with feathery plumage, and dotted with yellow daisies, were the dates, "1867-1917" in letters of gold. An appropriate musical programme preceded the ceremony, at the close of which an elaborate wedding dinner was served to fifty guests at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Burket, and here the rooms and well-appointed tables were beautifully decorated with gold coronas and white marguerites. After dinner the bride party repaired to the home of Dr. Bryant, a brother of the bride, where a delightful programme was given, the most interesting numbers being readings by Mrs. Goss. Among those present at the ceremony were seventeen friends who were former residents of New Sharon, Ia., where Mr. and Mrs. Goss lived a number of years. Telegrams and letters of congratulation were received all day long and Mr. and Mrs. Goss were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

At 11 o'clock a little girl in Liberty costume was lifted to a raised platform in the center of the ballroom and favors of Uncle Sam hats and money were tossed from one to the air and caught by the various dancers. Later in the evening one of the beautiful flags covering the center of the ceiling of the ballroom was released, and red, white and blue balloons were tossed from one to another.

of August and September Miss Lazar coached with Percy Grainger in New York City, whose military duties at Fort Hamilton have not yet wholly encompassed him. Miss Lazar has several concert engagements in St. Paul, and while there will be the guest of Mrs. Charles F. Weyerhaeuser, a former winter resident of Pasadena.

Fifty Years Wed. Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Dana Goss of Glendale not only received friends and relatives in the parlors of the First Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon in commemoration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, but at 8 o'clock the same hour they were wed fifty years ago in a little Methodist parsonage at Wabasha, Minn., they stood before Rev. B. Dudley Snadden, renewed their nuptial vows and the wedding ring was again placed on the little hand, with promises to cherish and protect. The color scheme of the decorations throughout was green and gold. There were golden chrysanthemums and yellow daisies in great confusion and the green velvet of the choir loft that was bordered with son. The children attend the Sisters' school, and are becoming popular. The youngest son, a two-study lad who maintains that the study walks that surround the Maryland and lead to the bays, are Billy Herbert and Michael Cudaby, who seldom give their wheels a rest. Billy is to leave shortly for an exclusive boys' school in Santa Barbara, while his sister Anna is to go to Bishop's School for Girls at La Jolla.

Encouraged by last year's success and urged by the pitiful letters which are received from France, suggesting that the last year's offering be repeated, it was decided a few days ago to have this year's March in Central Park similar to the one which took place at about this time last year. It will be on October 12, and of the same order as last year's, with enough new ideas and attractions to make it even more successful. Miss Wilber, a graduate of Columbia and a woman of great experience in the art of giving fetes, will have charge of the artistic effects and decorations. There will be stalls, each individual, run by separate committees, but all will combine into a harmonious whole. The trosses will be from among the most prominent women in Los Angeles.

All the workers will be in costume, carrying out the ideas of their individual stalls. It will open early in the morning and last all through the day until late in the evening. Vance Thompson has offered his services. The March will be for the benefit of the wounded French and Belgian soldiers, but is not in opposition to the American Red Cross, who are co-operating and who will supply the table d'hôte dinners for the market. Mrs. Willoughby Rodman was elected president. Miss Caroline Van Dyke, the secretary, and George Fuesenot, the treasurer.

To Return East. Mrs. J. A. McMahan and Mrs. H. H. Francis, who have been guests of the Maryland Hotel for the spring and summer months, will soon return to Connecticut, where Mrs. Francis will spend the fall, and Mrs. McMahan will make her home. Mrs. McMahan is especially anxious to get back East as there is a new granddaughter there, whom she has never seen, and although sunny California may at times exert quite a pull, it is to be doubted if it will overbalance the attraction back in Connecticut.

Spent Fortnight in Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Trobridge of No. 2467 Halldale avenue left town a few days ago and will spend two weeks at Pine Hills Lodge, from whence they will make occasional auto trips through the back country of San Diego.

Engagement Luncheon. At a prettily arranged luncheon given recently, Miss Mildred E. Bennett, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bennett, announced her engagement to Arthur L. Jensen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jensen of West Washington street. Twenty sorority sisters of Delta Omega were the guests, and a variety of flowers decked the table. Five hundred was played during the afternoon. No definite date has as yet been set for the wedding.

Reception and Garden Party. One of the pleasant affairs of the week was the reception and garden party given by Mrs. John E. Murray at the Murray apartments in honor of the Spanish department of Ebel Club. Delightful music, both in the reception room and in the garden, under the direction of Mr. R. C. de Nubila, was a feature of the afternoon. Mrs. Murray was assisted in receiving by Misses Harry Andrews, Edward C. Bellows, Charles D. Burt, Edward R. Butterworth, Walter M. Catlin, William L. Dickinson, Jeannette F. Fischer, Arthur Holliday, A. Halden Jones, Lilian M. Lipsey, W. S. McElferty, Clara O'Connor, John R. Thayer, Aurelia Borques de Whenthoff, Miss J. Maud Blanchard, Miss Carrie Clark and Miss Amy Wheeler.

Returns to Pasadena. Mrs. R. R. Pettit, who has been spending the summer at Long Beach as a guest of the Hotel Virginia, returned to Pasadena Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Pettit are former Minnneapolis residents, and have come to locate in Southern California, and will probably make their permanent home in Pasadena. The day before her departure, Mrs. Pettit entertained with a bridge luncheon at the hotel.

Arrives from Milwaukee. Mrs. P. J. Stern of Milwaukee is one of the recent arrivals at the Maryland, and will spend the autumn there.

Opening Dance Success. The opening dance given at the Blackstone apartments at No. 244 South Olive street Thursday evening was a marked success. The decorations carried out an effective patriotic motif, and as the night was warm, the roof garden, with its commanding view of the city, was especially favored by the dancers, who made it a favorite rendezvous for tete a tete and punch. The brilliant lighting effect of the roof and ballrooms were softly subdued with Chinese lanterns of patriotic hues and the many comfortable porch swings and easy chairs, partially shaded by the flowering plants and palms, were as lovely as the thrill of the orchestra's enchanting dance music. At 11 o'clock a little girl in Liberty costume was lifted to a raised platform in the center of the ballroom and favors of Uncle Sam hats and money were tossed from one to the air and caught by the various dancers. Later in the evening one of the beautiful flags covering the center of the ceiling of the ballroom was released, and red, white and blue balloons were tossed from one to another.

From Santa Barbara. Mrs. P. C. Keener, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mason of Santa Barbara, were in the city for a few days. They were guests at the Hotel Clark. Mary Miles Minter was also down from the Mission City and stopped at the Hotel Clark.

Wed in Glendale. A pretty affair was the wedding of Miss Mary H. McIver and L. Homer Stratton, which took place at the Hotel Clark last week, and was seen apart. Two very recent arrivals are Louis Jr., and Rita Beniger, of Montclair, N. J., who, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beniger, have arrived for the sea-

COMEDY HOLDS SWAY.

"UNDER PRESSURE" OPENS AND "BUNKER BEAN" STAYS.

Comedy still holds its undisputed sway in the local theatrical world. There's no use of the managers trying to put anything "heavy" over on the Los Angeles public, not in these days of the high cost of living, when the young men are going to war and when the people find it hard enough to be cheerful without going crazy about tragedies and problem plays. Not that Los Angeles isn't as "high-brow" as any other city, but only that she realizes the futility of attempting to try to get any genuine satisfaction from dramas that suggest the morbid and the unpleasant and that only tend to complicate life. There's another good play at the Mason this week, and a repetition of "Bunker Bean" at the Morocco. The vaudeville houses offer excellent programmes, with Elsie Janis headlining the Orpheum bill, the Countess de Leonardi at Pantages, and with well-balanced programmes at the Hippodrome and the Burbank. The Majestic remains dark.

Mason.
Every woman, young or old.

Bertha Mann and Beatrice Nichols in "Under Pressure," Mason.

should be able to outmaneuver the modern caveman. His method of attack is so swift that he sweeps members of the feminine sex right off their feet. He is a dangerous creature. That is the reason Sydney Rosenthal is said to have written "Under Pressure," the four-act comedy which comes to the Mason tomorrow night, a play in which the author points out the way to victory for womanhood. It is a battle of wits and strategy between man and woman, distinctive of the modern school of love making. Bertha Mann, Elsie Janis and the popular young star, will be featured in the leading feminine role, and she will be supported by Ernestine Waite, J. Anthony Smythe, Grace Traversa, Beatrice Nichols, Thomas MacLennan, Billie Boland, Susanne Morgan, George Spalding, William Quinn and Bonnie Ruskin.

Morocco.
The swiftest comedy ever presented at the Morocco Theater. That's what Los Angeles theatergoers are saying about "His Majesty, Bunker Bean," which, with today's matinee, begins its third week at the Morocco. When a company of players present a new play every week it is impossible for the actors to do each play full justice in the presentation. In the case of "His Majesty, Bunker Bean," the Morocco company had a full month in which to rehearse the comedy while they were playing "The Cinderella Man," and as a result each player is not only letter perfect, but seems to have grasped the spirit of the play to such an extent that there's not a "bottle" in the entire production as it now appears. The story is that of a young clerk whose diffidence prevented his success, but who, meeting with a fake medium who assured him of his inherent greatness, became the "cock of the walk" in the social and business world. The title role is in the hands of the clever Richard Dix, and he is supported by a big cast that includes James Corrigan, Douglas MacLean, Lillian Elliott, Nancy Fair, Bert Hadley, Audell Higgins, Harry Duffield, Charles Hunt, Charles Georges, Maude George, Joseph Eggenon and David Butler.

Orpheum.
Elsie Janis, whose artistry delighted Orpheum patrons last week, has been retained for another week at the big home of vaudeville, but it is promised that her act will vary considerably from her rich offerings of last week. Miss Janis has made a close study of every star of any import of late years and her imitations of their eccentric mannerisms and speech place her on a peculiar pedestal in the vaudeville world. On the new bill another bright light will be Billie Reeves, "the artistic delineator of the gentleman of no little ability, while Marie Cordani is a dramatic soprano who, it is said, has been a big favorite in the north and who is making her first appearance in Los Angeles. Completing the vaudeville roster are the Kregers, novelty wire acrobats. The new feature photoplay is called "The Edge of the Law" and features the popular Ruth Stonehouse.

Burbank.
Two headline acts will grace the new bill at the Burbank this week, these being the Grosbeck Duo and Scotty Butterworth. The former are said to be young ladies of charming personalities who sing like angels while Butterworth is the famous "drunk" comedian who also sings in his own inimitable way. Tom Foster is another comedian of no little ability, while Marie Cordani is a dramatic soprano who, it is said, has been a big favorite in the north and who is making her first appearance in Los Angeles. Completing the vaudeville roster are the Kregers, novelty wire acrobats. The new feature photoplay is called "The Edge of the Law" and features the popular Ruth Stonehouse.

GETS A COMMISSION.
Leo Nomis, one of the members of the Lasky stock company, who is particularly noted for his daredevil feats, has received his commission.

When Douglas Fairbanks rushed out on the Majestic stage last Wednesday night the audience fondly imagined he was going to climb the side of the theater or something. But "Doug" fooled them and before they knew it their enthusiasm was so aroused by his oratory that they were fighting to give him money for the orphans.

"Doug" offered to double the sum the entire house gave so everybody tried to embarrass him. But he didn't score worth a hang. Among the professionals who contributed were Carmel Myers, Lottie Pickford, Marie Dressler, Kenneth Harlan, Norman Kerry, Anna Luther, Ellen Percey, Harry McCoy, Belle Bennett and others.

HE'S A REAL VETERAN.
Billie Reeves, the English Comedian and Pantomimist, was born on a Circus Lot.

Actors and actresses are alike in one respect—they may be referred to as young, but never are they old. Then again, there is the case of Billie Reeves, the English comedian, picture star and pantomimist, who is soon to appear at the Orpheum in his latest study of febrileation, "The Right Key, but the Wrong Flat."

Billie Reeves is different. That is to say, Billie admits to 52 years, but, according to those who know him well, he is noncommittal regarding five or ten more. But, taken at his own estimate, Billie Reeves has crowded everything of the show business into that half-century and two.

He was born on a circus lot in England. His father was a lion tamer who had sacrificed one arm to the lions. Billie began an active career at the age of 7 and was an acrobat, clown, baraback rider and tamer—before most youths leave school. It was intended to make him a barrister, but the circus blood was too strong. During those early days a bear escaped from the animal tent and got a man down. Billie was among those who pried off the brute, but he got so near the hyenas' cage that one of them grabbed his hand. He carries a finger scar today as a souvenir.

At one time Reeves held the title of champion knockout skater and he was a member of the famous Fletcher troupe of skaters. His first appearance in this country was in a musical act. He played many different roles with Fred Karno's various London companies, from heavy dramatic to comedy, but it was not until he played the man in the box in "A Night in an English Music Hall" that he discovered the public preferred to see him as "an imitator of the great," to use his billing of those days.

This act played all over the world. Reeves was with it for years and then he entered the musical production field and was a feature of Ziegfeld's Follies for several seasons. He added to his fame in the picture field as the star of fifty-three comedies, and now he is back again in vaudeville.

"A MAN'S MAN."
Races are Race of Director Apfel's Screen Work.

The selection of the 5000 soldiers who are used in "A Man's Man," the sensational $200,000 photodrama featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, which will be shown at Clune's Auditorium, starting Monday, was no easy task for Oscar Apfel, who directed the production.

"A Man's Man" is an adaptation of Peter B. Kyne's popular novel, and the scenes are laid in Central America, with a revolution as one of the principal features.

In the selection of the soldiers none but dark-complexioned races were used. Los Angeles and its immediate vicinity was literally combed to secure dark soldiers. All the available Mexicans, Hindus, Italians, Portuguese and other dark types were secured for the revolution scenes. An interpreter had to be secured for each race, and Director Apfel had a hard time getting his orders executed in staging the scenes where the soldiers stormed the executive palace. When at times Director Apfel grew angry and shouted somewhat rudely at his army for not obeying orders, considerable time elapsed before the soldiers, through the respective interpreters, were acquainted with the fact. By this time the antics of his army would generally have Director Apfel in a good humor. Upon being told by the interpreters several times that the "chief was very angry with them," and then looking up and each time finding him laughing, one dark soldier said what was later translated to the fact that "the chief was very much hot air."

"A Man's Man" is the initial offering of the newly-launched Paralta company, which is overlooking no care or expense in producing the best pictures in the field.

SOMETHING IS WRONG.
Rescue Hayakawa, the famous Lucky Japanese star, has started four times to enjoy his six weeks' vacation granted him, but each time was summoned to the theater to make a return. On the last call the thought began to percolate his oriental mind that he was being "kidded," so he announced that the next time he took was necessary he would have to see the damaged film before he would don the grease paint.

IT TAKES FAIRBANKS TO GET THE COIN.
When Douglas Fairbanks rushed out on the Majestic stage last Wednesday night the audience fondly imagined he was going to climb the side of the theater or something. But "Doug" fooled them and before they knew it their enthusiasm was so aroused by his oratory that they were fighting to give him money for the orphans.

Billie Reeves, the English Comedian and Pantomimist, was born on a Circus Lot.

Actors and actresses are alike in one respect—they may be referred to as young, but never are they old. Then again, there is the case of Billie Reeves, the English comedian, picture star and pantomimist, who is soon to appear at the Orpheum in his latest study of febrileation, "The Right Key, but the Wrong Flat."

Billie Reeves is different. That is to say, Billie admits to 52 years, but, according to those who know him well, he is noncommittal regarding five or ten more. But, taken at his own estimate, Billie Reeves has crowded everything of the show business into that half-century and two.

He was born on a circus lot in England. His father was a lion tamer who had sacrificed one arm to the lions. Billie began an active career at the age of 7 and was an acrobat, clown, baraback rider and tamer—before most youths leave school. It was intended to make him a barrister, but the circus blood was too strong. During those early days a bear escaped from the animal tent and got a man down. Billie was among those who pried off the brute, but he got so near the hyenas' cage that one of them grabbed his hand. He carries a finger scar today as a souvenir.

At one time Reeves held the title of champion knockout skater and he was a member of the famous Fletcher troupe of skaters. His first appearance in this country was in a musical act. He played many different roles with Fred Karno's various London companies, from heavy dramatic to comedy, but it was not until he played the man in the box in "A Night in an English Music Hall" that he discovered the public preferred to see him as "an imitator of the great," to use his billing of those days.

This act played all over the world. Reeves was with it for years and then he entered the musical production field and was a feature of Ziegfeld's Follies for several seasons. He added to his fame in the picture field as the star of fifty-three comedies, and now he is back again in vaudeville.

"A MAN'S MAN."
Races are Race of Director Apfel's Screen Work.

The selection of the 5000 soldiers who are used in "A Man's Man," the sensational $200,000 photodrama featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, which will be shown at Clune's Auditorium, starting Monday, was no easy task for Oscar Apfel, who directed the production.

"A Man's Man" is an adaptation of Peter B. Kyne's popular novel, and the scenes are laid in Central America, with a revolution as one of the principal features.

In the selection of the soldiers none but dark-complexioned races were used. Los Angeles and its immediate vicinity was literally combed to secure dark soldiers. All the available Mexicans, Hindus, Italians, Portuguese and other dark types were secured for the revolution scenes. An interpreter had to be secured for each race, and Director Apfel had a hard time getting his orders executed in staging the scenes where the soldiers stormed the executive palace. When at times Director Apfel grew angry and shouted somewhat rudely at his army for not obeying orders, considerable time elapsed before the soldiers, through the respective interpreters, were acquainted with the fact. By this time the antics of his army would generally have Director Apfel in a good humor. Upon being told by the interpreters several times that the "chief was very angry with them," and then looking up and each time finding him laughing, one dark soldier said what was later translated to the fact that "the chief was very much hot air."

"A Man's Man" is the initial offering of the newly-launched Paralta company, which is overlooking no care or expense in producing the best pictures in the field.

New Offerings Enhance Stage.

Hippodrome.
For the new show which comes to the Hippodrome tomorrow a superlative list of vaudeville acts is promised, the most interesting item probably being Miss Marie, known as the Speed Maniac, who has a series of costume and character changes woven into an amusing playlet. E. J. Moore is listed as the Gabby Trickster, while Jerry and Gretchen O'Meara appear in a musical novelty of their own "Get up." Scott and Wilson offer an eccentric line of nonsense and still more foolishness and fun will be furnished by Illatt and Geer. The Five Violin Beauties will delight both the ear and eye of the audience and Strassler's Animal Circus will complete the vaudeville roster. As usual the Pathe news and a number of photoplays will add to the attractive bill.

Burbank.
Two headline acts will grace the new bill at the Burbank this week, these being the Grosbeck Duo and Scotty Butterworth. The former are said to be young ladies of charming personalities who sing like angels while Butterworth is the famous "drunk" comedian who also sings in his own inimitable way. Tom Foster is another comedian of no little ability, while Marie Cordani is a dramatic soprano who, it is said, has been a big favorite in the north and who is making her first appearance in Los Angeles. Completing the vaudeville roster are the Kregers, novelty wire acrobats. The new feature photoplay is called "The Edge of the Law" and features the popular Ruth Stonehouse.

GETS A COMMISSION.

SCREEN ACTRESSES KNIT FOR SOLDIERS

More than a score of Triangle girls, including stars and those who are in stock, have formed a knitting circle and have pledged all of their spare time between scenes and cameras to the soldier boys.

The talented screen beauties have considerable opportunity for sewing and knitting of this time will be put to use in making socks, mittens, and sweaters.

Among those who formed the Triangle knitting circle are Ruth St. Denis, Anna Kroman, Belle Bennett, Frances Wilson, Mary McGowan, Mildred Davis and Diana Carville.

DE MILLE FINISHING THE FARRAR FEATURE

It is expected that Cecil B. De Mille will finish the production of "The Sign of the Cross" in a week and then the famous director will go to the States to take a six weeks' vacation and return to tell, even his private secretary, where he is going. Spies wishing to know the whereabouts of the director, report that he has been seen at a steamship dock and that he is taking a last look at the city before he goes.

The cast which supports Cecil B. De Mille in his second Artcraft production is composed of some of the most famous actors and actresses in the screen, including Wallace Reid, Tully Marshall, Robert Brown, James Hall, H. B. Warner, Lillian Leighton, Mabel Van Buren, Ernest Joy, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Burhan Bahri and Guy Oliver.

"RAMBLER ROSE"

Julia Sanderson and Joseph Cawthorn in Frohman Musical Comedy Production.

In "Rambler Rose," the new Joseph-Smith musical comedy with which the season has opened at the Empire Theater, New York, pretty, dainty Julia Sanderson has danced and sung her way right back into her old place in the hearts of all New York theatergoers, and "Joe" Cawthorn is funnier than he ever was before in his life.

Julia Sanderson and Joseph Cawthorn! With such a pair of favorites at the head of its cast, even a poor musical play would be a success, but in "Rambler Rose" the two stars are given a chance to show their full powers and help to make it seem even better than it is. Victor Jacob has written some wonderful songs for this piece, and Harry B. Smith's book, which is a full of good lines, is a real gem. The music has been composed by Harry B. Smith, and the lyrics are by Victor Jacob.

The two stars are not the whole show, either. Ada May, Ethel Boyd, Doris Fenn, John Golden, Stewart, and George E. Mack—each of them helps in the general success. And the chorus—numerous, pretty and well trained—is a real asset to the production, a worthy support to the stars.

Tom Forman in Line.

Tom Forman, the Lasky company leading man, who recently suffered a serious injury to his leg in a fall from a ladder, is now well on the way to be a second lieutenant. He and several others have taken the examination and it is expected that Forman will pass with flying colors.

Our Advertising Policy

—We will insistently and consistently talk style and quality to practically the utter exclusion of comparative prices.

—We believe that reasonable, high-class merchandise, fairly priced is sufficient inducement to bring to our store the people of Los Angeles who want to be sure, at all times, that the N. B. Blackstone Co. standards are unvarying and entirely commensurate with the prices paid.

—As a reputable, reliable store we are pledged to the maintenance of fashion and quality at all costs; nevertheless, our position as a large buying organization, able to command the wherewithal to buy to best advantage, often enables us to offer the goods in greatest demand at unusually low prices.

—In these instances we will be careful to state the facts as they are, permitting our customers to judge of the valuable money-saving features.

Semi-Annual Sewing Week

—The noble women of France have set the style—French women have made more sacrifices for the war than the women of any other nation, but have continued to dress as smartly as ever, and made for their foreign sisters. They have done this by making their own clothes. Now that war has come to America, American women are following the example of their French sisters. To further this spirit of patriotism in a helpful way, we present our Semi-annual Sewing Week—beginning Monday.

AMERICA'S BIT.

By James Neil Hastings.
America, your mighty hosts hear
Duty's loud command,
To battle for Democracy to govern
all the land.
To overthrow Autocracy, cause every throat to fall.
That fetters ought the liberty which God decrees to all.

Across the sea, your dauntless youth
now makes his grand way,
To take his part in air and trench to break the despot's sway.
Your daughters, too, will heed the call with strength and unity,
And all your children do their bit for bruised humanity.

On battle-front and foe-filled main,
Your flag will be unfurled,
And make its place in history, in setting free the world.
O'er "No-man's Land" your banner will with inspiration wave;
The Stars and Stripes will stand the test as emblem of the brave.

The Nation's Chief holds firm the helm, with trust in God supreme,
And steers straight to the coveted goal—Democracy's regime.
His vision clear, his purpose true, his courage unappalled,
The peace of mankind to secure, on All the host he's called.

"Peace without victory" does not mean "endure autocracy."
For peace without the reign of Right is rank hypocrisy.
A crust of false security, o'er-spreading flames of hate,
That to engulf the world again, the tyrant's fan—but wait.

So, rise, in strength and fervor to the tasks you have to do;
Defend the Cause of Liberty, with Allies tried and true,
Till all the foes of freedom yield their might and tumult cease,
And o'er the night of cruelty dawns an everlasting Peace.

Swedish Women in Politics.
[Springfield (Mass.) Republican:]
Swedish women ran as special candidates during the recent Town Council elections in Stockholm. The Conservative party, numerically the strongest, returned two women members. Gertrude Tornell, an active member of the board of the Stockholm Suffrage Society, and Laura Nettel, an anti-suffragist, who is an expert in poor law matters. Women members of the Liberal party returned Emilia Broome, who, as former member of the Liberal party returned Emilia Broome, building workmen's houses and demanding better wages for women clerks. Anna Lindhagen, the candidate of the Socialist party, who was defeated, was one of the Swedish delegation at the international congress of women at The Hague.

Suggests a Hilarious Finish.
[Boston Journal:] Most hilarious and mirthful would be the ending of the war under the scheme of a Henriker (N. H.) humanitarian. He would have all the Germans, the Kaiser included, laugh themselves to death.

Briefly, the scheme is to spill a new kind of laughing gas, which the writer says he has invented, all over the German forces. The gas, according to the plan, can be carried over the German trenches in airplanes and dropped.

Where She Shone.
[Washington Star:] "We are trying to see what there is about that actress," said the host of a party last night.
"All right," said the manager.
"We'll throw a picture of her salary check on the screen."

THE WORLD'S MOST ARTISTIC STORES ARE IN THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES.

Beauty and Refinement in the Finishing of the Newest Merchandise Houses Recently Opened in This City.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

French gift clock.
The New York Store.

IN MERCHANDISING, as in music,
there are overtones.

The beauty which ascends beyond the expressible scale, the artistry which rises above the actual necessities of selling and of buying, are these.

The new dry goods store, recently opened in Los Angeles, embodies to the utmost, this transcendence.

Each of the new retail houses does its share in glorifying the commercial, gliding it with the loveliness which carries the thought into those spheres where art habitually dwells.

Or, to put it otherwise, each has undertaken, in its own way, to prove that art need not remain a fæller upon lonely heights, far removed from the daily lives of men, but may go hand-in-hand with the traffic which is a part of our every day.

The educational and inspirational influence of art in the business lives of men cannot be estimated; but it is powerfully felt, even though unconsciously, in the way of better work and higher ideals and it makes an indelible impress upon the souls of all who contact it.

Probably there is nowhere a more convincing proof of the fact that the tendency of man is ever to climb toward greater aesthetic heights than he embellishes his practical, business surroundings with beauty and with art.

Each of the new stores, recently opened in Los Angeles, has put its own personality into such expression: Blackstone's is lovely in a distinct, stately way; the Ville de Paris has that French je ne sais quoi which has ever been its habit; the
New York Store is brilliant, dazzling.

Each is as a masterpiece, as the other,
and each distinctive.

Each exemplifies the tendency of modern retail merchandising houses to present to its patrons, something more than that which is purchased;
to give to the most casual visitor something of lasting beauty to carry away in thought.

The imposing exterior of the Blackstone store, faced with gray terra cotta, with ornamentation chaste and simple, gives promise of what will be found within; nor does the promise fail of fulfillment.

The white marble of the floors upon the street level, combined with the American and Circassian walnut of the woodwork, the tall white columns, innocent of ornamentation, make for that dignity which in architecture is so restful and uplifting.

The low cases with rounded corners, the stock cases above, each constructed upon lines of beauty, grant to the eye an unimpeded view which serves to impress the beholder.

The elegance of Blackstone's culminates in the colonial tea room.
Here the furniture of the delightful days, greets one in the entrance hall, which is like that of an old southern or New England mansion, even to the staircase, door and the low, beamed ceiling.

This greeting is emphasized when, upon entering the room, the eye is greeted by the reposeful window chairs, the charming buffets and tables in old English shape, and the fascinating, wall with such garden poesies as bachelor buttons, marifolds, senias and ornamental tageses for all the world as though plucked in grandmother's time and preserved in pristine perfection by some strange alchemy.

Even the vases and such as might have come from out a colonial kitchen—southern chicken pot pie, finer rolls of feathery lightness, and other delicious things which remind of the traditions of the extraordinary art in cookery of those old colonial days.

The French millinery rooms at Blackstone's are replete with artistic beauty. The French gray of the enameled woodwork, offsetting the twinkling surfaces of the many mirrors and the roseate background of rich velours backing the silvery gray-ness to perfection, bespeaks good taste. Ornamentation restrained to that degree which carries with it an air of refinement, characterizes every detail of the new Blackstone store.

The New York Store, as replete with beauty, has attained to its ends by a route characteristically its own.
The dazzling, the striking, the radiance which is like that of the sparkling brunette with flashing eyes, sweeping her swains into her net with a swirl and a rush, rather than by coy devices; such is the New York. The brilliance of its plate glass arcades, the gaiety of its gilded railings, the attractiveness of its merchandise, the multiplicity of its mirrors, each artistic detail, the very fact that it has drawn upon several periods for its architectural and decorative effects—like the co-quette who delights to allure with not a single method, but with all—such is the artistry of the New York.
Here, a happy selection has been made from the decorative art of the days of Louis XVI; there, it is Italian renaissance which has contributed its quota; again, the Louis XV period has impressed its fanciful charm upon panel or upon framework.

The grand staircase, with its gradually rounding sweep, comes to an artistic issue in the refreshing fountain, niched upon the broad landing; a joyous figure which might be that of eternal youth, pouring water from out a sculptured urn, the work of Rometti. Changing light playing upon this bewitching fountain add to the magical effect.

That "art is long and time is fleeting" we are reminded upon looking into the face of the handsome clock, of French gilt, in elaborate design to correspond with the railing of the spacious mezzanine against which it rests. This clock was the gift of Mr. J. J. Haggarty's employees, pro-

The restrained lighting, upon the lower floor, is consummated by means of a stained-glass ceiling, behind which the electric lights are concealed. Indirect lighting prevails throughout the house, the electrolux being suspended in handsome ivory censers.

Richly-carved screens in old ivory effect are used to round out corners and to enhance the display in the window spaces of the arcades. The latter, with their many rich accessories, the broad expanses of plate glass, and the ample promenade, floored in gray marble with a border of inlay, are a fitting introduction to the handsome treasures of art and architecture found within the store.

sented upon the opening of the new establishment, with felicitations upon the fulfillment of his store ideal; and its beauty attests that handsome and artistic surroundings are appreciated to the full by those who live amid them.

The French evening rooms for testing colors in fabrics and millinery are exquisite in their finish and decorative motifs. Tinted, as are the walls and columns, the panelings and all woodwork of the lower floor, in old ivory with a sienna tone, with high lights in pastel colors, which blossom upon the capitals of columns and appear in the panelings of cabinets and console frames, each of these salons seems more lovely than the last.

The Ville de Paris has reached its goal of beauty, chiefly by means of fine woods used in the finishing. The laurel wreath and the coat of arms, which attest to the French origin of this house, are seen in highly-carved relief throughout the lower floor, and there are dainty touches everywhere, which recall the salons of its namesake.

The floor devoted to millinery is especially inviting, with its French gray enamel and gray carpets, and others who go to various camps have a delicious treat for them in an abundance of rams on the dinner table.

That the film fans really was evidenced by a day last week when P.

the serials, which will be notable productions of the year.

last week on her first production for Paramount director, is in charge of the serial, which was written by

Pretty Ann Kroman of the Red Cross predicts the Red Cross will receive a subst-stantial amount from the Cultural Council. Ann ought to know. She is a teller.

In fact, it is just this fortune-telling ability that is going to help the Red Cross. In order to endorse the Red Cross, one may as well refuse to be a teller.

HAL COOLEY SIGNS.
Popular Juvenile Star Returns to Universal City, Where He Will Play in a Serial.
The wanderer has returned. Hal Cooley, who will perhaps be remembered for his clever juvenile work on the Universal program, has signed a long contract with the company to play lead in a serial and several big features. Mr. Cooley has more than two years' experience in the business, having worked in comedies at the old Biograph studio under the supervision of Mack Sennett. But the call of drama was evidently much too strong for the "hansome" juvenile. He has packed his trunk and fitted the bottom of his trunk and fitted back to do more serious work.
Hal has just finished in "The Guilty Man," a feature produced by the Thomas H. Ince studio under the direction of Irving Willat. William Desmond, Gloria Hope, Charles French, Hayward Mack, and other favorites were in the cast. This is the last of the best he has done.

QUITE SOME CHEF IS RUTH STONEHOUSE.
Ruth Stonehouse, petite Triangle star, who has just completed the gripping patriotic drama, "Doctor Her Blot," with Director Jack Conway, has been enjoying a short vacation while waiting for a new story, and spent a part of the time at her cabin in Santa Anita Canyon in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. At a recent week-end party fifteen young men and women of prominence in the film world were Miss Stonehouse's guests at her attractive mountain place, and the dainty little star proved she was a real housekeeper by cooking for the entire crowd.
"She's better than most chefs," was the verdict of the party after consuming Miss Stonehouse's culinary masterpieces at Sunday dinner.

TRIANGLE SECURES FRANK BORZAGE.
Frank Borzage, long known to the Triangle patrons as a leading man of unusual ability, who directed William Desmond in a couple of pictures, is back on the Triangle lot after an absence of nearly two months. Borzage will direct several new pictures, although as yet his story and company have not been selected.

KNITTING TIPS FOR CROSS WORKERS
WHITBURN PAUL.
There are quite a few wrinkles in the art of knitting that different people are desirous of by the Society just at present. A matter of long standing is the question of the best way to knit. In knitting, say the body of a sweater, but in any knitting at all, you must be particular never to knit one or two and do not so work the offending stitch off at once, even if you do it. This "way down" is a simple enough if you go on in the right way, though beginners make a very bad attempt at it the first few rows. I am, I always have a crochet hook in my bag, and then if I happen to have a stitch or two that are a little loose, I split one and have to stitch purposely to get at it. I then take the hook and hook the stitch on as it comes along with the hook, just the same as if it were a regular stitch. This is exceedingly quick, and has the advantage that when a stitch is split, all one has to do is to turn the other side of the hook in the same way, because I am sure you know, and on the right side of the wrong, and on the left side of the right, and so on. It is a matter of the split stitch; it is a little matter to pass and because the whole sweater is made of the same material, it is no stronger than the rest. When I split a stitch, I pull the sweater on the back, which is the one to feel the split, which is the delicate construction. It makes it peculiarly unfitted and things. And that is where the advantage is to be gained. I know our menfolk, understand that they are not nearly as good at their garments as they are with their advantage in both knit and wear; and one can suppose, very naturally, that in the case of such as war times, dear men will have even more and thought to give to their garments, more or less, in the line of ease. A broken stitch runs and after a while the whole sweater is in a sorry state of affairs, so that the soldier or sailor, the sturdy article he is engaged in, the good wool is almost worn out of the valuable time it takes to knit that sweater is just away. Therefore, you will see, won't you, if I rub it off, beware before everything is split and his wicked and great many Europeans, I learned, on and off at odd times, in childhood up, and yet there are two things I was obliged to do for myself the first time I was allowed to knit. First, the directions were to be ample, but really they were decided on the "skimpy" respectably for the beginner, the matter of the neck for instance. If I had merely followed the instructions, no man on earth would have forced his head through where his head is supposed to go. I was allowed to knit on the shoulder and did so, in fact, until I was large enough for a good-sized sweater, and I was allowed to go through without a head through. I was very little, a sweater, a man cannot head through, in there. I was a great many ladies, beginning, who did not know that a sweater is more "individual" than a suit, which varies, even using the same size in identical wool, simply the directions with the rest of the necks had to be at headquarters, and you see that would mean, the convenience and the wicked of good time! Therefore when I am or off for the neck, make it room enough, make it rather than too small, cast very loosely, but at the same time so loosely that a man can push his fingers in the loops and be in difficulties every time he tries to put a garment that is a nuisance on or off is apt to lose patience at a very early stage of the work; therefore I repeat cast loosely, but even so be moderate in looseness.
In crocheting round the neck, be careful not to take the sweater in too much; take care not to contract it at all. The sweater ample room, better than room than too little, as they will probably have to wear one woolen garment on, and they are sure to shrink in some circumstances. Personally, I knit them I like to have a little room to do this shrink. I honestly think each knitter should for her own individuality do the same.
In joining up the sides of the sweater, be careful to catch up the stitches every time, the entire sweater should be as not to be a split stitch here and there. A split stitch here and there is unfortunate, because it is where the hardest pull is. A split stitch is the elastic of a whole thread will give a sweater where a part of a thread is easily broken. It is worn; it has less than the endurance of its whole. In connection with these things, be very careful, indeed, to be good and strong, make it as much as possible. If a sweater on the side gives way, the seam will come apart. I have found this joining on to be best, and easier to come, and having a sharp point does not have a bodkin being pushed the way through a hole in a loop of the whole thread. I have the famous "Kitchen" reference to the knitting machine in the printed instructions, a darned needle, a darned needle, a darned needle, given for use. A darned, but to my great surprise, I was able to get a packet of darned needles for a little more than 1 cent at the nearest store. Try them, ladies. I have tried them; you cannot make over the difference in the make, both to you and to the maker, who are the fortunate recipients of your labor.

Fashion's Baskets Tumbling—Spilling—Strewing Bullocks with the Charm of Indian Summer

THE other day a traveller who had been 'round the world and back again, was making a visit in the writer's office—
—Among other things she said that she had received a letter from —s, asking her to write them her impressions concerning —s, a great business in the West—and that she had replied—somewhat in the following way—
—Some time when the opportunity presents, I will return and spend as much as possible of six weeks in that store and then I may be able to write you some idea of that business——and this reply emphasized strongly two thoughts that had long been in the writer's mind—
—the thought of the inadequacy of any single Advertisement or series of advertisements as an expression of a business——At this very moment, for example—take these great acres of New Fall Merchandise that are Bullock's—what single Advertisement or series of Advertisements could prove sufficient to convey an adequate idea of the preparedness of this store—?
—what single Advertisement or series of Advertisements could convey an Idea of the

—what single Advertisement or series of Advertisements could take this Business, with all its strength, and force, and personality, and carry it, right out of this great building that houses it, and into your home, into your confidence, into your heart—
—what single Advertisement or series of Advertisements could Advertise, as it should be Advertise—The Inspiration—that this Business is to those who are connected with its upbuilding——Not one single Advertisement—not one series of Advertisements——Not six weeks, nor six months, nor six years of written publicity could do all these things—which are merely some of the things that Advertising should do.
—No—only, that Advertising which is the result of Association—not for a minute, or an hour, or a day, but for a period of time——that Advertising which gets beneath the surface and establishes the Truth and Reality of the Desire, that goes to the Hand of the business only from the Heart—?

And the Witchery—of Styles That Are New, and New, and New—
—So New that it seems impossible to indicate how really new they are—and So Different—in spite of of all the styles—and styles—and styles that are being shown so many wheres——Wouldn't it appear unnecessary to think of any particular store when one thinks of a New Hat—a Frock—a Suit—or Wrap—? What with all the Wraps—and Suits—and Frocks and Hats that are being shown?
—Wouldn't it appear that one should just go anywhere of many—wheres to buy—? BUT one doesn't——No, indeed, One Does not—and ONE DOES NOT because one has tried and one knows——Women have bought Frocks and Hats and Suits and Wraps—most anywhere of many wheres—and then have seen Suits and Wraps, and Frocks and Hats from "Somewhere" and they have wished—and they have made up their minds that next time—"Somewhere" would be their store, too——And "Somewhere" has become their store—and the store of others and others and others who have found through experience that—"Anywhere" WILL NOT DO—that there is something about SOMEWHERE that distinguishes and makes worth while——Isn't the growth of Bullock's during the past ten years pretty evidence as to the where of One SOMEWHERE—?
—Women know—Fashion knows—and out of her baskets, Autumn styles have come—tumbling and spilling to strew the charm of Indian summer—and to make one third floor beautiful—
—Fashions like to come—where women like to come—

Fashions Like Friends
—And so Bullock's gives promise of being an even more particularly particular "Somewhere" than even Bullock's has ever been before——In the midst of a season notable for the bewildering beauty and individuality of its styles—the character and charm of Bullock's Fashions are brilliantly expressive—
—There are Gowns—and Frocks—and Suits—and Furs—and Coats—and Skirts—and Hats—with personality that is eloquent——Fashions distinctive—and superbly different——There are models and many of them—that are at Bullock's because they will be nowhere else in Los Angeles—
—There are hundreds and hundreds of garments for the purpose of variety—There is NOT ONE that has not been sought with care—so that——The measure of quality and workmanship and value is full——There are Suits and Frocks and Coats at $25.00—at $35.00—at $39.50—and more (It would be confusing to attempt their description)— —That the whim today should be to dwell upon the Dresses and Suits at $29.50—is because of the Greatness of the Suits and Dresses that are at Bullock's at this price—
—The Dresses of Serge and of Silk and Serge in combination—
—The Suits of Gabardine and other woollens—but even the pictures can not tell (though they were drawn directly from these $29.50 suits and dresses.)
—There is so much in the actual wearing of the garments themselves—that cannot be reproduced or even suggested——A reflection of one's own self perhaps—who knows?
—But the garments must be capable reflectors. These garments are—as are the Hats that have been made to keep them company—
—Not "Anywhere"—but "SOMEWHERE"—for your Fashion choosing, Monday—and "Somewhere"—in Los Angeles—means Bullock's—

Elsie Janis at Home

there energetically aiding her efforts to master the language. "How many languages do you speak?" I asked, knowing of her successes in Europe.

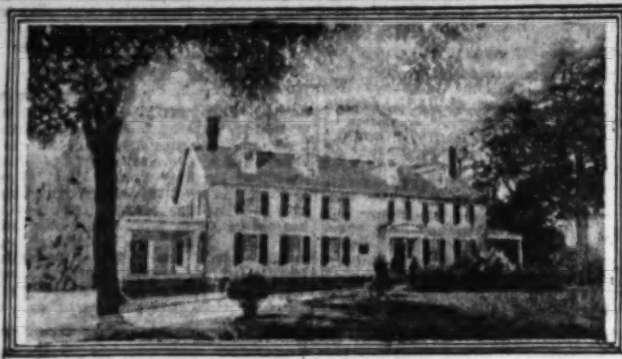

"French, German and a little English," she replied laughingly. Regarding her plans for the immediate future, Miss Janis said:

"In January I sail for London, where I am contracted to appear in a new musical show just written for me. I have already done two reverses over there, and it is my desire to show them something different. At the end of one of my seasons in London I had planned to go to Berlin and Vienna, but the war stopped that, of course.

"Pictures? No, I don't think I shall do any more for a long time, unless someone comes along with a real story. This isn't very likely, for during my venture into motion pictures out here I discovered that I couldn't get a story to suit my taste at all. If one should turn up—well, that's a different question.

"This is where the Italian instructor enters. After greetings he almost did a Keystone on the trick couch in the dressing-room, which helps make life amusing to the uninitiated. It says in the middle—unexpectedly, I enjoyed an embarrassing moment with it myself some time ago. A few parries in the language of the Latin followed, and then we resumed.

"Out-of-doors? I love it," enthusiastically declared Miss Janis. "In Tarrytown, N. Y., I have a manor, where the most wonderful facilities for outdoor sports are provided. And it's very historical, too." Enter Mrs. Janis, Elsie's mother, who is known the world over as best parent, chaperon and manager in public life. She is efficiency personified, with a rare trait of commanding sincere admiration at first meeting. Both mother and daughter take great pride in their beautiful manor home. Nowhere in the United States can more traditions be found existing in interest than in the vicinity of the town of Tarrytown, Yonkers, N. Y. The town, where our histories date back to the days when it was called New Amsterdam.

Originally the home of the star and her mother was called Philips Castle. You know Elsie Janis is all American so she renamed it, "The Manor House." In the Congressional Library at Washington, historical data reveals the rich traditions centering about this old manor.

The first Frederick Philips came to this country from Holland in 1600. Although he was the descendant of a Polish nobleman he was a very capable carpenter, builder and architect and acted as supervisor of buildings for the Dutch West India Company. In New York he became a prosperous trader with the Indians and a rich merchant. The first Philips was considerable of a diplomat as he was exceedingly popular with both the Dutch and the showing strong Tory tendencies and George Washington, who had been in love with a daughter of the family, who is said to have flitted him to wed a British officer, imprisoned him when the English took New York City. For his treason the entire manor was confiscated by the State of New York, and the Philips family moved to England where they remained for good.

Even in those days the manor brought more than $1,000,000 when it was sold to the former tenants, John Jacob Astor was strongly interested in the transaction. In 1802 the Philips family moved to England where they remained for good.

Today these landmarks are still in excellent preservation, according to Miss Janis. The plot of land comprises about twelve acres. "The Manor House" has, of course, been beautifully improved by Miss Janis and her mother, without losing any of the value of rich, historical importance.

Elsie Janis spends many happy hours working with garden implements to beautify the grounds, as can be seen in one of the sketches made by artist Barnardell.

Then where the old mill once stood a well-stocked stream splits into two distinct brooks and flows over a little waterfall. This stream swarms with trout and bass. Wherefore the sketch of Elsie seated on the old wall in angler's clothes, enjoying fisherman's luck right at home. Then there's a natural swimming pool, too, near by the tennis courts, where Miss Janis can take a plunge after a hard set. As if that wasn't enough, the estate boasts a small lake which makes swimming and skating positive delights. I've seen several pictures of a very cool-appearing summer house that Elsie built with her own hands. That proves she is versatile.

"What I enjoy most of all," said Elsie Janis, "is the lake. This means skating in winter and swimming in the summer. Very soon the lake will be frozen and I hope to have some jolly sport before leaving for London. Every winter we give skating parties at the manor, and it was there I learned fancy skating and the use of the lariat while on skates."

By the way, Elsie Janis can do some wonderful stunts with the rope while skating, which is quite some feat. In fact, I have never seen a woman who could use a rope much more skillfully than Elsie Janis. At the Orpheum this week, she is imitating Will Rogers, the cowboy favorite of New York, and Fred Stone in his rope dance.

Miss Janis told me that when "Doug" Fairbanks was visiting one of her skating parties he tied a rope to an overhanging branch of a tree at the edge of the lake. Although he hadn't been on skates since he was a boy the enthusiastic "Doug" attempted a remarkable stunt, and better yet, he succeeded. With a long start "Doug" skated furiously toward the tree, grasped the rope in both hands and swung away up into the tree, turned twice in the air and alighted, safely skating away with all the abandon with which he does his present remarkable stunts.

But Elsie Janis doesn't yield the palm to anyone. When you go to the Orpheum this week just watch the athletic surprise she pulls while she is taking an encore.

GREATEST "NUT" YARN OF THE SEASON HERE

LISTEN, good people, to the nuttiest yarn ever concocted by a practical joker, or perhaps the candidate for President on the ticket of town of New York comes this amazing yarn of the coming of Mr. W. Alrus Towsky, the noted Eskimo theatrical producer to uplift the American drama. Is someone trying to steal Chester Conklin's perfectly good comedy nom de plume? Evidently the satirical announcements either found Cap Kidd's treasure or robbed a bank, for they are printed on an excellent quality of paper which costs much coin of the realm these days. Here we go.

To the Lovers of True Art in America: It gives us great pleasure to announce the coming to New York of Mr. W. Alrus Towsky, the eminent Eskimo dramatist and producer, whose Theatre du Nord has done so much for the drama of his native country. Previous to the arrival of Towsky had never heard of a theater and did not know a play from a porridge. All of his boyhood education, Towsky had been devoted to persuading the dentifical walrus and the sweet-voiced seal to part with their rubber on terms the most favorable to himself. Towsky, while engaged in that occupation he showed an aptitude for affairs of the theater and early manifested a startling supremacy and practically gave him a corner on the blubber market in his native region.

His success was all the more remarkable because of his being due to labor dramatic genius. While his fellow Eskimos hunted according to the old-fashioned spear-and-polar-bear-gut method of their ancestors, Mr. Towsky, with naive artistry, evolved a method of his own. Making himself up to look like a frozen gum-drop tree, he would daily take his stand at the left-hand side of the North Pole. Carefully dimming the Northern Lights and artfully weaving a mirage about himself, he would make sounds that were so realistic in their imitation of a dead fish that the walrus and seals would swarm about him, beating their flippers in an ecstasy that made their capture easy.

Probably this country would never have heard of Mr. Towsky had it not been for the fact that a bundle of New York papers, dropped by an Arctic explorer, was blown by a vagrant zephyr to Mr. Towsky's feet. The highly intellectual quality of the dramatic criticism was an inspiration to Mr. Towsky, and he saw at once that America needed him and the stimulus of his ideas to perfect his stage and raise it to its rightful place. He made his way to New York and is now here prepared to give to our stage the help he so sadly in want of.

It is with sincere pleasure we, a small band of billion-dollar scribbles, our little bit of Towsky in his noble project. At the same time we solicit the support of the press and the public in the funds to help Mr. Towsky carry out the Hotel Plans into a tiny playhouse that will be actually carrying out his simple plan.

Cordially, MRS. E. STAPLETON STAPLETON, Chairman, Reading League for the Improvement of the American Drama.

To the American Public: I am bringing to America a drama that will still dramatic in the close relations that have existed between my people and the North and you of the States.

The Theatre Aux Eskimos: I am to establish it to be a place where the truly dramatic in the art is to be the new and therefore the best.

HIRAM ABRAMS'S VIEWS ON FILM DISTRIBUTION.

"WHO gets the 15 cents you pass across the box office of your photoplay theater?"

This question, in the opinion of Hiram Abrams, president of the Paramount Pictures Corporation, is the most important problem before the motion-picture world today. Mr. Abrams arrived in Los Angeles last Friday to begin a nation-wide tour of the country for the purpose of helping exhibitors solve their local problems.

"Few people who see the finished product of the studios on the screen know of the multiple division of the money they pay their exhibitor," said Mr. Abrams in an exclusive interview with The Times.

"Their admission price is halved and third and sixth and tenths and hundredths again, and distributed to all the numerous factors that go into the producing, distributing, exhibiting and exploiting of a photoplay.

"The star gets his cent or two of your admission price," continued the film executive, "the author gets his, the director his, the exhibitor his, only to mention a few who receive part of the theater's gross. I would need much more space than you can afford to be the subject in these war times to enumerate all the other individuals, corporations and interests that receive a division. There are the railroads for transporting the films to the theater, the Eastman Kodak Company for raw stock and such things that never enter into the mind of the picture followers.

And while there are a million perplexing things in the film world that still require solution, the greatest problem at the present time is distribution. It is for the purpose of the 15 cents and more equally proportioning their division of the trip was undertaken.

"When you see Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and all the stars of the screen, you are seeing the result of the appropriation of the money in the cost of photoplays, which means still more money for negatives."

Mr. Abrams also discussed the advertising campaign which he will inaugurate October 1 in the country. It is noteworthy that every newspaper in Los Angeles equally participate in this campaign which has been termed by the advertising experts to be the most extensive publicity ever launched in the industry, but, indeed, the elaborate advertising campaign of this year in any industry.

"SLIM" MAKES GOOD. Mal St. Clair Thought Laugh at His Comedy was a "Darned" Frame-up.

Mal (Slim) St. Clair, at one time a cartoonist on a Los Angeles daily, and now admittedly one of the best comedians on the Triangle-Keystone lot, has convinced everyone but himself that he is funny.

While he was in the projection room with his company and his director, Harry Williams, witnessing a pre-run of their latest comedy, a bit of "business" in which he flung a hearty laugh from the audience so hardened that they refuse to even let out a snicker unless they are forced to do so. When the company left the projection room Mal asked Harry Williams in a guarded whisper: "Am I really funny or was that the laugh of the audience?"

Harry Williams, who is a comedian himself, refused to believe it. It is said that when St. Clair first went to work for Triangle-Keystone, which was his initial attempt in pictures, he was so sure that he wouldn't make good that he had some cards printed which read: "Malcolm St. Clair, formerly with the Triangle-Keystone Company."

The popular funny man has never had an opportunity to use them thus far, and chances are very good that he never will. He has made good in spite of himself.

"THE BAR SINISTER" IS UNUSUAL. "The Bar Sinister," the attraction at Tally's Broadway, is a photo production of unusual interest in every respect. It is a new one. Subconsciously the best people of all races have been used in it—the fact that the scheme of this world a week in the spiritual world is not at all.

It is strikingly borne out by a highly-bred southern aristocrat in childhood, by a crazed negro and grown up, by a girl who is a flower of the East. The story of the young man who learns to love, and the girl who is a flower of the East, is a story of the most thrilling.

Mitchell Lewis is very good in the story. He is a girl so young. There is a fight in the picture, and it is a fight that almost raises the hair on your neck. The picture is one of the most interesting that has been conceived and photographed. It is one of the best of the year, and it is one of the best of the year.

"I want to tell you, Mr. Man—that women have a very rare and delightful surprise waiting for them Monday, in The Beautiful Fall Suits, Coats and Dresses at $15.00"

BIG BATH ROBES, $2.95

—These are far better bath robes than we had last year for the same price," says the salesperson in charge of the section. —And this should be a significant recommendation for these big, "warmy" bath robes of excellent Beacon Robing—priced at $2.95. —Seams are sewed flat, sleeves bound and stitched in with 3 rows of stitching—pockets, cord girdles and cord ties at neck. —A great variety of attractive patterns in practically any shade and in floral, Indian, large plaids and conventional designs. —Certainly these robes would make an excellent Christmas gift and at this unusual low price, Monday is the time to buy them. —There are others more elaborate at $3.95 and $4.95. Bullock's Basement Store

FLANNELETTE GOWNS $1.25

—The cooler nights and crisp mornings—and flannels, if you please, to match. —Bullock's Basement Store has an unusual display of new Flannelette gowns to sell at $1.25—a most reasonable price. —Made of excellent outing in good lengths and cut large and roomy. Some are the slip-over styles, others are made on double lined yoke front and back. Plain hemstitching is used as trimming the round, V neck, or high collar styles, while in many instances silk braid is used. —The flannelette is white and pink on blue and white stripe grounds. Sizes 15 to 17—$1.25. —There are also extra sizes made of pink, blue or white outing flannel trimmed in white braid. Sizes 19 to 20—at $1.25. Bullock's Basement Store

FALL SHIRTS for MEN, 95¢

—As the prices of loom materials have been advancing the past year, coupled with the prices of the finished product—it should be interesting to note that Bullock's shirts for men have not deviated from their original selling price—95¢. —Had not Bullock's had a vision to look far ahead and order a vast supply of these shirts last year—certainly the price now would be considerably more. —But they are still 95¢—made of excellent poplins, madras and percales—and as good and strong and serviceable as a shirt can be. Hundreds of new patterns are here in both stiff and soft cut styles. —No mistakes can be made in buying men's shirts now for far to the future needs—for 95¢ is most certainly an attractive price for them. Bullock's Basement Store

LOW PRICE—HIGH QUALITY—IN FOOTWEAR

—Are you familiar with Bullock's Basement Shoe Store—and the prices and qualities that obtain? —Aren't you coming in daily contact with women who have taken advantage of the unusual service of this Shoe Store—who have bought so resultfully of footwear? —It must not be confused with other shoe stores you have in mind because it is unlike them. It is a Quality Store where prices are always reasonable and styles desirable—where feet from "AA to D" are given perfect fitting lasts. —AT $5.00—Dress street boots of all kid or patent calf—some with black cloth tops. —AT $5.50—Patent calf lace boots with fawn or gray cloth tops; leather Louis XV heels. —AT $6.00—Most attractive patterns in black kid or patent calf; fawn or gray cloth backs with covered Louis XV heels to match. —AT $6.00—Those popular street boots with low baby Louis XV heels—black kid, with cloth tops in fawn and gray. —Girls' black sateen bloomers well made of good quality sateen—cut full and made on button-hole waistband with good elastic at knee—50¢. Bullock's Basement Store

Women's House Dresses—$1.50

—Women will appreciate this large assortment of house dresses at Bullock's Basement Store—and they should know that the low price of $1.50 is due to a long-ago purchase in a very large quantity. —The dresses of gingham and chambray are suitable for morning or about the house wear—and there are an attractive number of styles to choose from. —Skirts are cut full, some gathered at back, others plain—colored of self material or white pique in V or square necks. —Pleats, small checks and stripes in fast colors. —Featured among these is the popular Billie Burke dress in pink, blue and stripes and checks. —Sizes range from 36 to 48—all at $1.50. Bullock's Basement Store

Boys' Pants $1.65

—Pants of serge in plain blue and navy blue—made of novelty weave suitings—all made with taped seams, belt loops and plenty of pockets. —A sturdy and serviceable garment for the boy from 6 to 17 years—$1.65. Bullock's Basement Store

MEN!

Flannel Shirts $1.35

—A very serviceable gray flannel shirt of pure wool texture. —Finished with wide shoulder yokes, open button cuffs and pockets, military collars. —Sizes 14½ to 18 at $1.35.

Wool Socks at 25¢

—Men's black socks of light weight cashmere. Mixed with wool but soft and comfortable fitting, finished with gray heel and toe. Sizes 9½ to 11½—3 pair for 75¢.

Cotton Socks, 3 Pair for 50¢

—Men's cotton socks in black, gray, tan and white with reinforced heels and toes. No seams to irritate the feet. Sizes 9½ to 11½—3 pair for 50¢.

Wool Underwear, $1.25 Garment

—Light weight ribbed shirts and drawers of wool mixed yarn, shirts finished with close fitting knit wrist bands—drawers with double gusset and neat facings. —Excellent values at $1.25 garment. Bullock's Basement Store

Sweaters for Boys—$1.25

—An all wool jersey sweater for $1.25—and just at a time when a sweater is most needed for school and play days. —These sweaters slip over the head and come in gray, navy and cardinal—sizes 6 to 12 years—$1.25.

—These were the words that greeted the Writer as he was shown the reels and reels of new fall suits, coats and dresses at $15 that Bullock's Basement Store has ready for Monday morning. —"And I want to tell you that nothing you can say will be too forceful—for if people only understood how difficult it is to buy coats, suits and dresses from manufacturers—how scarce wools are, and labor and everything that figures in the production of merchandise, why they would open their eyes with wonderment to see such high quality, workmanship and style that Bullock's is offering in these garments at $15.00. I tell you, they're remarkable!" —And the man who bought these garments was very sincere and truthful, for certainly the suits and coats and dresses are very splendid and not at all like garments that you would expect them to be for $15. —It's too bad that one has to rely on cold type to tell about them—for cold type can't tell adequately the styles and effects as they really appear to the eye. However, a few of them are sketched to serve in a small way the purpose of description.

The New Dresses at $15.00 are of Navy Serge

—and beautifully designed of navy serge in the very late types that are favored universally for fall and winter wear. —Straight line effects prevail with peg tops and panels. —The bodice is surplice, bolero, semi-fitted or simply the tied-on effect. —White satin collars are popular as well as those of self color of contrasting shades. —Trimings consist of black silk military braid, colored silk stitching, embroidery, black buttons, some tache braid, fancy buckles, satin girdles and sashes and wide belts. —Just as pretty and rich and individual as they can be—and as remarkably low in price as they are high in quality—for surely it does not seem possible that such excellent serge could be fashioned so delightfully for $15.00.

The New Suits at $15.00 are

—Tailored handsomely of serge, pebble cheviot, fancy mixtures, gabardines and whipcords. —Satin linings, alash or patch pockets, large or small collars convertible or not, as you choose. —Some have velvet trimming on collars and cuffs—velvet buckles, buttons of bone, velvet and self material. —And fashioned in Russian types—straight line models, semi-tailored with wide, narrow or double belts. Skirts are plain in front, slightly gathered in back with belt. —The fall colors are browns, gray mixtures, navy and black.

The New Coats at $15.00 are

—Big and dependable of Kersey, Fiskden Tweed, Velours, Cheviots, fancy Coatings, Plaids—lined or unlined as the weight of the material demands—and all good lengths. —The collars are large and "cumfy" and in most cases convertible. Velvet insets favor some, velvet and plush surround others, while others are just plain. —Some are of the empire types while some are cut "militarish" with huge pockets, collars and cuffs and wide or narrow belts all round. —A very delightful assortment in a good range of sizes for Monday's selling.

A SALE OF FALL MILLINERY

—The purpose of the illustration is merely to reinforce the above headline. —Look at the Hat at 50¢ (wait till you see the felt of which it is made)—and the Floppy Felt Sailor at $1.95—did you ever see the like before for so little? —Look at the feather bands at 95¢—all the trimming a hat will need—and the silk velvet hat at $1.00. —It is, in every way the most important millinery announcement, from a price standpoint, that Bullock's Basement Store has made this season—one you cannot afford to ignore. —There are to be Trimmed Hats at $3.95, $5.00, $5.50 and $6.95. —Two hats pictured at the last price—can you imagine more perfect or becoming style at any price? —Hats of silk velvet with feathers and ornaments—and Fashion that is really astonishing. —The Feather Bands and Horsehair Bands at 95¢—(a very, very low price) black and white only. —The soft Floppy Felt Hats in light shades at $1.95—several styles—ready to wear. —The Wings at 25¢ and 50¢—in black, white and colors—as unusual as are the bands. —The Light Tan Felt Hats at 50¢—are perhaps even more striking—Just a limited number. —And Most Remarkable Velvet Hats at $1.00 —Silk velvet—blocked crown—drooping or rolled brim—bound or banded with gros grain ribbon —Black only—medium sizes—Bullock's Basement Store

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws its beam—
It shows a good deal in a single gleam."
A Christmas war gift committee has been formed in Kansas City to play Santa Claus to the soldiers of the expeditionary force. One dollar will be spent on each box, in which will be placed one khaki handkerchief, paper and pencil, chocolates and raisins. The boxes will be packed and sent to the Red Cross headquarters in New York. By the middle of October they will be on their way to the men at the front.

"I may exhaust my little savings before called to go home, but if more is left than now seems probable, it can be divided between the American Tract Society and the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society," wrote Abbie S. Middleton in her will filed for probate in the Surrogate's Court in New York City. Her father was the Rev. John Carrington Middleton, who died in 1881.

In leaving to Florence Middleton a bequest of $175 and the residuary estate, the latter to be used for philanthropic purposes, the decedent said:

"She does not need my small hoard, which shall be appropriated for religious purposes. She knows why no relatives have any claim upon anything I possess. To the Society for Increase of the Ministry, Hartford, Ct., the testatrix left $990. She left bequests aggregating about $490 to other religious organizations.

Five Presbyterian religious workers in various departments of the church will leave this country soon to engage in missionary work in Persia, two of the number being Baltimoreans. The others are from New York and Stewardstown, Pa. They are answering an urgent call and are hurrying to the scene despite the war and the dangers of the submarine because of the necessity for extending the religious and relief work in that far-off land. At present Persia is in the hands of the British and Russians, with Turkey still menacing.

The party will include Rev. J. Chester Crothers and Miss Marjorie Gillespie of Baltimore, and Miss Marie Johnson of New York, and Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Jordan of Stewardstown, Pa.

Because one son had been refused admission to the army, though two had been accepted in the service, C. E. Spaulding, a merchant at Maine, Minn., enlisted in the Reserve Engineering Regiment.

"Our family must have three men in service," Spaulding said. "My son is on the battleship Santiago and another is in the First Minnesota Infantry. The third one was refused admission because he had been in the service of the army. I am an experienced railroad man, having been an engineer before retiring. I want to run a train in France for Uncle Sam."

Orders have gone from the officers of the Union Pacific Railroad to discontinue the custom of piling discarded ties along the right of way and burning them. In the interest of the conservation of fuel the old ties will be given to farmers along the line in payment for their services as fire guards on company property. Neither will worn-out freight cars be burned. The same rule will be applied with reference to old bridge timbers. Old waste from car journal boxes will be saved and used for starting fires in furnaces of the engine.

The Kingbird.
[Chicago Evening Post:] In these days, perhaps, it would be better to write about the man-of-war bird than any other, but as kings figure in the present fighting and the kingbird figures in the fighting all the time, a word or two about him may have a place in the stricken field. The scientist call the kingbird Tyrannus tyrannus, doubling up on the tyrannical significance of the thing because this bird of ours tyrannizes over all other birds, but it is grateful to say that his pecking pugnacity restrains itself in the case of birds smaller than himself. There are some good friends of the kingbird who will tell you that the tyrannus of his name is used in the extremely ancient significance, which was that of roller rather than tyrant, but the kingbird is a tyrant, nevertheless, as one can find out by asking any crow or hawk, which flaps or sails within the domain of this guardian of the fields. Some country folk call the kingbird the bee martin, because he occasionally in his insect-catching life snags up a bee. The kingbird loves the orchard. There, while his mate is covering the eggs, he takes to the tree-top to look over the landscape and the sky. When a hawk or a crow comes in sight the kingbird is off for a battle in which he does all the fighting. Occasionally, he takes a ride on the enemy's back for a yard or so, pecking his hardest to make his victim aware of the speed limit. The farmers like the kingbird, because while he is about the chickens are safe from those pirates of the air, the sharp-shinned and the Cooper hawk. There are kings and kinglets. The days of some of them, we hope, are numbered, but long live Tyrannus tyrannus!

The "Cat Squadron."
[Frank E. Evans in St. Nicholas:] Great Britain, as we have said, was the first naval power to build the battle-cruiser. Close on her heels came Germany, Russia and Japan; but all others, including the United States, have no battle-cruisers in their line of battle. It was in 1907 when the indomitable, the first one, was begun. One year later she crossed the Atlantic at a speed of a little more than twenty-five miles an hour. The inflexible and invincible battleship, and when the European war came, Great Britain had a squadron that proved of immense worth to her. In the Jutland battle, however, three of the British battle-cruisers were sunk, shells penetrating their magazines or boilers. The summer of a super-dreadnaught would most probably have proved too strong for the shells that destroyed these battle-cruisers. The famous "Cat Squadron," so called because it included the Lion and Tiger, is today the last word in the battle-cruiser; but in a few years the American battle-cruisers that are now being built will far outstrip the "cats" in every feature.

—32 inches wide at $1.25 yd.

Quotations on Outing Flannels that today's market would not permit —Stripes, checks, plain colors—soft fleeced fancy outings—in several qualities.

—27 in. Standard at 15c—27 in. Amoskeag, "1921," 18c—27 in. A. Teazledown at 20c—27 in. Imperial at 20c.
—Ask the dealer you know what today's quotations on quantities of Amoskeag "1921" outings are—and —Buy Flannels Now at Bullock's—2nd floor.

—Suit Cases as little as $1.15, as much as $100; Dress and Steamer Trunks as little as $5, as much as $145.

Wardrobe Trunks $23.50

—Doubt it—if you must—but come and see—even then—perhaps —you will have to rub your eyes to believe. But these Wardrobe Trunks are real—and big—and strong—so real—and big—and strong that when you do see them you may become even more incredulous.

—$23.50 is a startlingly low price for a Steamer Wardrobe.

—Then there are other Wardrobe Trunks—in fact, 75 Different Styles—in Wardrobes

—in Bullock's Trunk Store—arranged both for men and women—and ranging from $23.50 to $145.00.

—Doesn't this indicate SIZE—To prove character you must investigate—but CHARACTER is present in volume—CHARACTER that recognizes and insists upon Quality, Value and Service—

—Bullock's—Fifth Floor.

"Crepe Legere"—at 75c

—Is a finely woven half silk crepe de chine that many women are using——for lovely Lingerie—It is similar to Georgette in texture and is splendid for waists and dresses, too——38 inches wide, at 75c yard. Second Floor.

An Ivy for You

—An ill-fitting corset leads to an ill-fitting frock—no matter how adept the fashionier may be.

—And an ill-fitting corset leads to the improper molding of the figure.

—Are you sure of your corset?—Is it properly fitted?—Is it the right corset for you?

—The Ivy Corset is sold by Bullock's because Bullock's has every confidence in the Ivy. —And Bullock's corsetieres will fit an Ivy to your figure perfectly—in a way, perhaps, that will assure you instantly that the Ivy is the right corset for you Fourth Floor

Men's Belts

—have broken through the Jewelry lines—
—and have consolidated their positions—
—and are maintaining them—

—which merely emphasizes the importance of Bullock's Jewelry Section in its interest for men—

—There are Cigarette Cases, Cigar Holders, Match Cases, Fobs—Oh! Ever so many things——But these Sterling Silver Buckled Belts, with new engraving and finishes at $4.50 to $6.00, are "The Order of the Day"— —At Bullock's, first floor.

Vogue

—The patterns of the great Style Genie—
—The Forewords of Fashion—translated into working models for the delight of every woman who would be In Advance!
—Vogue Patterns are at Bullock's Second Floor.

—No beaten path so good that it must not allow the possibility of a better—No man's "I CAN'T" that is not another man's "I WILL"— —No market advance so sudden or so great that it is anticipated by some one—

—Forehandness—and foresight are important essentials in the development of a business—they have been and are most important elements in the building of Bullock's—and of Bullock's silk store—

—The silk situation as it is was not unforeseen—nor was Bullock's idea—the face of possibilities—

—Personality—implies activity. So that —These silk values that Bullock's announce for Monday—are not entirely accidental—highly improbable as they appear

—They are real, and tangible and should be irresistible.

This 40-in. Crepe de Chine at 95c

Might well have leaped "the canyon of impossibility" to be on your side—
—Monday—
—5 pieces of pink; 5 pieces of maize—two of the best underwear colors—40 in. wide—

2800 yards of Silks at $1.45 yd.

—include values that are almost as astonishing as would be moonlight at noon time. 35 inch fancy taffetas and satins—(Plaids, stripes, checks)—Dresden silks, brocades—and embroidered patterns in colors such as taupe, brown, pink and white. Even 40 inch Brocade Poplins—in taupe, gray, navy, blue, Russian green, apricot, mahogany—at $1.45 yard—

—36 in. Wash Satin in white and pink—$1.45.
—36 in. Chiffon Taffeta, evening colors, at $1.45.
—36 in. "Soiree" Silk Nite, pink, flesh—$1.45.
—36 in. Silk La Jerez in pink only—$1.45.
—36 in. Silk Moire—Nile and light blue—$1.45.
—36 in. White Gros Grain Nite, pink, flesh—$1.45.
—36 in. White Satin—most as unusual—$1.45.
—40 in. Crepe Moire—evening shades at $1.45.
—40 in. Silk Poplin—value at $1.45.

—10 pieces 32-in. Wash Satin in White and Flesh Color, New at $2

All Silk Chiffon Velvet $5.75 yd.

—42 inches wide—in a full color range—A Velvet that is on its way to a higher price—Now $5.75 yd.

A Little World of Black Satins

—answering the command of Fashion that means the Vogue of Black Gown—
Black Satins under the following names—

Electra at $1.85
Duchess at $1.50
Etoile at $2.25
Trevreau at $3.00
Charmeuse at $2.50
Crepe at $7.50
Mirror Satin at $3.00
And ever so many others—a rare range.

Then There Are Those Wonderful Wonderful Furs of the Loom

—The shaggy, shiny ecstasies in gray and black and brown—short and curly (as the lamb); long and silken (as the fox) and—but you should see them—You will not wonder the little busy animals are jealous—they can hardly tell their own. See these Furs of the Loom—at Bullock's, Monday—2nd floor.

Damask!

—Irish Linen
—The Royal weave for table wear—

—And there is a deal of the luck of the 4 leafed clover in this fact—that these splendid

—Linen Damasks

—Are at Bullock's as they are—particularly in two qualities—as follow—

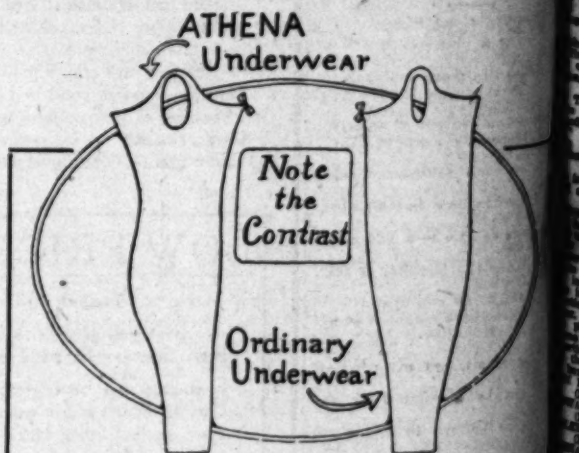

—Heavy Damask—in Rose, Acanthus, Scroll, Ivy and Basket Shamrock, Rose and Key—Poppy, Chrysanthemum, Lily, Phlox, and other designs—

—In cloths, 2x2 yards at $5, to cloths, 2x4 yards, at $10.

—And Napkins, $6.50 and $7.50 dozen—

—Extra Quality Irish Linen—in 20 plain center round designs and sixteen sizes, including Louis XV, Wildflower, Woodfern, Grape, Renaissance and other patterns.

—Cloths 2x2 yards, at $7, to 2 1/2 x 4 yard cloths at $20.
—Napkins, $9, $11 and $12.50 dozen.
—At Bullock's, 2nd floor.

OPEN CHILDREN'S HOME.

Prominent Speakers Assist in Dedication of the New Bath Structure.

Gen. Ballington Booth, who arrived in Los Angeles two days ago, will be the principal speaker at the opening of the Maude B. Booth Home for Children at No. 451 South Hollywood avenue by the Volunteers of America.

The opening, which included an elaborate program with a flag raising, took place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Edwin P. Ryland, D.D., president of the local organization, spoke for the directors, giving the history of the home and the success that has been accomplished.

All during the program the voices of the little children of the home were heard in appropriate songs. A large number of persons were present.

Billy Sunday and his entire party were swimming at Blimbi Baths after the tabernacle meeting last night. There were thirty-five in the party altogether, and the entire party was turned over to them for an hour of enjoyment.

MISSOURI PUTS BAN ON TREE SIGNPOSTS.

The Missouri highway department has issued instructions to road overseers and county highway engineers to remove immediately all advertising signs from trees growing along the public highways. This is one of the requirements of the new road law.

PARIS STATEMENT.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PARIS, Sept. 29.—The official statement tonight reads:

"There was no infantry action. The artillery action was quite intense on the Aisne front, particularly in the sectors of Panthion and Hurlbut. On the right bank of the Meuse the bombardment continued violently on both sides north of the Bois de Chantilly."

"On September 27 two German airplanes were brought down by our pilots. Our escadrilles bombarded at Staden, Roulers and Courmarche and cantonnements in that region."

"Belgian communication: There was the usual activity on the part of both armies. On September 28-29 a very violent bombardment occurred between Neuport and Dixmude. Numerous German patrols attempted to raid our lines, but the attempts were without success except at Landmark 16 on the Yser, where the enemy entered one of our sapheads, but was driven out immediately."

"Our artillery has carried out fires of destruction on several enemy batteries, some of which had been engaged in heavy shelling near Knacke."

"Today our airplanes have been very active. Two Belgian aviators pursued last night enemy machines which were proceeding in the direction of Dunkirk and Calais."

"Eastern theater, September 28: On the Struma, in the region of the Vardar, there was quite marked artillery activity on both sides. Several encounters took place along the Struma and in the Devol Valley."

"FIGHTING IN AFRICA."
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 29.—Further retirement of the German forces holding out against the British in German East Africa is reported in an official statement today. The statement reads:

"In the Molemkura Valley we were engaged throughout Thursday on the road from Nakiko to Napungo, north of the river."

"In the Lukeledi Valley, the enemy evacuated his strong positions

The position was maintained and strengthened, notwithstanding the fact that the enemy, having recovered from a surprise, repeatedly counter-attacked.

IN VERDUN SECTOR.

More Food Is Bureau Slogan

Organization Formed to Advise Farmers of County.

Ranchers Unite to Make Bountiful Larder.

Clearinghouse of Ideas Production Planned.

To co-operate with the farmers of Los Angeles county in increasing the production of foodstuffs is the purpose of a new organization which was organized yesterday at a meeting of representatives of the various farming communities in the county, held in the auditorium of the University of Southern California.

Temporary officers for the new organization were elected. They were: President, Volney Davis, of the University of California; Vice-President, Will R. Moore, of the University of California; Secretary, Dr. H. J. Moore, of the University of California.

The organization of the farm bureau when perfected will provide for one farm advisor and five assistants. The farm advisor and his assistants will act as a clearinghouse for ideas for increasing production between the farmers and the experts of the Department of Agriculture.

It is believed that the farm bureau will increase production here. They will give the farmers data on the latest methods of scientific farming; they will advise on the proper use of fertilizers; they will advise on the proper use of insecticides; they will advise on the proper use of plant diseases; and they will advise on the proper use of scientific methods on farms.

The Food Production Act provides the funds for the project. In the United States, the total production of foodstuffs is valued at $4,000,000,000, of which $750,000,000 is produced in California. Already about 100,000 acres of land have been organized with 225 farm bureaus and 225 farm advisors.

Bureaus of farm advisors have already been established in San Diego, Imperial, Santa Barbara and Riverside counties and the organization of bureaus is nearly perfected in San Bernardino and Orange counties.

With the establishment of the bureau of farm advisors in Los Angeles county, a movement is being launched for increasing the production of foodstuffs in Southern California. The fact that over two hundred farmers attended yesterday's meeting is evidence of the desire of the farmers of this county to do their part in supplying the nation with foodstuffs.

Kansas City Man will Enter the Local Field.

To Pay Big Rental for New Downtown Hostelry.

Building to be Enlarged at End of Two Years.

The eleven-story hotel now being completed by Frank Simpson at the corner of Sixth and Grand avenues has been leased to

John A. Ewins, a Kansas City man for a term of ten years. The deal, which was made through the agency of E. W. Cason & Co.,

Associated Hotel Brokers, is considered to involve a total rental of over $300,000 and is one of the largest leases closed in this city in several months.

The new house, it is said, will represent a cost, with its furnishings, of over $300,000. There are in the building, the exterior of the hotel is of rough red tapestry brick, ornamented with white terracotta and marble. There are ten room

floors, a main floor, a basement and a sub-basement in the structure.

The main lobby is in the corner of the building, facing the street intersections and is about eighty feet square. Marble, mahogany, and gracefully sculptured columns and ceilings will give tone to this apartment, which is to be lighted with indirect illuminative fixtures. The lobby will contain the general of-ice, a checkroom, writing-room, and other features. There is a mezzanine floor in the rear of the big room.

On the upper floors, the equipment will be lavish, every room having a bath finished in marble and tile. The woodwork will be of mahogany. Special attention will be given to the decorations. Two fast elevators will be installed. The building was planned by Morgan, Walls

& Morgan.

The hotel will be furnished and opened not later than December 1, according to present indications. It will be only the first unit of what is to be a larger house, plans having been drawn for an adjacent wing on

Grand avenue, work on which is to be started before the expiration of two years.

The lessee of the building has announced that the new hotel will be called the Savoy, after the Kansas

City house long conducted by his father, Frank Ewins, and himself.

In addition to having operated the Savoy successfully, John A. Ewins was for several years manager of the Baltimore in the same city.

The elder Ewins recently purchased a beautiful home in the Wilshire district, one costing in the neighborhood of $40,000. The father and son are widely known in hotel organization affairs. The former has retired from all active business.

The service which I have received from your establishment is more than commendable. I have always been treated in a courteous manner and such work as has been necessary for me to have done in your shop, has always been done very promptly and at a reasonable charge.

The fact that I am today purchasing my second Paige automobile should be sufficient proof as to how I value the merits of the Paige car.

Dr. J. A. McGarry says:

has become involved in the greatest war in world's history he leans heavily upon the gigantic motor car industry, which, in a very few years, has become the biggest thing of its kind in the world.

TRANSPORTATION.

The automobile factories of this country, which, a few months ago, were engaged in peacefully turning out runabouts, touring cars, delivery wagons and dump-trucks are now turning out new housing bachelors turning out a constant stream of armored cars, airplane motors, war trucks, tanks, ambulances, farm tractors and everything that goes to make for efficiency in war time.

GETTING BETTER.

The great war has done more to increase the efficiency of the American built motor car than any other one thing. Our products have been perfected until now they almost control their various fields. The big tanks which the British suddenly injected into the trench warfare with such telling effect were adaptations of the American track-laying principle.

SECRETIVE.

Owing to the policy of the government regarding war orders of all kinds it is impossible to give accurate figures as to the number of automobiles, trucks, airplane motors, etc., being turned out. It is known, however, that it is proposed to have 25,000 airplanes in action next summer and that more are at least twice that number of motors.

The Packard Motor Car Company has promised 4000 trucks to the government before next July and it is known that there are almost 1000 of the make already in service.

The Riker, Kelly-Springfield, Jeffery Quad, Mack, Pierce Arrow, White and a number of other makes are now in use with more coming up.

BIG ORDERS.

Though no official confirmation has come to the company it is reported that Packard Motor Car Company has been apportioned part of the recent $21,000,000 order for motor cars placed by the United States War Department. The order is said to cover 5200 cars, the Pierce-Arrow and Locomobile companies receiving part of it.

Henry Ford, once a leading packer, is making 300,000 pistons for the new Liberty Motor, and is delivering them to the government at cost price. It is said the Ford Company has a large government order for airplane motors, but it will be some time yet before they will be able to begin their manufacture, probably four or five months.

The Fisher Body Company is filling a large government airplane body order and several others are known to have government orders.

The plant being built by Henry Leland, late head of the Cadillac Motor Company, is being hurried to completion with greatest speed possible and will eventually employ 2000 men in the manufacture of airplane engines.

MANY MOTOR CARS USED IN WAR.

The principal Entente belligerents have about 170,000 motor cars, and the Central Powers have 130,000 engaged in the war. The cars in use by the Entente powers are distributed as follows:

England, 30,000, including 15,000 for conveyance of supplies; France, 40,000, including 25,000 for carrying supplies; Russia, 40,000, including 20,000 for carrying supplies; Italy, 10,000, including 5000 for carrying supplies; Belgium, 10,000; Rumania, 1700; and Serbia, 125.

The Central Powers are using their cars in the war as follows:

Germany, 100,000, including 25,000 for carrying supplies; Austria-Hungary, 30,000, including 1000 for carrying supplies; Turkey, 750, including 50 for conveying goods, and Bulgaria, 800.

WAR ORDERS DO NOT INTERFERE.

GENERAL PRODUCTION KEPT MOVING ALONG.

Reports from the Big Automobile Center show that the industry is booming as never before, and material and labor are only causes for worry.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 28.—Business conditions in the automobile industry are particularly optimistic. Manufacturers of automobiles are selling for $1500 and less and themselves unable to care for all of the business offered, and makers of cars selling between $1000 and $2000 are enjoying the most prosperous business in their history.

War orders are being filled for both trucks and passenger cars by several Detroit companies. These orders placed by the government and by the Allied nations are so arranged that they do not interfere with the general production of passenger cars and trucks or parts. The orders being placed give proof of a continuous and increasing demand for automobiles, and in consequence optimistic as regards future business.

The material and labor situation still remains unsettled. Materials are constantly increasing in price, and labor, because of the uncertainty of the draft and because of the increasing demands effective in the last thirty days, is proving a difficult problem.

MOTOR STOCKS.

Weakness of some of the motor stocks, especially the General Motors, is said to be caused by "shorts" in an effort to push it down so as to buy at a lower figure and thereby take a smaller loss. General Motors working in the country with hundreds of unfilled orders, and the downward movement on the stock market means nothing to them.

Reports from Lansing, Mich., show that the Olds Motor Works, subsidiary of the General Motors Corporation, has passed the Oakland Motor Car Company, another General Motors subsidiary, in sales for the last year. Conditions among the General Motors divisions show that the combined companies sold 18,117 cars and trucks in August, 1917, compared with 17,117 in the same month of the preceding year, an increase of 5.8 per cent. These sales are at the rate of a production of 217,000 cars per year. The Buick division sold 10,874 cars in August, an increase of 2483 cars as against the same month of the preceding year and is now producing 550 cars per day, which it expects to increase within a week to over 600 cars per day. The Oldsmobile division sold 2773 cars in August, an increase of 1987 cars over the same period of the preceding year. The Oakland company, displaying remarkable gains, sold 2668 cars this year in August as compared with 2193 for the same period last year. The Cadillac division sold 723 cars in August this year as compared with 87 in 1916.

An optimistic straw was the forming of a new company this week by officials and stockholders of the Hudson Motor Company, for the manufacture of a cheap car for which there is always a demand, and manufacturers of this class are all far behind in their orders. It can be seen that the industry is not in no way be considered a promoter of the Hudson. The company has a capital of $500,000.

Truck manufacturers, while facing smaller demands from European Allies, are now bending every effort toward increasing output on account of United States governmental demands, in addition to normal business requirements. Truck output in the United States in 1916 was just over 100,000. This year it is estimated at from 150,000 to 200,000.

COOPER WINS FRESNO RACE.

Captures Match Event from A. H. Patterson.

Hudson Driver Comes Back in Last Event.

Fast Time is Made by Both of the Drivers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

FRESNO, Sept. 29.—A. H. Patterson of Visalia, driving his fast Hudson super-six, won two heats of the main event at the Fair Grounds this afternoon, while Earl Cooper with his fast Stutz captured the other heat.

Cooper had stung Patterson rather severely in the second event of the day, a special twenty-five-mile match race, winning handily in the very fast time, for the local track, of 21m. 34 1/2. The two have had many a thrilling duel, but in this race Cooper's superiority seemed most evident.

Patterson's comeback in the final event was a distinct sensation. The race was composed of three heats, each of five miles and the first heat was won by Patterson.

PACKARD TRUCKS

Trucks of all work! No trail too steep or task too hard for the Packard truck to master.

Hill-climbing with a three-ton steam boiler for burden is only an incident in the day's work of the Brea Canyon Oil Company's Packard truck.

The Company's wells in the Fullerton district, California, are located on steep hillsides. In delivering machinery and supplies to them 20 per cent grades are encountered every day.

Rough-shod tests for power, brakes and all-round endurance! This Packard has stood up under them without faltering now for two years. More than fifty other Packards are in use by Southern California oil companies, both as tank trucks and in rouabout field service.

Burning cheap distillate instead of costly gasoline, the saving on fuel is further increased by the four-speed transmission, which multiplies pulling power for bad starts and heavy going. Anthony service insures low upkeep.

Silent, chainless, seven economical sizes, 1 ton to 6 1/2 tons.

Coming Auto Show to Feature Special Bodies

AT AUTO SHOW.

Many Distinctive Types are to be Shown.

Some Buyers Insist on New "Styles."

Local Firms Turning Out Show Bodies.

When the doors of the Billy Sunday tabernacle swing open on November 12 for the big automobile show, a collection of auto bodies that will startle the natives will be on view. The day when all automobiles of the same make looked alike is past and the coming show will present a wonderful assortment of new types.

WELL BUILT.
Automobiles have been perfected until it is pretty hard to go wrong.

ALIGNMENT OF WHEELS COUNTS.

One of the most frequent causes of excessive tire wear is faulty alignment of the front wheels, which causes them to scrape the tire along the road surface at each revolution. Whenever excessive tire wear develops, the wheels should be inspected for misalignment and if the car owner is not familiar with the method used in aligning, he should have the service station do the job. The charge for aligning the wheels varies, but the average and this usually includes a complete inspection and adjustment of the steering mechanism from the post forward. Front wheels are always cambered and gathered; that is, they "toe in" in front, making the distance from wheel to wheel in front less than that in the rear. The car owner who proposes aligning his wheels should get the exact figures from the manufacturer or from the service station.

PLANETARY BANDS
SOMETIMES CATCH.

It infrequently happens that when the first speed pedal of the Ford car is depressed the motor stalls without apparent cause, because the engine has been running fast enough to take care of any ordinary load. The trouble will be found to be caused by the fact that the first and second speed bands are overlapping and rubbing against the reverse band.

Some of the things you will see at the auto show.

The upper photograph shows a sport body which will be placed on a Chandler chassis for the show. The lower photograph shows the new Cole tour sedan which can be converted into five different bodies.

If you put up $750 for a car you are pretty sure to get your money's worth, and the same holds true if you spend $500. Not only are the cars mechanically good but the stock bodies turned out are like some of the highest class.

With the perfection of the motor, the transmission, the cooling and ignition systems has come the perfection of the body-building art and the stock models of 1918 are far better built and far more beautiful than the specially constructed bodies of two years ago.

DIFFERENTIATION.
But the day is coming when the man who has money enough to buy a high grade car is not going to be satisfied to buy the stock body and have it look like everybody else's car of the same make, but will instead purchase the chassis and have a body built according to his own ideas. The stock bodies are well made, but not sufficiently distinctive for some buyers.

The automobile show of a few years ago consisted of an exhibition of stock models, and many times the glory went to the man who had the prettiest body, whereas the man with a fine chassis but a hastily thrown-together body lost many sales.

Nowadays you can't fool a prospective buyer that way. People who go to buy automobiles know that certain makes of cars are recognized as being of the highest class, and they are going to buy the good car whether they like the body or not.

This is where the body builder and the painter come in. One of the first men to recognize the local demand for something different was George Bantel, and now his Mercedes comes with the stock Mercedes body, but no paint, and for a couple of years back every Mercedes purchaser could choose his own color scheme.

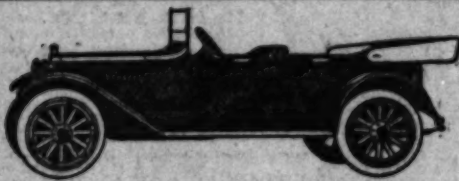

Now the public demand is going still further and calling for not only distinctive coloring, but something different in the way of design. For many years Brewster, Holbrook, Fleetwood, Fisher and other well-known coach-building firms have been turning out specially designed bodies.

Harry Anthony now has special bodies being delivered to him on the standard Packard Twin Six chassis from Fleetwood. He has named three types of body the Ambassador, the Pasadena and the Elitist, and these cars are making a terrific hit with those who care for something distinctive.

MILITARY ROAD TO SHORTEN DISTANCE.

Work is now under way on a section of the new military highway along the backbone of the Sierra, just inside the California line, which, when completed, will shorten by twenty miles the route between Lake Tahoe and Yosemite Valley, according to Foster Curry, who drove to Los Angeles from the valley last week in his Cadillac Eight.

Curry, who stopped for conference with State Engineer Horton and Merrill, says that the new road, which will furnish the connecting link between the beautiful Walker River Canyon and the present road to Lake Tahoe, terminating at Woodford, will be completed within a year. Engineer Horton is at work on the link from Bridgeport and Hammond station to the entrance of Leavitt Canyon, which will also be shorter than the other road.

Hupmobile buyers, for the most part, are car-experienced.

They choose the Hupmobile because its goodness is greater value per dollar of price.

They choose it because its style is good for a year or two to come.

They choose it because, along with its remarkable performance, they have four-cylinder simplicity and economy.

Driver Should Learn Mechanism of His Car.

STEERING IS COMPLICATED.

Factors Enter into the Guidance of Car.

Mechanism Requires Regular Looking After.

Attention is Important but not Onerous.

The modern motor car owner will be surprised to be told that he doesn't know what really good steering means. The reason is that many factors contribute to help in understanding the easy guidance of the modern car that many of them are overlooked by most owners and the result is that they consider very satisfactory steering what is really very far from perfect.

ALL SIMILAR. All modern automobiles use essentially the same steering system, consisting of the wheel, fastened to a post, connected by linkage to a moving knuckle attached to the side of the front axle, the two knuckles are connected by a further link by turning the steering wheel.

The steering gear, properly speaking, is the mechanism at the lower end of the steering post, and the different types take their name from the form of power used in them. There is the worm and wheel type, worm and sector, screw and nut, rack and pinion. All are designed for accomplishing the same end, and are nothing more than a reduction of the steering wheel. The worm and wheel and the screw and nut are the most commonly in use.

ALIGNMENT. It is important that the wheels shall be properly aligned, if the car is to steer with ease. Now all wheels are aligned and tied-in to a certain point. The amount of this varies in different cars, but the owner should have his wheels aligned at least twice a year. There are certain methods of making this test, but it is simple enough, if the operator knows how, but if he is not familiar with the proper procedure he should have the car to his service station and have the test made, the car being minimal.

Correction. If the alignment of the wheels is to be incorrect, it may be corrected by manipulating the tie rod. This is the rod which connects the steering knuckle to the axle, and which has a movable joint at either end. Hard steering is often caused by misalignment of the wheels through an error in the tie-rod or rather, and a correction of this fault will bring a marked improvement in the guidance of the vehicle.

ALL WORKING. The ordinary owner does not realize that practically every part of the steering system is in motion while the car is running. Even the wheels that appear to be as smooth as a billiard ball, in reality are full of joints and joints which impart a jounce to the car. This jounce is caused by the fact that the steering system is not perfectly rigid, and the reason for this is that the steering system is made of wood or metal, and wood is not as strong as metal, and metal is not as strong as steel.

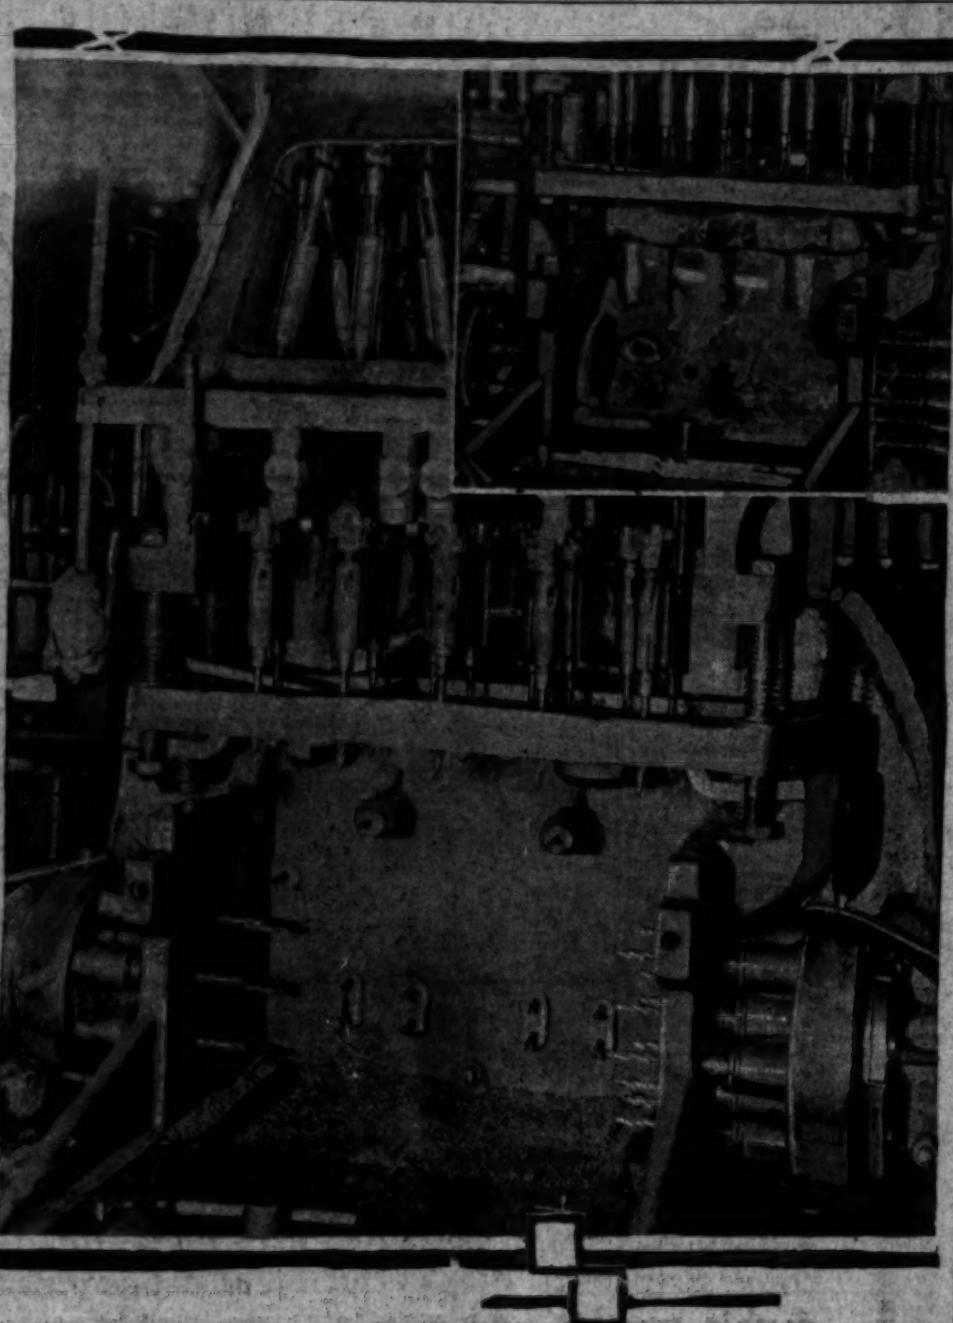

EVER since the GRANT SIX appeared as the first six to sell for less than $1000, people have wondered how so good a car could be sold at so low a price. Today they wonder how the GRANT SIX price is maintained while all other popular priced sixes have been compelled to advance to prices $60 to $110 higher than the GRANT.

So here's the answer: GRANT SIX is so manifestly the best looking and best built car under $1000 that rapidly increasing sales have allowed the factory to offset increasing costs.

Mechanical efficiency.

Here is a machine which bores forty-eight holes in one operation, drilling many holes in a motor casting in one minute and forty-eight seconds. It is installed in the Maxwell factory at Detroit, Mich., and represents an investment of $50,000. The drills are to be even projecting through the holes in the walls of this hungry metal worker. They protrude downward from the top, up through the bottom, and forward from the back and side parts of the monster machine. When in use the main motor casting is placed on the base of the drilling machine and made fast. It fits tight on the base and when the power is applied the drills automatically bore into the casting. In less than two minutes thereafter all the valve stem holes and other drill holes required in the efficient and standardized power plant are drilled to a fraction of a thousandth of an inch. The capacity of the super-dreadnaught drillers is 500 motors daily. Operators of this battery of costly machines must bring great skill and mechanical knowledge to their tasks. They are paid from $9 to $11 a day for their work.

Style and Comfort

In All Seasons

THE Chandler convertible sedan has found high favor among discriminating buyers, meeting with popularity fully justified by the extraordinary character of the famous Chandler chassis.

This new sedan body, built by Fisher, is the most attractive of the seven-passenger convertible type yet produced. It is exceptionally roomy and comfortable, deeply upholstered and mounted on springs which absorb all the stress and shock of the roadway. The left side door is immediately opposite the driver's seat, so that the driver, to get in and out of the car, need not disturb its other occupants. The auxiliary seats face forward, folding down into the backs of the front seats as in the Chandler touring car, and offering the same comfortable riding qualities. The forward side windows and the door windows lower away entirely, while the rear side windows lower half way and are entirely removable, as are the window posts. The workmanship throughout is of pleasing refinement.

The Chandler now leads all high grade sixes in popularity and sales because of its splendid service on the road.

Our Selling in Silence

When a man comes into our show room nobody argues with him. Nobody seeks to prove anything by mere words. We have something better to do. We get him into a Liberty car—we let him drive. We let him ride. He gets the facts of Liberty "supremacy in satisfaction" quicker than we can tell him.

You know cars. You have tried out others of moderate size. You know they take strength to drive—they have to be held on to the road—they have to be slowed down for the rough spots.

Not so the Liberty.

Liberty riding comfort is different from anything you ever experienced. You can drive over the roughest roads—with a long, easy swing.

This car is the easiest driver we ever saw. No wonder, with a gear shift that does its work silently and smoothly, with a clutch that puts driving fatigue out of fashion, almost yielding to the weight of your foot, with an emergency brake that you can pull with one finger for a quick, sure stop every time.

Why should we talk about a car that does its own talking?

We don't and we won't.

Come into our showroom and find out for yourself what this new kind of motoring means—based on correct engineering design for the owner's satisfaction.

The Liberty will show you—as it showed us—that motoring service of the highest character has at last been achieved in a car of moderate size.

The Car That Doesn't Quarrel With Your Pocketbook

THERE is one big reason why Inter-State cars have been popular in the hands of Inter-State owners—

Because of the small expense necessary to operate one of these cars.

There is a great deal more to buying a car than simply laying out the purchase price.

It is well to consider carefully what sort of a record a car has made in regard to service expense.

You can't have much enjoyment out of a car if it is continually in the repair shop for some minor adjustment or repair.

A vision of a repair shop was continually before the minds of the makers of this car from the very first.

It has been their endeavor, constantly, to build a medium priced car that would give consistent performance at the smallest operating cost possible.

Thousands of owners have proved that the efforts of the makers have been rewarded in the Inter-State.

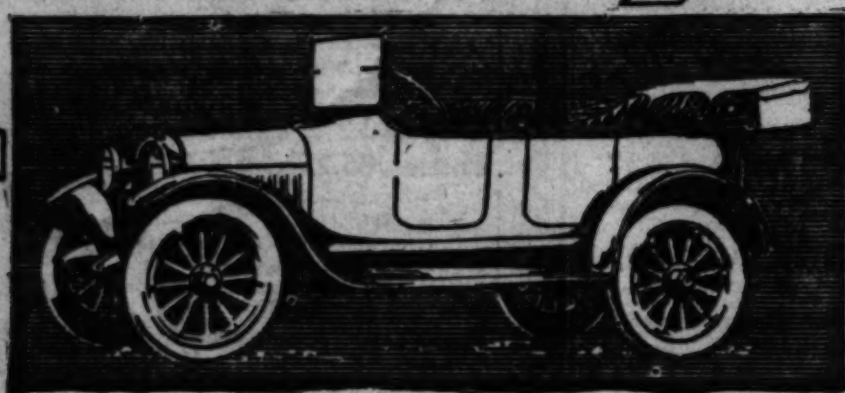

It will pay you to keep this fact well in mind before you buy. Drop in today and let us show you why Inter-State cars can be operated cheaply.

Good Roads and Campsites Welcome Tourists

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S GRADES.

TORREY PINES A HIGH-GEAR HILL.

AND ONCE IT WAS A TERROR TO ALL MOTORISTS.

Skill of State Highway Engineers has Transformed Once-terrible Grade into One that is Easy for All Cars in All Kinds of Weather. Torrey Pines are Difficult to Find.

Because it is the only grade of any consequence whatever on El Camino Real, between Los Angeles and San Diego, Torrey Pines grade takes rank among those best known.

Did you ever get stuck in the mud on this grade?

Here is a grade between Los Angeles and San Diego that at every motorist takes without giving it a thought and yet only three or four years ago it was practically impassable in wet weather. Any old-timer can tell you about it. The car is a Hudson supercar from which the lower photograph was taken, looking north from the grade.

SOME TIMELY HINTS ABOUT COTTER PINS.

It is unnecessary to spread the ends of cotter pins a great deal, though many car owners make this mistake, which renders it difficult to get the pin out when that becomes necessary. Spread the ends just enough so that the pin cannot be pulled out with the fingers. Sometimes the ends of cotter pins spring apart so that it is impossible to insert them in the hole where it is desired to use the pin. Hold the split ends against a hard flat surface and with a hammer gently strike the top of the pin. It will be found that the ends of the pin will come together and the pin can be slid into position without trouble.

EASTERN FUEL IS OF LOWER GRADE.

That the owners of automobiles and trucks in Southern California are fortunate in that they use a higher grade of fuel than is dispensed in the East and the Middle West, according to C. G. Harpess of the Master Carburetor Corporation, who recently returned from a business trip. "The eastern fuel, much of it has a paraffin base, while that which we use here is of asphaltum, and back there one hears countless cars and trucks sputtering away, and in many instances this is caused by poor fuel, although inefficient carburetion has something to do with it."

TRUCK LINE ADDED BY VETERAN DEALER.

The agency for the Commerce light delivery truck has changed hands and this line will now be handled by F. M. Sinnabugh, the local agent for the Menominee and the Gramm-Bernstein line of commercial cars. Mr. Sinnabugh now has a full line of trucks ranging from the fast light delivery car to the huge heavy work Gramm-Bernstein.

Warning.

No more can people who get locked in Griffith Park when the gates close at 8 p.m. plead ignorance. The Auto Club of Southern California has put up warning signs and W. W. Conover hereby gives warning that there are no exceptions to the rule that all must be out of the park by 8 p.m. or else stay overnight inside.

to the Southern California motorist. The road-holding motorist, educated to hope for some such provision in the coming out-of-doors in America. The club representative in the thirteen states formed a working party to secure the removal of more and better free camps. Word was received from Secretary Mitchell that the club and San Luis Obispo were thrown open, and the heavily patronized, long way in which the club was so far as this type of convenience is concerned.

WOW! SOME THINGS
A battery of twelve motor-driven street cleaning machines, purchased by the New York cleaning department. The tanks hold 1000 gallons of water and are equipped with stone and forty inches of steel.

The pines from which the grade takes its name are perhaps the most interesting of their species to be found in the United States, for they are the rarest known to American science. On this one spot on the promontory by Dodged River, and on lonely Santa Rosa Island of the Santa Barbara group are Torrey Pines to be found, and nowhere else in the world. The pine tree is a cold-weather creature, and to find a pine at sea level in such a semitropical situation as the Torrey Pine occurs in is unusual to say the least. Evidently the Torrey Pine was one of nature's experiments that did not turn out wholly to suit the old lady, and she is removing the evidence of her error as far as possible. Such a limited range for a distinct species of tree is almost without parallel in botany, and the little group of sprawling pines is almost as interesting to the botanist as a surviving colony of dodos would prove to an ornithologist.

SPEEDOMETER DRIVE NEEDS ATTENTION.

A much-neglected part of the mechanism is the speedometer drive, which the car owner seldom inspects or lubricates. If the driving gears of this part are lubricated once a week, they will operate more quietly for a considerably longer period.

Southern California leads in the establishment of public camp sites for traveling motorists, according to a report yesterday by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Officials of that organization are long been endeavoring to secure co-operation of various municipalities in the vital problem of providing adequate camping grounds for those motorists who arrive in the East with the desire to spend much time as possible in the most pleasant, and the day's drive is a fruit.

TEN CITIES
A survey of the automobile camps in the present shows that the southern part of the country has secured the greatest number of camps which will be open to the public. It is estimated that the Automobile Club authorities that have 25,000 automobile camps in the United States, of which the Automobile Club of Southern California has the largest number, which come in from the East via the overland route, "bringing their equipment with them, and the number of them expect to increase camps.

UP TO DATE
Pasadena, Tulare, Los Angeles, po, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Grande, Visalia, Riverdale, and Mohave either have or are planning adequate provisions for their desire in this respect. It is stated that the Automobile Club of Southern California is not imposing a hotel on the roadside, but is endeavoring to provide a door camp sites would be in the vicinity of the road, and economic significance of the problem is concerned, there is no apprehension on the part of the owners.

WELL FIRED
Those free camps which have far been opened are now being run, water, fire, and other necessary arrangements. Some are so situated as to bring the motorist in close touch with nature, and repair shops. Los Angeles has provided at Monte Vista Park, and the motorist is welcome to stay as long as they choose. The club's touring season is now in progress, and the club's headquarters are in the city, and steps may be taken to secure a suitable camping ground for the future for the club's headquarters one closer to the center of the new district.

The camp which was opened by San Diego, and the club's headquarters are in the city, and steps may be taken to secure a suitable camping ground for the future for the club's headquarters one closer to the center of the new district.

BIG FELLOWS
A fleet of four trucks, of 1500 capacity, make the trip of 1500 miles, averaging 1500 miles a day. This distance, in the past time, is possible for the club's touring season. Each truck carries a load of tires from the Akron to Boston, and the return trip. The truck is a 1917 model, and the return trip. The truck is a 1917 model, and the return trip.

ECONOMY.
They also claim that the economy and a reduction in the cost of operation has resulted; as the club has been in operation for some time, the records show that the club's touring season is now in progress, and the club's headquarters are in the city, and steps may be taken to secure a suitable camping ground for the future for the club's headquarters one closer to the center of the new district.

WOMEN DRIVERS DETROIT TAXI

A significant influence in the growing shortage of chauffeurs is embodied in the recent advertisement of the Detroit Taxi Company, Inc., to operate their electric cabs. The "cops" of the feminine drivers would be employed during the winter months, and the company is offering a bonus of $1000 to the first woman driver who is employed during the winter months, and the company is offering a bonus of $1000 to the first woman driver who is employed during the winter months.

This advertisement is a splendid opportunity for the company to offer a bonus of $1000 to the first woman driver who is employed during the winter months, and the company is offering a bonus of $1000 to the first woman driver who is employed during the winter months.

Ten Cities Provide Free Camping Grounds.

Auto Club Figures Show Lead at This.

Southern California leads America in the establishment of free auto camps. According to a report made yesterday by the Automobile Club of Southern California, officials of that organization have long been endeavoring to secure the co-operation of various municipalities in the vital problem of providing adequate conveniences for those motorists who arrive from the East with the desire to spend as much time as possible in the state where the weather is almost always pleasant, and the club's efforts have borne fruit.

TEN CITIES. A survey of the situation here at the present shows that ten cities in the southern part of the state have acceded to the general demand which will be open the year around. It is estimated by the Automobile Club authorities that approximately 25,000 automobile parties will visit this part of the state during the East during the year, and the total does not include the thousands which come in from the North, a large majority of these arriving via the overland trails are "tourists," bringing their own equipment with them. A great number of them expect to find public camps.

UP TO DATE. Pasadena, Tulare, San Luis Obispo, Los Angeles, San Diego, Arroyo Grande, Visalia, Riverdale, Fresno, and Merced have either a new or an adequate provision for providing the free public camping grounds. It is not imposed a hardship upon the hotels of Southern California in deducting space from their premises for those who will patronize the public camp sites would find that the facilities along the road are adequate. Therefore, in so far as the economic significance of the movement is concerned, there need be no apprehension on the part of hotel owners.

WELL FIXED. Those free camps which have been opened are provided with running water, fire grates and sanitary arrangements. Some are well elaborated than others, and are so situated as to bring the motorist in close touch with the scenic and repair shops.

Los Angeles has provided a camp at Santa Anita Park, near the city, where motorists are welcome to stop as long as they choose. In the East there are many camps, and the club's touring bureau, hundreds of inquiries are made every month regarding the location of suitable camping grounds near the cities, and steps may be taken to make the future for the motorists one closer to the center of the business district.

The camp which was provided for motorists by San Diego at Balboa Park is scheduled to be moved to the city, but, according to the club, the exact location has not yet been decided upon. The importance of providing similar accommodations in other cities and towns is increased by the annual increase in the number of visitors. It is estimated that the number of touring parties coming West will almost double every year.

In a statement yesterday, Secretary S. L. Mitchell of the Automobile Club pointed out that there had been no reason why the club's popularity in the southern part of the state should not be increased by the growing demand for the free camps. The club's representatives in the various southern counties are working to secure the establishment of more and better free camps. Word was received that the club's Secretary Mitchell that there had been a camp at San Luis Obispo, but it was thrown open, and the club's representatives are working to secure the establishment of more and better free camps.

WOMEN DRIVERS ON DETROIT TAXICABS

A significant indication of the growing shortage of chauffeurs is embodied in a recent advertisement from the Detroit Taxicab and Transfer Company of Detroit for women to operate their electric cabs. The "top" indicates that female drivers would be employed during 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. and that they will receive the same wages as the men. This advertisement offers a splendid opportunity for women to "do her bit" and the Detroit Company says that 500 patriotic women have been offered for chauffeur's positions and that several are operating their electric cabs with great success.

SHORTAGE OF TRUCKS TO THE RESCUE.

Shortage Soon to be Offset.

Cars Already are Doing the Work.

Big Trucks Being Adopted.

The freight car situation, which is so many people at this time, is being met by the use of trucks. In the near future, it behooves all good Americans to find some method of taking the burden off the railroads. In Southern California the question seems to be solved by our wonderful roads and the efficient motor truck. The photographs shown below give some idea of the type of vehicles to solve this problem and the kind of work that they can do.

THE TRANSPORT PROBLEM.

The question of transportation is one vital to all. With a shortage of freight cars and a probable shortage of passenger coaches in the near future, it behooves all good Americans to find some method of taking the burden off the railroads. In Southern California the question seems to be solved by our wonderful roads and the efficient motor truck. The photographs shown below give some idea of the type of vehicles to solve this problem and the kind of work that they can do.

Here is the answer of the automobile world to the shortage of railroad cars.

The above photograph gives a good example of what the automobile truck can do to take the place of the freight car. The Moreland truck, in the lower photograph, is pulling a full load of telegraph poles, as many as any freight car could hold, and doing it without the long time wasted switching to which freight trains are subject. The light type of truck, shown above, can make deliveries in quantity at any distance and take away much of the light baggage and freight work of the railroads leaving them to take care of the government business, which is so pressing.

FIVE MILLIONS RIDE IN AUTO STAGES THIS YEAR.

Mexican Border to San Francisco in Thirty-six Hours by Auto.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIANS scarcely realize the extent to which the auto bus business has grown in the past few months. It seems only a short time since the buses first started running between Los Angeles and Venice, and now there is scarcely a town in the vicinity without its line of auto buses. "Five million passengers have been carried during the past twelve months by the automobile stage lines south of San Francisco," said a prominent stage line operator recently. "These figures cannot be checked up, but they are a conservative estimate." A civilian army of men is employed in the operation and care of these stages, and millions of dollars are invested in the automobiles and trucks. The city, county and state license, taxes and sums paid to bonding companies amount to a terrific sum. There are so many stage lines in operation now that it is possible to ride from the Mexican border to the northern border of California without other means of power than gasoline.

The stages, whether the haul is long or short, operate on a fixed schedule, and they depart and arrive with almost train-like exactness. There are many lines, the equipment of which includes some of the best makes of automobiles and trucks, and breakdowns and delays are few and far between. The highly-perfected state of the automobile and the truck make for dependable, and the public located along the lines of stages has learned to count upon them for reliable service. That the operation of auto stages has had much to do with improved roads is acknowledged by highway officials, and this fact is realized by the millions who ride in these vehicles. Better highways mean better service, and the traveling public has been quick to appreciate this. There can be little doubt that this feeling found expression when the last bond issue for extending and improving the state's highway system carried by such a large majority.

During the winter months in those sections where the snowfall is heavy and the snow remains for an extended period, stage service by auto is interrupted, and there are places where it is entirely discontinued owing to this condition. Generally, however, California's climate is such that the stages are operated on schedule throughout the year.

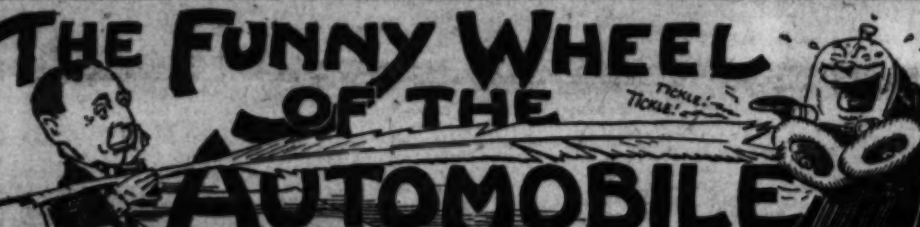

Providing prompt connections are made, it is possible for a passenger to enter a stage at Calexico and in less than thirty-six hours be in San Francisco—and every mile of the distance would be covered by this class of vehicle. And at numerous points stages operating in contiguous territory can transport the passenger to outlying sections. So heavy is the bus business in these sections served out of Fresno and Stockton, that it is said that a bus during the day leaves those points every two minutes. Sections which have infrequent train and trolley service are those which depend in great measure upon the auto bus, while to those out-of-the-way points and where no rails have been laid the auto bus is nothing short of a "lifesaver."

When the movement of troops to the Atlantic seaboard begins some time this winter—unless peace in the Rhine should intervene—tens of thousands of passenger coaches will be withdrawn from general service and placed at the disposal of the government. The schedules will have to be revised to meet this new condition, and the result will mean less room accommodation for the public. Then will be the time that the auto and the truck will be called upon to do their heavy lifting and fill a void that can only spell inconvenience and discomfort.

One track distributor of Los Angeles recently predicted that the time was not far away when it would be possible to travel every mile of the distance between the Pacific and the Atlantic coasts by auto stage. He said: "When the government sets real busy in its plan to aid the States in the construction of durable transcontinental highways, the auto stage will extend its ramifications in a manner now unthought of. Of course, no one, unless for the experience or upon a bet, would think of crossing the country by auto stage, but nevertheless, it will be a possibility before very long."

All the bus lines in the State are operated under the control of the State, counties and cities, and the regulations governing these are as rigid as those that control the operation of railroads and trolley lines. So far the number of accidents that passengers in these buses have suffered has been so small as to be almost negligible.

EASY WITH THE GREASE. Grease should not be used for the lubrication of the commutator; cylinder oil is the proper lubricant, and it should be sparingly used. This applies to all commutators or traction distributors. When grease is used in the commutator, it is quite likely to prevent the distributor from making contact, and an annoying type of ignition trouble ensues.

THE FUNNY WHEEL OF THE AUTOMOBILE. BY EUGENE BROWN.

DEAR BILL: If I thought money would help any I'd roll you for another century, but when a fellow is serving his country by breaking it up into small pieces the dough doesn't seem to make much of a splash. Of course, the guard would take the money, but about all I'd get for it would be a plug of tobacco and another half cut and the Lord knows I don't need either one.

I know blamed well the guard wouldn't even look the other way if I handed him a ten spot. He seems to be suspicious of me anyhow. He rather hates to trust me with my ball and chain. One of these brokers ran away with his last week and the guard says he is gradually losing faith in mankind. He thinks the man who got away with it expects to open a pawn shop.

But anyhow, it makes it bad for the rest of us to be under suspicion. The judge who sent me out here said that I was to stay my time and have no favors and that gave me a poor send-off with the bunch here. Say! would you believe it? But that guard weighs the rock on me that I'm to crack! He won't even trust me with 8000 pounds of mountain scenery. I have to weigh out and weigh in just as if I was driving in the Derby. If I was ten pounds shy I think the guard would take my ball and chain away from me.

And all this just for running down a cripple who admitted himself that he was trying to get away from me! If the nefarious business keeps up motorists will not be shown any rights at all. Thank heaven, I will get out of here in ten days more, and then you can look out for a rock-craze. If I ever catch that judge in a poker game I'll trim him until he has to borrow a pair of pants to go home in.

A curious animal over to where I was standing at my task. I asked him what it was and he said it was a horse. Then I recognized it. I remembered seeing one at the St. Louis fair, but that was of a different color. I told the guard about it, and he said they used to come in different colors. This one was the color of my family.

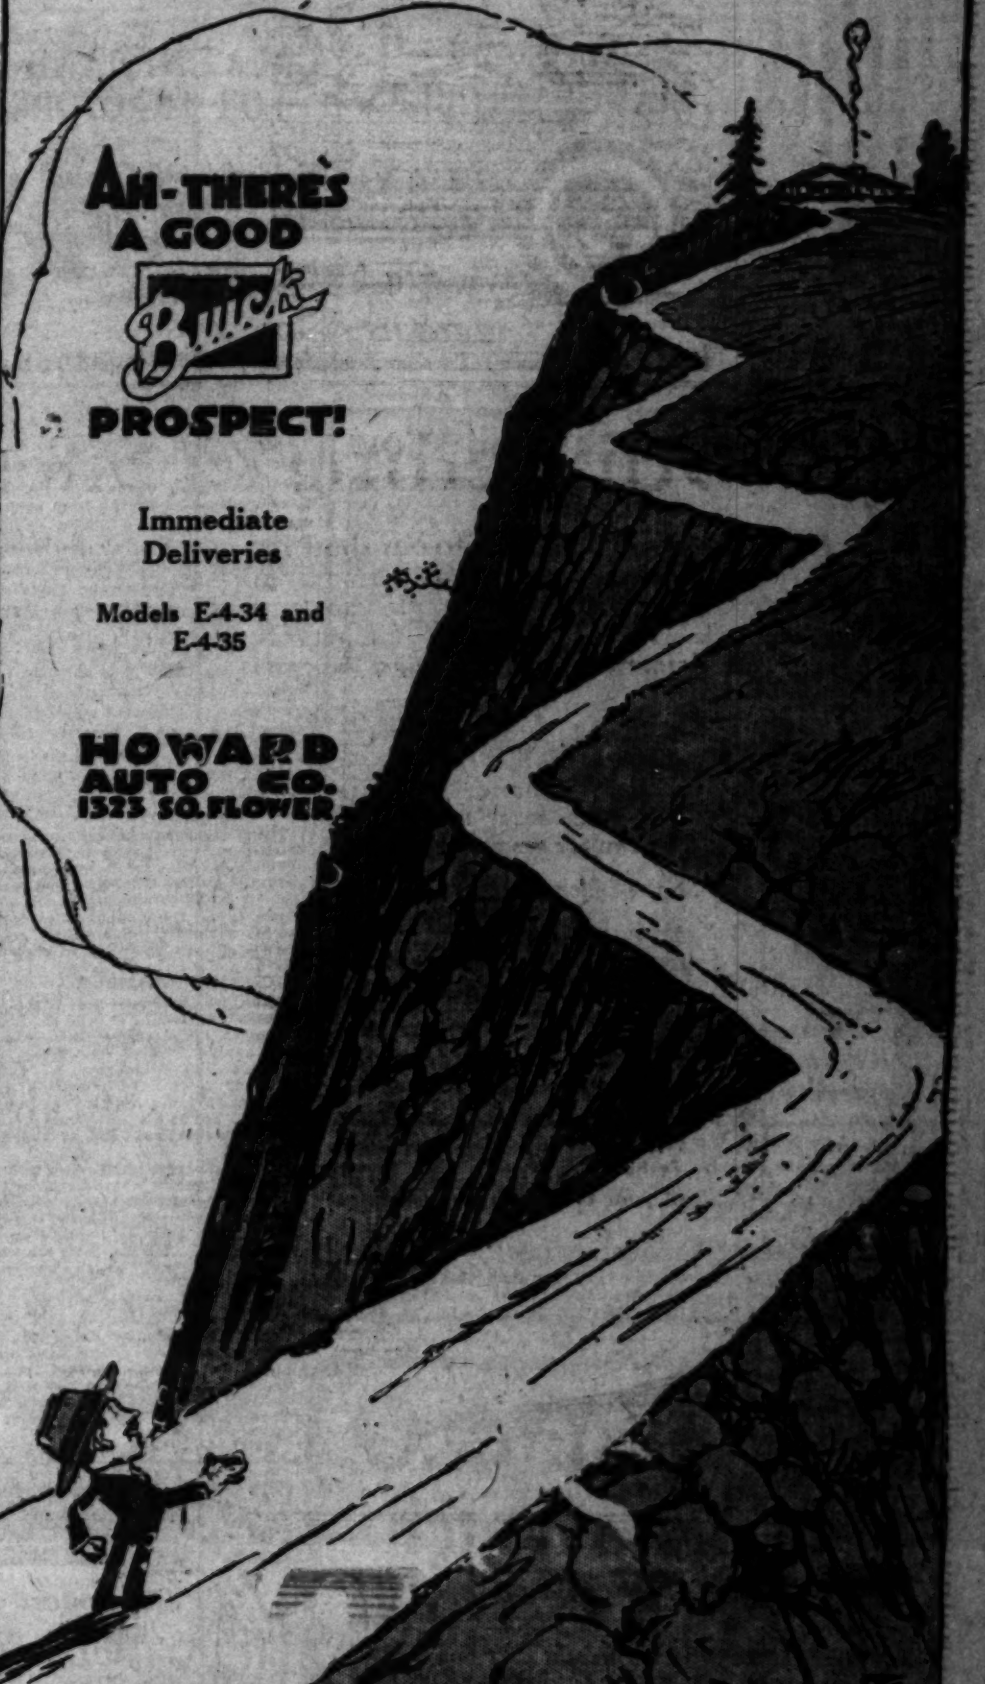

The guard told me I was to hitch the animal up to a wagon and convey some barrow and tools over to the next section. He gave me what he called a harness for that purpose. I asked him which end of the horse to hitch up, and he said that when they were moving things they used both ends of a horse. So he left the harness with me and went away. I hung the trappings on the animal in various ways before I could find anything that looked right to me and when the guard came back he said I had the harness on the wrong end, anyhow. I told him that he said that I used both ends and I didn't suppose it would make much difference. At any rate the bits would prevent the animal from kicking.

The guard said the old plug didn't have spunk enough to kick. "That's just the trouble," said I. "What we want is a spark plug. If you give this animal a spark plug, a self-starter and a couple of gallons of gasoline he'll tear up the boulevard."

"If there's any tearing up around here you'll have to do it yourself," sneered the guard. "Why is it that guards always sneer?"

Then he called Brighteyes over and between us he harnessed the creature up and moved a lot of stuff over on the next grade. Brighteyes was familiar with horses, and said he had lost a lot of them shaking dice.

The night our quartette sang: "The breaking was dashed high On a stern and rockbound coast. But at breaking rock they have nothing on me— There isn't a chance to boast."

Gentlemen:—
Your owners and prospective buyers may be interested in the performance of a 6-39 four-passenger Auburn roadster that I have owned for some months. On a trip last Sunday to Bakersfield and return by way of the Ridge Route I averaged 22 3-10 miles per gallon of gasoline. The car has given perfect satisfaction and I am delighted with it.

PLAN SUSPENSION OF GRIDIRON RULE.
(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Suspension of the western conference rule limiting its members to participation in not more than seven football games a season is sought by the University of Illinois. It became known tonight. Illinois desires to play an extra, it was said, for the benefit of war causes.
A circular letter has been addressed to other institutions in the "Big Ten" by Illinois and it is probable other members of the conference will agree to the plan. Formation of football eleven at the various army and navy training camps has been principally responsible for the proposed suspension of the seven-game rule.

OPEN GOLF COURSE.
The Culver City Country Club golf course was opened yesterday afternoon with a driving contest that demonstrated that the club has some good golfers.
Those who took part in the contest were: Walter W. Ralph, Don Francisco, Albert Shuck, E. W. Clapp, Dr. Warren G. Gill, Lagrand Friel, Dr. E. B. Jones and William A. Gibson. Dr. Gill led, Albert Shuck was second and E. W. Clapp third.

The Franklin Touring Car

A Family Car that Fits the Times

YOU may have noticed lately how many cars are making their appeal on "light-weight"—

And implying "efficiency" as a result—

With a paragraph or two about "economy"—

All of which recalls to the experienced motorist that Scientific Light Weight, Efficiency and Thrift have been basic principles of the Franklin for fifteen years.

And the call to National Thrift makes the Franklin Touring Car more conspicuous than ever.

The comfort and reliability of the Franklin, you probably know about as well as we do.

So the Franklin remains, during times of Thrift, as in other times, the one fine car you can afford to use as much as you wish.

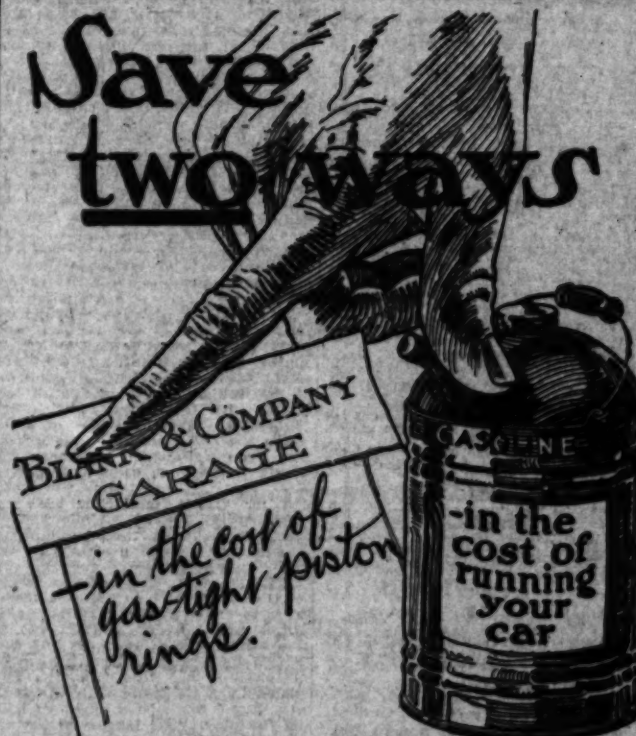

A Touring Model is now in our show room. Immediate delivery.

FRANKLIN LIGHT WEIGHT
Scientifically constructed. Weighs 2280 lbs.—from 700 to 1000 lbs. less than the average fine car. Air-cooled, and therefore not burdened with 177 troublesome water cooling parts.

FRANKLIN EFFICIENCY
The first Franklin built are still maintaining that ability to give the best service at the least expense. Look up the used-car value of Franklin cars, to get an idea of how the public values this efficient serviceability.

FRANKLIN THRIFT
Owners' records show an average of 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, and 10,000 miles to the set of tires, a regular occurrence.

RALPH HAMLIN
1036-1044 SOUTH FLOWER STREET
Pasadena Branch, 254 W. Colorado St.

The Inland killed two birds with one stone—it brought down the high cost of gasoline by giving more mileage per gallon—and the high cost of gas-tight piston rings by perfecting an absolutely gas-tight piston ring in one-piece at a one-piece price.

EDDIE ROUSH LEADS 'EM ALL

Red Outfielder Seems to Be Sure Winner.

Benny Kauff is Leading in Giant Sluggers.

Ty Cobb has a Safe Lead in Tris Speaker.

IT IS A FACT THAT THE CHICAGO WHITE SOX, who are getting ready for the series battle with the Cleveland Indians, are showing the best of the National League players in the batting line.

Leading batters who are in the line of the White Sox are: Eddie Roush, who is hitting .311; Ty Cobb, who is hitting .308; and Tris Speaker, who is hitting .307.

There are many other players in the line who are doing well, but Roush, Cobb and Speaker are the ones who are leading the way.

There is a heavy favorite in the line of the White Sox, and that is Eddie Roush. He is the one who is leading the way in the batting line.

POMONA GRIDIRON MEN LOOK GOOD TODAY.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT'S CLAREMONT, Sept. 29.)—Nixon is herding his group of ball hopefuls over Alameda and a lively rate these days. Pomona Redlands University two weeks today, and therefore all the muscle-stretchers of the training stunts have been tracked and the team is being whipped into shape quickly. The jittery of the Sage Hens has been busy at some sort of heavy labor during the summer and Nixon was greeted by a lot of hard, splendidly-conditioned fellows. Although quite an aggressive Pomona football players are trying to down the Sage Hens number were lost through inattention, the Sage Hens have regulars and near-regulars to turn out quite a formidable team. Capt. "Burr" Morrison is hand, too, and looks good for biggest year in his stellar career. Covington, Norman, Cook, Cooper, Chasney, and are having a regular blizzard fight for the remaining training edition.

Shallenberger, Morgan, W. B. Elliot, Smith and Greenhouse the timber with which Nixon has built the strongest line that men have ever boasted.

ONCE UPON A TIME

BY CLYDE LUDWICK

THE CHILDREN LEARNED THERE WAS DANGER IN HANGING TO WAGONS

1—Late one afternoon Selene, the maid in the moon, in making ready for her nightly trip across the sky, drove through the village to purchase a veil for the journey. For fear that men would annoy her with their attentions, she changed herself into a freckled faced delivery boy—her white horses into rhone ponies and her silver chariot into a cart.

2—Son Bud and Sis saw the cart passing slowly down the road and grabbed hold for a ride. Soon the ponies began to go faster, and the children were being dragged bumpity-bump down the rough street. Suddenly they took a plunge forward, and before you could say "cat" they were high up in the sky holding onto the crescent shaped chariot, in which rode the beautiful goddess, crowned with a brilliant diadem, and driving snow white horses. The children dared not let go now, for they would get an awful fall.

3—Selene must reach the horizon by dawn, and, noticing that her horses were weary she looked about to see what made her chariot drag, and she discovered the two wee mortals hanging on behind. Now Selene is Mith and very light, but Son Bud and Sis are mortal and heavy. Selene was sorry, very sorry, for she is kind, but there was only one thing to do, and that was to let the children drop. It was terrible! But they will recover. And now they know the danger of hanging on to wagons.

1—After Cousin Jim had rescued the others from the icicle wave he discovered a box wedged in the ice. "I hope it has some food in it!" he cried as he pried it loose. But the box did not contain food. Instead it was filled with ice skates. "Hurrah!" cried the children. "We will not have to walk over the slippery ice!"

2—So they put on skates and started across the ice. Cousin Jim and the fat sailor had never had skates on before and they cut many stars before they were able to make much progress. Finally they all came to an ice hill, and down this they slid at a terrible rate.

3—Some of them would surely have been hurt had they not all tumbled together upon something soft at the bottom. "Well! that was lucky!" cried the fat sailor. "I thought surely we were in for some bruises!" "Let's just sit here and rest awhile!" said Dolly.

4—Our friends did not have long to rest, though, for the soft thing upon which they had fallen began to move and they were tossed in the air. "It's a sea serpent," cried the fat sailor; "skate as fast as you can!" Cousin Jim had heard that sea serpents could be charmed with music, so he shouted for the others to hasten away while he tried to charm the monster with his concertina.

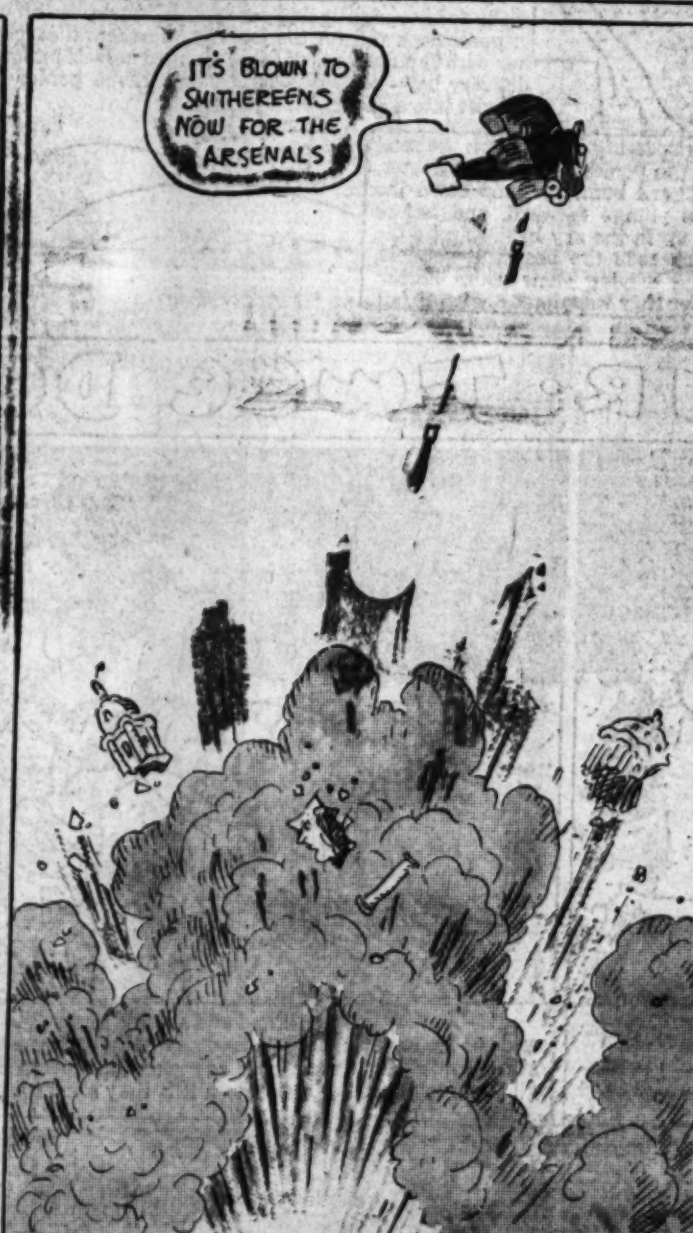

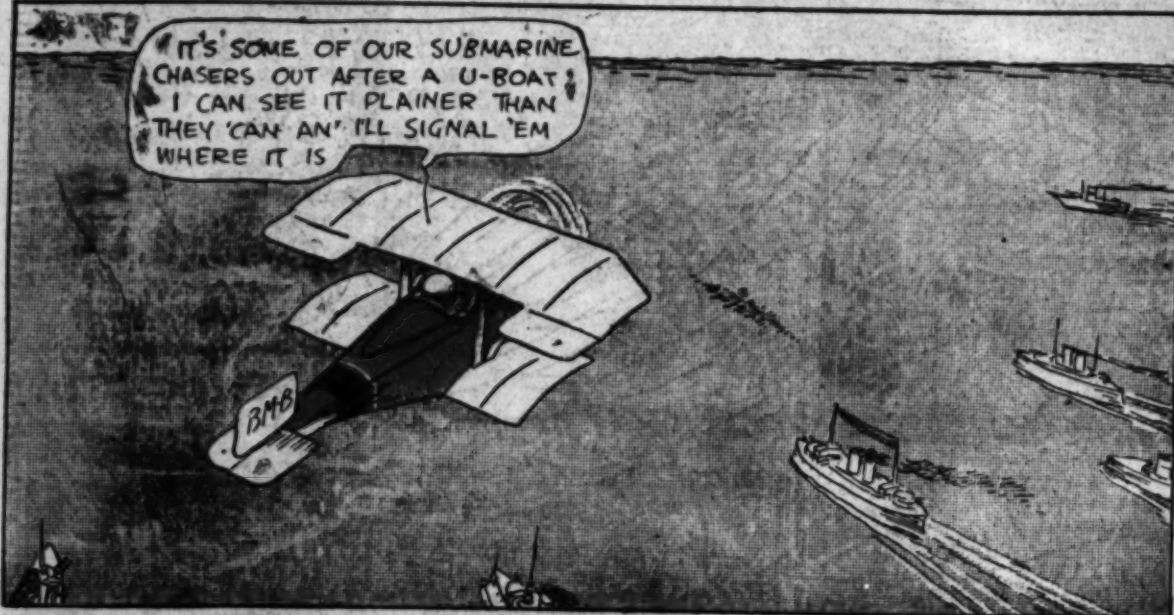

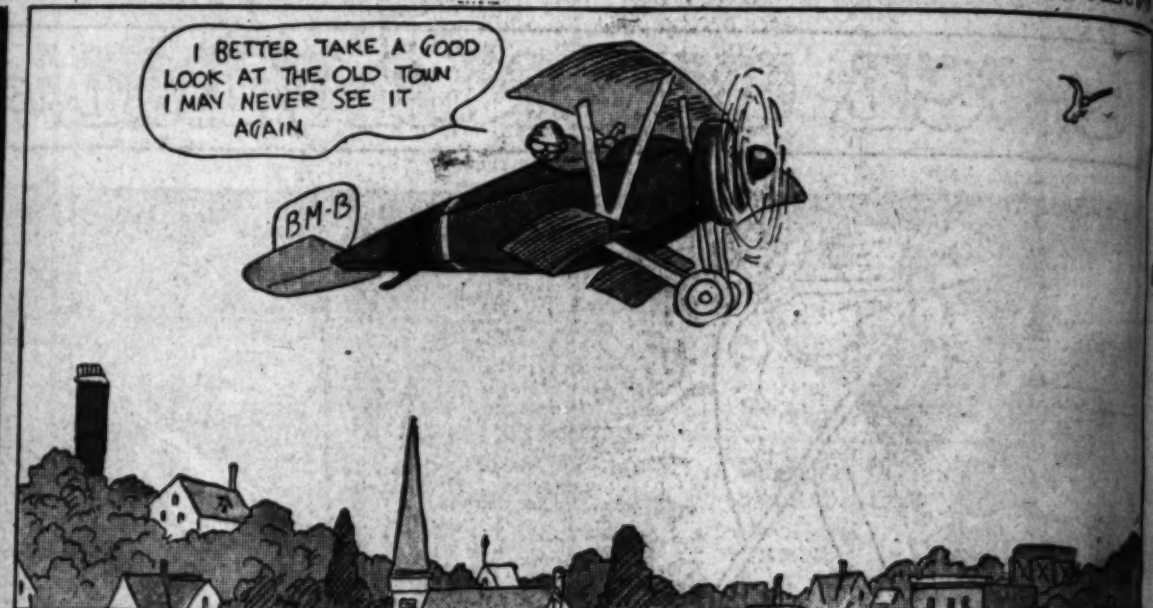

5—The fat sailor was so frightened that he forgot he did not know how to skate, and, catching hold of Dickie's and Dolly's hands, he skated away at a great clip. Cousin Jim played sad music and sang songs as loud as he could, although his knees shook and his teeth clicked together. The sea serpent seemed to be interested and came quite close to Cousin Jim.

6—Cousin Jim did not relish this and became so excited that he mixed sad songs with comic songs. This struck the sea serpent's funny bone. He giggled and twisted until he tied himself into knot after knot, so that he could not move. Cousin Jim was so weak when he quit playing that his knees gave way beneath him. So he sat right down upon the sea serpent's tail and wiped his face with his pocket handkerchief.

SERGE AS REPRESENTED IN THE FASHIONABLE WARDROBE

One Expression of the Modish Tunic

Silk Braid is a Favorite Trimming

An Advocate of the High Collar and the Double Belt

Serge and Plaid Silk are Close Friends

Decidedly Smart
and Simple

WHAT is there about a serge frock that makes it of so much importance year after year? Perhaps the answer is to be found in one woman's expression. "There is something so comfortable about a serge frock that I never fail to have one in my wardrobe." One must agree with her that there is much truth in this statement. This season finds serge placed at the top of fashion's ladder. Frequently it is used in combination with taffetas and satins. For street wear in the fall there is no end to the service of a serge frock, and if the air is a bit chilly a fur scarf is all that need be worn over the frock. And then in the bitter cold winter weather a serge frock beneath a comfortable topcoat makes the wearer oblivious to the falling of the thermometer.

Many of the new serge frocks are made with high collars. The collar seems to be a continuation of the frock, as in the case of the brown model. The pointed turn-overs give a smart touch to the model, especially since they are of contrasting color. The same material is repeated on the cuffs. Double belts are being emphasized on quite a number of models. In this instance silk braid is used to gain the effect.

The girl at college, or the one at business, would delight in the plain little frock checked in green and blue. Practical pockets are provided in the blouse and skirt. With a supply of white collars the frock could be freshened up frequently.

Tunics in varied forms are in again. One style is exemplified in the black dress. Here pleated serge falls over a foundation of black satin. The uneven line of the overskirt has a style value, as have also the revers on the blouse. So many of the blouses and frocks for fall have this latter feature. Black satin sleeves preserve unity and a white satin collar renders the somber black becoming to the majority of complexions.

If a person objects to an entire serge frock for indoors, the illustration of the serge and plaid taffeta combined will appeal. The taffeta upper renders the frock comfortable. A frock of this kind allows one to have two waist lines, an extremely lowered one and a slightly raised one. A white satin collar with a ruffled edge contributes a fetching note.

Colors may come and colors may go, but dark blue remains popular forever. A dark blue serge frock is a wonderful asset to the woman with a limited wardrobe. It is dark and practical without being somber. The model shown is a very practical one, having a satisfactory trimming of black silk braid, suggestive of things military, black buttons and a clever introduction of pockets.
